Exams

There will be three exams in this class, one chapter exam and a midterm and a final. The chapter exams are designed to encourage you to remain current on your reading. Due to the large amount of material, you will find that keeping current with your reading and chapter worksheets will prepared for your midterm and final.

The chapter text will consist of multiple choice and true-false questions and you will only be given 60 minutes for completion. These tests will start 5 minutes after our scheduled class time. If you are late, you will eat into your time. The midterm and final will include a mix of multiple-choice, true-false and short essay. Your tests are worth 33% of your semester grade. Please remember that failure to take an exam will result in a 0 unless you have contacted me prior to the exam and obtained my permission to reschedule.

Writing Assignments

This is a course that requires a substantial amount of writing and 45% of your grade will be derived from writing assignments. Throughout the semester, you will be submitting nine chapter worksheets, one movie analysis and an outline, draft and final literature review paper. The course schedule above provides you an outline of our schedule. I will provide you with detailed instructions in class about each assignment and the writing guidelines. I have also provided a grading rubric that can be used to help identify what I will be looking for in your written assignments.

Literature Review Paper and Presentation

Throughout the semester, you will be working on your final literature review project. The field of communication is vast and this paper is intended to allow you to investigate and review one aspect of effective listening and or cultural differences found in this area and share your research with your peers. This project is your largest project and makes up 18% of your grade. Effective writers know that writing is a “recursive” process and I will be working with you throughout the semester on your project through a series of outlines, drafts and revisions. Although specific details will be discussed in class but the general timeline for, your project is as follows:

Due Date	Research Paper Schedule	Points
15-Sep	Research Paper Topic Due	25
1-Oct	Research Paper Outline Due	50
29-Oct	Research Paper Draft due by email.	50
3-Dec	Research Paper	100
	Total Points:	225

Oral Presentations

This class has multiple opportunities to present orally your ideas and research to the class. A significant proportion of your grade will be assessed on your ability to effectively orally communicate. You will be expected to be well organized, professional and demonstrate your skills as a communicator. I will provide you additional guidelines in class and below you will find a copy of the Presentation Grading Criteria that will be used throughout the class. In addition, a rubric is provided below outlines class expectations for oral presentations.

Class Rules

1. Arrive on time prepared to discuss assigned reading
2. Completed all assignments on time.
3. Actively contribute to class discussions.
4. Contact me if you need of extra help or feels confused about any assignments or requirements in a timely manner.
5. Demonstrate respect for fellow classmates and the instructor.
6. Be prepared to focus your attention on the class. Use of electronic devices should be limited to purposes pertaining to the class only.
7. Avoid racist, sexist, homophobic, or other negative language that may unnecessarily exclude members of our campus and classroom community.
8. Contact me about any disagreement about a grade or other assessment within one week of receiving the grade.
9. Do not bring food or beverages to class other than water.

Classroom Attendance and Work Policies

You are expected to be in class, on time and to actively participate in class discussions. Be mindful that there are several assignments that require in-class presentations or participation and if you are absent or late, you will forfeit the available points for that day. If you fail to attend, you will not be given an opportunity to make up the work. I reserve the right to adjust the assignment dates as stated above; therefore, you need to be present to ensure you are present. Please note that after your third unexcused absence you will drop one letter grade. After nine absences, you will fail this class. In addition, being late to class is disruptive and if you are late 3 times it will counted as 1 absence. It is your responsibility to ensure that you are counted present. Further, all assignments and readings are due on time.

Method of Course Evaluation

This course will be evaluated through the Jackson State University Instructional Rating System (SIRS) and faculty evaluation.

Academic Honesty Statement

All acts of academic dishonesty (e.g., cheating on exams, plagiarizing or presenting another person's work as one's own, having another person write one's paper, fabricating research data, presenting excuses which are untrue for failing to meet academic and professional standards) are a violation of University Policy, which will entail appropriate penalties.

Additional Course Resources

Richard Wright Center (RWC)

This course is a writing intensive course and a large proportion of your grade will be based on written assignments. Prior to submitting a written assignment, you are encouraged to make an appointment at the Richard Wright Center to receive personal assistance with the development of your writing and research skills.

The Richard Wright Center for Writing, Rhetoric, and Research provides an environment for intellectual engagement beyond the classroom. At any stage of the creative and research processes, students may interact with trained tutors using technology to develop written, oral, and visual representations of their ideas for an academic audience. Location: H. T. Sampson Library, 1st floor. For hours, workshops, and to make an appointment, go to www.jsums.edu/wrightcenter, or call 601-979-6094.

Mentoring

I am available to assist you with any concerns you may have about the course or your career development. If you wish to schedule an appointment for an in-depth consultation, please contact me at 662-312-7149 or at laura.k.mcdavitt@jsums.edu.

Additional Resources

Additional assistance is available through me if needed. Feel free to schedule a one-on-one session with me as needed. I am also available via email or text from the hours of 8 AM until 9 PM. You can contact me at laura.k.mcdavitt@jsums.edu or 662-312-7149.

Special Needs Learning

If you have a disability for which you are or may be requesting an accommodation, you are encouraged to contact both your instructor and the Office of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) Coordinator and Compliance Officer, P.O. Box 17999, Jackson, MS 39217, telephone (601) 979-3704 as early as possible in the term.

Diversity Statement

Jackson State University is committed to creating a community that affirms and welcomes persons from diverse backgrounds and experiences and supports the realization of their human potential. We recognize that there are differences among groups of people and individuals based on ethnicity, race, socioeconomic status, gender, exceptionalities, language, religion, sexual orientation, and geographic area. All persons are encouraged to respect the individual differences of others.

Grievances

Any student who has a grievance and/or complaint must first discuss the grievance and/or complaint with the professor and complete a student complaint form with the professor. If there is no resolution at the student/professor level, the student can then address his/her complaints through the appropriate channels of administration:

Department Chair: Dr. Mark Henderson (McCoy Building)

Dean of College of Liberal Arts: Dr. Mario Azevedo (Liberal Arts Building)
