What is Project Access?
Project Access is a Personnel Preparation Grant Project designed for students in the Department of Communicative Disorders’ graduate program. The project is designed to address the critical shortage of fully credentialed speech-language pathologists, including persons from culturally and linguistically diverse groups, who can provide specialized instruction and intervention to children with language and literacy disabilities in public schools including those from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds.

Who Can Apply?
Students who apply to the Communicative Disorders graduate program can apply to participate in Project Access. Students who are interested in school-age language and literacy are encouraged to apply.

How Do I Apply?
To apply to the Communicative Disorders Graduate Program, visit: http://www.jsums.edu/commdisorders/ms-in-cmd/ The application deadline is March 1.

To receive an application for Project Access, contact Dr. Brandi Newkirk-Turner at Brandi.L.Newkirk@jsums.edu

What are Benefits of Participation?

- Specialized learning and clinical experiences
- Opportunities for research
- Dedicated mentorship and support
- Professional conference attendance and networking experiences
- Tuition scholarship for up to 5 semesters
- Monthly stipend
- Book allowance