

CALL FOR OLYMPIAD JUDGES

The Department of Computer Science at Jackson State University is currently seeking individuals to serve as judges for our 1st Annual Regional Computer Science Olympiad Competition. The competition will be held Saturday, November 1, 2008 at the JSU e-Center.

This competition will feature teams from Computing Programs at many nationally known Historically Black Colleges and Universities. Students will compete in three areas: Cryptography, Hardware/Software Integration and Robotics. Winners will advance to the national competition that will be held at Spelman College in Atlanta, Georgia, March 2009.

If you wish to participate, please complete the attached registration form and return via fax or email.
