

Meet the Coaches

JSU Graduate Studies Success Coaches

Your Graduate Studies Success Coaches

Mrs. Dominique Knott

Mrs. Ashley Terrell

What are the roles of graduate studies success coaches?

- ★ Monitor Progress (grades)
- ★ Provide resources & information about university policies
- ★ Liaisons for Academic Enhancement Plans
- ★ Help students with:
  - Self-Advocacy
  - Work/Life/School Balance (Time Management)
  - Navigating Difficulties
  - Accountability
  - Managing Wellness/Stress/Training Your Brain (Habits)
  - Communication Skills
  - Motivation & Mental Health

Academic Enhancement Plan (AEP)

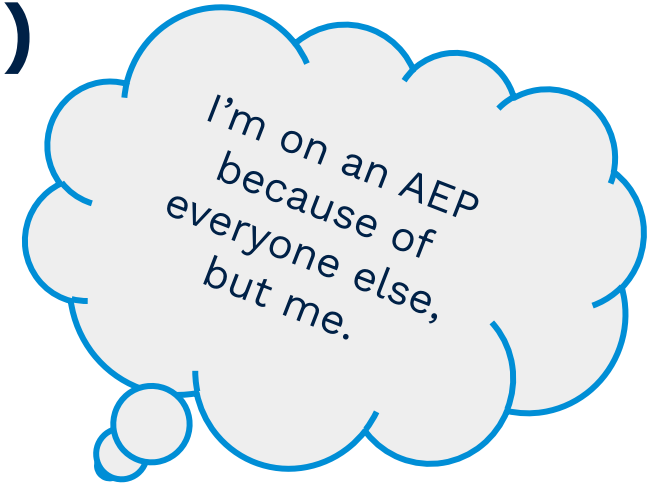

Academic Enhancement Plans are initiated in the following situations: a student has a “C” or lower, is completing a SAP appeal, or is recommended by their advisor in their graduate program. The decline in their grades may indicate a challenge has been presented. A graduate studies success coach will meet with the student to ensure they have the resources needed to succeed in their academic journey.

AEP (continued)

Stigma

Success Stories

Responsibility/Accountability

Frequently Asked Questions of AEPs

Q: What is an AEP (Academic Enhancement Plan)?

A: A plan embedded with resources, a success coach, and access to academic monitoring to ensure a student is successful during an academic semester.

Q: What are the requirements of an AEP?

A: Students are required to complete 6-8 mandatory sessions and communicate with their departments.

Q: How do I (student) fill out an AEP form?

A: Contact your advisor or someone in your department to assist. They will have to start the form in SoftDocs.

Q: How will this benefit me (student)?

A: Sessions are designed to assist students with challenges, updates on changes, self-advocacy, explaining university procedures and policies, monitoring progress, and exposure to university resources.

We want to hear from you!

Scan me!