Institution History

Jackson State University has a distinguished history, rich in the tradition of educating young men and women for leadership, having undergone seven name changes as it grew and developed.

Founded as Natchez Seminary in 1877 by the American Baptist Home Mission Society, the school was established as Natchez, Mississippi “for the moral, religious and intellectual improvement of Christian leaders of the colored people of Mississippi and the neighboring states.” In November 1882, the school was moved to Jackson; in March 1899, the curriculum was expanded and the name was changed to Jackson College.

The state assumed support of the college in 1940, assigning to it the mission of training teachers. Subsequently, between 1953 and 1956, the curriculum was expanded to include a graduate program and bachelor’s programs in the arts and sciences; the name was then changed to Jackson State College in 1956.

Further expansion of the curriculum and a notable building program preceded the elevation of Jackson State College to University status on March 15, 1974. In 1979, Jackson State was officially designated the Urban University of the State of Mississippi. Presently, Jackson State University, a public, coeducational institution, is supported by legislative appropriations supplemented by student fees and federal and private grants.

Mission

The mission of Jackson State University, a Historically Black College and University (HBCU) and comprehensive urban research university, is to provide quality teaching, research and service at the baccalaureate, masters, specialist, and doctoral levels to diverse populations of students and communities using various modalities to ensure that they are technologically-advanced, ethical, global leaders who think critically and can address societal problems and compete effectively.

research, participate in interdisciplinary and multi-institutional/ organizational collaborative learning teams and serve the global community.

The Jackson State Undergraduate Student Government Association represents undergraduate students in institutional governance, whereas the Graduate Student Association represents graduate students. Both undergraduate and graduate students are engaged in the policy formulation process through their respective government associations, and are invited to recommend additional policies for consideration and adoption.

CITIZENSHIP

Students at Jackson State University are both private citizens and members of the University community. As U.S. citizens, students enjoy the same freedom of speech, peaceful assembly, and right of petition that other citizens enjoy. As members of the University community, they are expected to follow University rules and regulations outlined in the Code of Conduct and in the Student Handbook. Faculty members and administrative officials ensure that institutional powers are not employed to inhibit the intellectual and personal development of students exercising their rights both on and off the campus.

students). Students exclusively enrolled in the JSU Online are not required to complete community service hours for graduation.

SPEECH AND EXPRESSION

Students will be free to discuss questions of interest and to express opinion. The University retains the right to provide an educational environment that is safe and orderly for students, faculty, and staff.

FREEDOM OF INQUIRY AND EXPRESSION

Students and chartered student organizations are free to examine and to discuss all questions of interest to them and to express opinions publicly and privately in a responsible way. They are free to support causes by orderly means including any means of peaceful assembly or advocacy, which do not infringe upon the rights or freedoms of others. However, speech may be limited by reasonable time, place, and manner restrictions which are developed by the University.

GUEST SPEAKERS

In accordance with the Campus Speakers Policy, registered student organizations may invite persons of their own choosing for campus appearances. Such invitations must be submitted to the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs or designee for review and approval before arrangements for the campus visit are finalized with the guest. This also includes events in which student organizations desire to invite dignitaries (Elected Officials, other higher learning institution Presidents, etc.) to campus for any reason. Invitations of this nature must be submitted to the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs and approved by the University President. Guest appearances must not interfere with the University's regular instructional, research, and service activities and programs. Except for ceremonial occasions, invited speakers should be prepared to participate in reasonable public activities. Such public discussions may include classroom visits, attendance at receptions and related functions, media appearances, and participation in community activities, programs and projects.

Invited speakers are afforded the courtesy and protection appropriate to a University community. The institutional control of campus facilities and the integrity of the academic environment are not to be used as a device of censorship. Sponsorship of guest speakers does not imply approval or endorsement of the views expressed, either by the sponsoring organization or the institution. For more information, consult the Campus Speakers Policy and the Free Expression Policy.

OFF-CAMPUS SPEAKERS

The freedom of speech and assembly guaranteed by the First and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution shall be enjoyed by the students and faculties of the Institutions of Higher Learning of the State of Mississippi and respects the opportunity to hear off-campus or outside speakers on the various campuses. Free discussion of subjects of either a controversial or non-controversial nature shall not be curtailed due to the viewpoint of the speaker. However, there is no absolute right to assemble or to make or hear a speech at any time or place regardless of the circumstances, content of speech, purpose of assembly, or probable consequences of such meeting or speech.

