Direct Parent PLUS Loans (Undergraduate Dependent Students Only)

Direct Parent PLUS Loans are low-interest credit-based loans for the parents of dependent students. The lender is the U.S. Department of Education (the Department) rather than a bank or other financial institution. Interest is charged during all periods. All PLUS Loan applicants must meet all general eligibility requirements for the Federal Student Aid programs. You can find more information about these requirements in Funding Education Beyond High School: The Guide to Federal Student Aid or by going to the Federal Student Aid Website at.

The Application for a Direct Parent PLUS Loan, which includes a Master Promissory Note (MPN), may be made online at www.studentloans.gov. A FAFSA for the student must be on file with the Financial Aid Office before the parent may apply.

- A parent may borrow up to an amount equal to the cost of attendance less any other financial aid awarded to the student.
- Once the application has been submitted, acknowledged, and pre-approved by the Department, the borrower must submit a Direct PLUS Loan Status Retrieval Form and a copy of their driver’s license or state identification card to the Financial Aid Office. Applicants who have been pre-approved will have funds credited to the student’s account. If the loan is denied, the borrower may resolve any incorrect information with the credit bureau and have Direct Loan reconsider the application or the borrower may have the loan resubmitted along with the endorsement of a co-signer.
- If a parent is denied a Direct PLUS Loan and decides not to resubmit for pre-approval, the student may be considered for an additional unsubsidized loan:
  - Freshmen and Sophomore students may qualify for up to $4,000 yearly.
  - Junior and Senior students may qualify for up to $5,000 yearly.
