Academic Overview

This study abroad program is designed for JSU students who are interested in comparing and analyzing, across international settings, the organization, structure and function of diverse health care and public health systems. Students will be able to examine models of Public Health Systems and Services (HSS) and to apply knowledge, systems thinking and problem solving skills to understanding, analyzing and proposing interventions to relevant contemporary public health problems.

About The City

Granada:: Located in eastern Andalusia, in the south of Spain, the city enjoys some of the greatest cultural heritage of Spain and the world. In addition to the world-famous Alhambra and the Albaicin neighborhood, designated as World Heritage by UNESCO, Granada has a Renaissance cathedral whose construction was begun in the sixteenth century. The city is located at the foot of the Sierra Nevada, the highest mountain range in the Iberian Peninsula. Apart from the beautiful view it offers from the city, Sierra Nevada has one of the most important ski resorts in Spain, the most commercial in Europe and the only one in Andalusia.

The beach is not far from Granada either. At less than an hour by road, the tourist will find the Mediterranean coast, with locations such as Motril, Salobrena, Almunecar and many more.