ASSEMBLY AND DEMONSTRATION

Students are free to organize and to associate for the promotion of their common interests. Assembly and Demonstration (just as Speech and Expression) within the public places of the institution are permitted, subject to reasonable time, place, and manner restrictions. Such restrictions are provided for the maintenance of order, and are applicable to local, state, and federal laws. Although encouraged, prior approval from the University is not required for assembly and demonstration in traditional public forums so long as the traditional public forum has not been previously reserved or scheduled for a particular function, no sound amplification is used, and the participants do not violate other University policies.

To minimize possible scheduling conflicts and for efficient use of the University's facilities, the University encourages individuals or groups to contact and seek prior approval from the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs or his/her designee for the scheduling of assembly and demonstration. The Associate Vice President for Student Affairs or his/her designee designates areas for assembly and demonstration on a first-come, first-assigned basis. The individuals or groups engaged in these activities must adhere to regulations governing the use of the designated areas.

The University provides forums for the assembly and expression of ideas and opinions, such as the following:

1. "Traditional public forums" include the University's public streets, sidewalks, and similar common areas. These areas are generally available for expressive activity, planned or spontaneous, for the individual or small groups at any time without the need for reservation or prior approval. In such setting sound amplification are not permitted. Additionally, said individuals or small groups are not permitted to obstruct or otherwise block the routine regular flow of pedestrian or transit traffic in the University's public streets, sidewalks, and similar common areas.
2. "Designated public forums" include other parts of the campus that may become temporarily available for expressive activity as designated by the University. To facilitate the free exchange of ideas, the University has established high visibility areas on campus as designated public forums that may be used by any individuals or small groups, including students and other campus guests. As with traditional public forums the individuals or small groups are not permitted to obstruct or otherwise block the routine regular flow of pedestrian or transit traffic in the University's public streets, sidewalks, and similar common areas.

Designated public forums include:

- a) Tiger Park
 - b) The Pavilion
3. Non-public forums are areas that are not traditional public forums or designated public forums. These locations will be restricted to use for their intended purpose and are not available for public expressive activity. Examples include, but are not limited to, classrooms, residence hall rooms, faculty and staff offices, academic buildings, administration buildings, medical treatment facilities, libraries, research and computer labs, and private residential housing on campus. Additionally, security considerations may affect the availability of spaces that would otherwise be available.

PUBLICATION AND DISTRIBUTION

Students are free to publish and to distribute their ideas in the form of newspapers, newsletters, leaflets, handbills, and the like, subject to time, place and manner restrictions. Publications are disseminated in the designated free expression area(s) on the campus. Additional restrictions may apply to economic-related speech, such as business solicitations, and to any speech which may be considered speech of the University (such as publications funded or controlled by the University).

STUDENT MEDIA

Student publications will maintain their integrity of purpose as vehicles of free inquiry and free expression in a University community. The editorial freedom of students, editors, and managers involves the corresponding obligation to be governed by the canons of responsible journalism. These entail the responsibility to avoid libel, undocumented allegations, techniques of harassment and so forth. At the same time, the University safeguards editorial freedom.

DISCRIMINATION

Students have the right to be free from all forms of discrimination. Jackson State University does not discriminate on the basis of race, creed, color, gender, sexual orientation, age, religion, national or ethnic origin, disability, or veteran status in its educational programs, activities, admissions or employment practices.

SEARCH AND SEIZURE

Students have the right to secure their personal possessions against invasions of privacy and unreasonable search and seizure, subject to restrictions imposed by the Division of Student Affairs and the Department of Public Safety. However, the University reserves the right to enter occupied residence hall rooms for health and safety inspections, in cases of emergency, in response to reasonable suspicion regarding misconduct, and when entry is granted by authorities of the criminal justice system.

PRIVACY

Students have the right to confidentiality of information relating to educational records that may be obtained by administrators, instructors, counselors, advisors, and officials of the university in the course of their work.

CONFIDENTIAL RECORDS

Student educational records are considered confidential and may not be released without the written consent of the student. Academic records include those records that contain personally identifiable information related to a student that the University maintains. Examples include transcripts, some personnel records, and student conduct records. University employees have access to student information only for legitimate use in the completion of their position responsibilities.

Some information is considered public (commonly referred to as Directory Information) and can be released without the student's permission; however, the student may opt to view this information confidential. Directory information may include the following: name; awards/honors; date(s)/semester(s) attended; class standing; dates of degrees and certificates conferred; enrollment status; hometown; physical factors (athletes only); degree and major field of study; names of previous institutions attended; past and present participation in officially recognized co-curricular activities and JSU mailbox number.

