Dr. Jaegoo Lee Bio Sketch

Dr. Jaegoo Lee is an Assistant Professor in the School of Social Work Program at Jackson State University. She earned her MSW from the University of Minnesota-Twin Cities in 2007 and her Ph.D. in Social Work from the University of Georgia in 2012. Prior to assuming the faculty position at Jackson State, Lee served as an adjunct in the Department of Human Services and Social Work at Kennesaw State University where she taught social welfare policy and macro practice courses. Lee has engaged in international and domestic transracial adoption research which resulted in several publications. Her research areas include transracial adoption parenting and its relationship to minority children’s identify formation, health disparities, alcohol and substance use among African American children, and mental health/health issues among the minority population. In addition, Lee is interested in quantitative research and scale development. She is currently working on grant proposals, book chapters, and a number of articles.