Public Health: A Global Perspective

HYDERBAD, INDIA

June 15 - June 27

2019

3 or 6 Credits Hours
10 Days Abroad

JSU | JACKSON
1877 STATE
UNIVERSITY®

Academic Overview

Every country's healthcare system is different. Some are more advanced while others are developing. Public Health— A Global Perspective compares health systems and public health status between a developing country with a huge population and Mississippi. Through didactic lectures and field visits to public, private, and other health facilities and hospital in Hyderabad, students will learn first-hand the current status of public health issues, its future challenges and compare and contrast prevalent illness in Mississippi and Hyderabad. Additionally, students will be exposed to the cultural heritage (music, dance, and historical places) of Hyderabad.

About The City

Hyderabad, known as the City of Pearls, is the fourth largest cosmopolitan city in India and is at the heart of India's rapidly developing global economy. It's a global hub for biotechnology, animation industry, information technology, amazing food, and a travel destination for domestic travelers looking to absorb its unique architecture and art. The city is an urban mix of construction, music, clothing shops, inconceivable traffic, food bazaars, department stores, global businesses, and city sprawl.

The Politics of Public Policy and the Infusion of Religiosity As A Paradigm
in Public Policy Creation and Implementation

BARCELONA, SPAIN

June 3 - June 17

2019

3 or 6 Credits Hours
2 Weeks Abroad

JSU | JACKSON
1877 STATE
UNIVERSITY®

Academic Overview

According to the U.S. Constitution, there should be a Separation of Church and State; thus providing that U.S. laws and public policies that govern U.S. citizens do not infringe upon the citizens' right to practice the religion of their choice. It also provides that a U.S. citizen's religious beliefs and practices are not dictated by U.S. policy makers' religious beliefs and practices. "The Politics of Public Policy and the Infusion of Religiosity as a Paradigm in Public Policy Creation and Implementation" researches and examines whether or not there is a positive correlation between Public Policy and the infusion of Religiosity as a Paradigm. Upon completion of the course, students will learn about the Transhistoricity of the Coercion of Politics, Public Policy, and Religiosity, understand the realities and consequences of public policies designed based upon a religious perspective and discover how the political, religious, and social structures have shaped the development of different cultures.

About The City

Located on the continent of Europe, Barcelona, Spain is the capital of Catalonia and is a Mediterranean and cosmopolitan city with Roman remains, medieval quarters and the most beautiful examples of 20th century Modernism and avant-garde. A wide cultural program will take visitors to museums, exhibitions, and open-air sculptures. The cathedral, episcopal palace, and churches bear witness to Barcelona's importance as a religious center. It became an important religious center before the arrival of the Moors in AD 717.

Program Overview

Passport to the World takes place during the first summer term at JSU. Prior to leaving for Barcelona, classes will be conducted in an online course format with the use of JSU Canvas. After return from Barcelona, students will work independently on the completion of a term paper, a topic selected with instructor approval. During the program, students will learn about the origin of the historicity of political institutions and the inclusive of religion as a paradigm in public policy creation and implementation.

Contemporary Issues in Public Health

GRANADA, SPAIN

June 6- June 17

2019

3 or 6 Credits Hours
12 Days Abroad

JSU | JACKSON
1877 STATE
UNIVERSITY®

Academic Overview

This study abroad program is designed for JSU students who are interested in comparing and analyzing, across international settings, the organization, structure and function of diverse health care and public health systems. Students will be able to examine models of Public Health Systems and Services (HSS) and to apply knowledge, systems thinking and problem solving skills to understanding, analyzing and proposing interventions to relevant contemporary public health problems.

About The City

Granada:: Located in eastern Andalusia, in the south of Spain, the city enjoys some of the greatest cultural heritage of Spain and the world. In addition to the world-famous Alhambra and the Albaicin neighborhood, designated as World Heritage by UNESCO, Granada has a Renaissance cathedral whose construction was begun in the sixteenth century. The city is located at the foot of the Sierra Nevada, the highest mountain range in the Iberian Peninsula. Apart from the beautiful view it offers from the city, Sierra Nevada has one of the most important ski resorts in Spain, the most commercial in Europe and the only one in Andalusia.

The beach is not far from Granada either. At less than an hour by road, the tourist will find the Mediterranean coast, with locations such as Motril, Salobrena, Almunecar and many more.