The University may release personally identifiable educational records in compliance with a court order or subpoena, but only after notifying the student or parent(s) if the student is less than 18 years of age. The confidentiality of the student records is protected by the Family Education Records and Privacy Act (FERPA). Unless an exception applies, FERPA prevents the disclosure of a student's educational records to a student's parents without the consent or authorization of the student. Students may request to withhold Directory Information submitted to the Office of Registrar and Records via email at registraroffice@jsums.edu.

FAMILY EDUCATION RIGHTS AND PRIVACY ACT (FERPA) OF 1974

In compliance with the requirements of the Family Education Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, Jackson State University will provide a copy of the annual notice of disclosure and post it on the University's website. Additional information is available within the Dean of Students Office.

Different types of student records are maintained in various University offices, and the chief administrator in each of these offices is responsible for them.

Generally, with certain exceptions, the law provides that students and former students have the right to review their records, request explanations concerning them, obtain copies and challenge records that they feel are inaccurate, misleading or otherwise inappropriate. The challenge procedure includes a full and fair opportunity for the student to present documentation to be included in his or her student file. The law also provides that students may waive their right of access to confidential letters of recommendation and may also grant permission to release certain personally identifiable information to specific personnel.

Where FERPA may permit disclosure, Mississippi law may consider certain records to be confidential. Examples include some personnel records; records maintained for law enforcement purposes; records maintained by a physician, psychiatrist or psychologist; and financial records of a student's parents.

The law also provides that, in addition to University employees having a legitimate educational interest, certain other governmental and quasi-governmental agencies and parents certifying that a student is carried as a dependent for income tax purposes, may have access to student records.

FREEDOM FROM RETALIATION

The faculty member (whether in the classroom or in individual conference) fosters relevant free discussion, inquiry, and expression. A student is free to take reasonable exception to the information offered in any course of study and to reserve judgment about matters of opinion without threat of undue censure by the faculty member. The University, faculty member, and the student all possess rights related to academic freedom.

Faculty members are required to inform students of the content and requirements of each course and the criteria by which student performance is to be evaluated. A student is responsible for learning the prescribed content of the course in which he or she enrolls. The faculty member evaluates student performance in the classroom solely on an academic basis and not on a student's philosophies or conduct in matters unrelated to academic performance. Attendance and participation is considered a component of academic performance.

A student who contends to have encountered a prejudiced academic evaluation may use the University's Student Grievance Procedure as a means of seeking redress. (See Undergraduate or Graduate Catalog). Academic honesty is a primary responsibility of the student. Students found responsible of academic dishonesty will incur sanctions as prescribed by the University's undergraduate or graduate student conduct system.

REDRESS OF GRIEVANCES

Any time a student's rights as outlined herein are violated, the student has the right to petition for redress through grievance procedures. A grievance is defined as the claim of an individual student that there has been a violation, misinterpretation or misapplication of a rule, policy or procedure in relation to University Policies and Procedures.

Jackson State University assures prompt and impartial consideration to any complaints, which its students may have during the course of their matriculation at the University. When circumstances require, students are encouraged to submit complaints or grievances in accordance with the following procedures. Students may use this procedure without penalty or fear of reprisal.

A. Academic related complaints

1. Discuss the concern with the instructor.
2. Discuss the concern with the department chair.
3. Discuss the concern with the College Dean.
4. Submit the final complaint to the Academic Affairs Ombudsperson.

- B. Administrative Office Complaint (non-academic related complaint)
1. Report the information to the Assistant/Associate Director of the Department.
 2. Report the information to the Executive Director or Director of the Department.
 3. Report the information to the Dean of the Department (where applicable).
 4. Report the information to the Assistant/Associate Vice President for the department.
 5. Report the information to the Vice President for the department.

All grievances should be filed in writing, state the specific nature of the grievance(s), the individual(s) involved, and include the time and place the event(s) occurred.

UNIVERSITY POLICIES AND PROCEDURES RELATING TO STUDENT CONDUCT

Students and student organizations are expected and required to abide by local, state and federal laws. Students and their organizations must be aware that legal charges may be brought against them both within the University student conduct system and in the civil or criminal court system. The University administration is responsible for establishing a procedure for reviewing and taking institutional action against students and student organizations found responsible for violations of local, state and federal laws. While the University does not act as a policing agent for students when they are off campus, the University reserves the right to take action if a student's or student organization's behavior is judged to be contrary to the pursuit of the educational mission of the University or if the continued presence of the student or the organization poses a threat to their well-being or to the rights and property of members of the University community.

