Note that an individual can be counted in more than one academic major and subject area. For example, if an individual is prepared to teach Elementary Education and Mathematics, that individual should be counted in both subject areas. If no individuals were prepared in a particular academic major or subject area, you may leave the cell blank. Please use the "Other" category sparingly, if there is no similar subject area or academic major listed. In these cases, you should use the text box to describe the subject area(s) and/or the academic major(s) counted in the "Other" category.

If your IHE offers both traditional and alternative programs, be sure to enter the program completers in the appropriate reports. For the traditional report, provide only the program completers in traditional programs within the IHE. For the alternative report, provide only the program completers for the alternative programs within the IHE.

After entering the teachers prepared data, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

What are CIP codes? The Classification of Instructional Programs (CIP) provides a taxonomic scheme that supports the accurate tracking and reporting of fields of study and program completions activity. CIP was originally developed by the U.S. Department of Education's National Center for Education Statistics (NCES) in 1980, with revisions occurring in 1985, 1990, and 2000 (<https://nces.ed.gov/ipeds/cipcode/Default.aspx?y=55>).

Teachers Prepared by Academic Major

Please provide the number of teachers prepared by academic major for academic year 2021-22. For the purposes of this section, number prepared means the number of program completers. "Academic major" refers to the actual major(s) declared by the program completer. An individual can be counted in more than one academic major. If no individuals were prepared in a particular academic major, please leave that cell blank. \(\$205\(b\)\(1\)\(H\)\)

Please note that the list of majors includes several "Teacher Education" majors, as well as several noneducation majors. Please use care in entering your majors to ensure education-specific majors and non-education majors are counted correctly. For example, if an individual majored in Chemistry, that individual should be counted in the "Chemistry" academic major category rather than the "Teacher Education–Chemistry" category.

The pass rates table is populated from files provided by the testing company or state. The table provides information on the performance of the students in your teacher preparation program on each teacher credential assessment used by your state. In cases where a student has taken a given assessment more than once, the highest score on that test is used. In the case of a teacher preparation program with fewer than 10 scores reported on any single initial teacher credential assessment during an academic year, the program shall collect and publish information with respect to an average pass rate and scaled score on each state credential assessment taken over a three-year period.  \(§205\(a\)\(1\)\(B\)\)

Please note that this page does not have an edit feature as the pass rates have already been through several rounds of verification. If you identify an error, please contact RTI's Title II Support Center and your testing company representative.

Students have access to computer labs equipped with projectors, Mondo and smart boards. Students also have access to the unit's curriculum center which is design to mimic the instructional resources available in most K-12 settings. Each student is required to enroll in the EDCI 556. This course prepares teachers to Integrate technology that enhances learning environments and extends performance. Candidates complete tasks that identify six types of visuals/technical tools and compare their advantages and limitations for use as an instructional tool to meet the diverse need of students. Courses were ordered in virtual settings/distance learning. All candidates in graduate programs are encouraged to take full advantage of technology available in their clinical experience sites which can be evaluated through observations by the university supervisor. Throughout the program, candidates use technology to communicate with supervisors (e.g., electronic mail and blackboard). They use technology to meet the needs of diverse learners and instructional enhancements (e.g., PowerPoint, web sites, video streaming, two-way audio/video and multimedia software). They record and analyze student assessment data using computer programs (e.g., Access, Excel), and through their students' assessments data. They are able to growth of their students and make data driven decisions for adjusting instruction. The use of these technologies help candidates adapt general education content to support the learning of students with disabilities.