All students who represent the University through affiliation with any Jackson State University organization, or any University sponsored activity, are required to be in good standing as a Jackson State University student. Depending upon the severity of offense(s), and/or decisions rendered by the hearing officer(s) or Student Affairs Conduct Committee, students, student groups, and/or student organizations found responsible for violating the Student Code of Conduct, and are sanctioned to student conduct probation may lead to University representation restrictions. Representation includes, but is not limited to the following: Student Government Association, athletics, band, clubs, fraternities, sororities, and organizations.

The Associate Vice President for Student Affairs or designee is directly responsible for Student Affairs and ultimately to the University President. The Associate Vice President for Student Affairs or designee assumes general responsibility for Student Affairs and services offered by the University, from assimilation, matriculation, student support services, and graduate and post-graduation placement. In this capacity, it is his/her role to assure that students are informed of behaviors and activities that are unbecoming and/or unwelcome in the academy, some of which are listed and discussed in this section.

Unauthorized/Illegal Web Use

JSU allows and encourages the use of JSU-owned computer resources. This use is a granted privilege, not a right. Student use must be in accordance with all applicable laws, policies, and standards regarding acceptable use. Areas of concern include but are not limited to:

1. Defamatory or libelous statements;
2. Copyright infringements ("illegal downloading");
3. Obscene or threatening materials; and
4. Usage primarily for financial gain or compensation not relevant to JSU's mission.

Failure to comply with this policy may result in charges being brought both within the University student conduct system and in the civil or criminal court system.

BRANDS AND TATTOOS

No individual or organization may require others to be branded or tattooed. (See Hazing in the Student Code of Conduct.)

CRIMINAL ACTS

Students who are arrested by authorities because of violation of criminal law are subject to suspension until the matter is settled by the police department or by the court. The nature of the offense and the settlement will determine what action, if any, will be taken by the University. The student may also be subject to the University's student conduct process.

DECEPTION

It is unacceptable and illegal for any person to:

- A. Misuse University records, forms, or documents by forgery, unauthorized alteration or reproduction, or any other means.
- B. Provide false information, either written or oral, to the University or to any administrator of the University. (Students who falsify housing and or admissions records are also subject to removal/or student conduct action.)
- C. Attempt to perpetrate a fraud against the University or the members of the University community.
- D. Misrepresent information or lie.

Participation in such acts is subject to University student conduct action and punishable by law.

Emergencies, Campus

In regular operation of every institution, it is inevitable that there will be occasions when the routine operations are interrupted and in extreme instances, suspended altogether. These occasions may be due to weather, fire, strikes, or organized student demonstrations. In such situations, it is important for students, faculty, and employees to assure that all functions and services of the University continue insofar as possible or practicable. Please contact Public Safety at 601-979-2580 when in doubt.

DRUG-FREE SCHOOLS/CAMPUSES

Jackson State University acknowledges and adheres to the laws of the state of Mississippi. The University also complies with the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act Amendments of 1989. The possession or use of illegal drugs on the University's campus is strictly prohibited.

Students are expected to meet their financial obligations with the University in accordance with the designated deadline dates.

FRAUD

It is unacceptable and illegal for any student to partake in:

Intentional false representation of a matter of fact, whether by words or by conduct.

Intentional false or misleading allegations or by concealment of that which should have been disclosed.

Intentional deception of another so that he/she shall act upon it to his/her advantage.

Intentional alteration of the truth for the purpose of inducing another to act in reliance upon the misrepresentation.

Participation in such acts is subject to University student conduct action and punishable by law.

JOINT RESPONSIBILITY

All persons who knowingly act in concert to violate University regulations have individual and joint responsibility for such violations and such concerted acts are prohibited.

JSU POSTAL

The post office box rental fee is assessed to all students living in university-controlled housing. Fees are assessed on an academic year basis and are calculated on the time remaining in the academic year. The fee covers box rental for the remainder of the academic year provided the student remains enrolled. Those students living off campus may rent a box at the same rate if they so desire. Post office box rental fees are non-refundable. Boxes are for personal use only and may not be used for business endeavors.

MEAL PLANS

All students residing on campus in university-controlled housing must have a meal plan. The default plan, 7 Day All-Access with $250 Tiger Bucks is assigned to all residential students. This default plan is mandatory for Freshmen residential students. Upperclassmen (sophomores & up) and Graduate Students can change their meal plans to one of the two (2) other meal options by visiting Auxiliary Enterprises located on the 3rd floor of J.L. Reddix Hall. Students have the first two weeks of each semester to make changes to their meal plan.

The student understands by agreeing to these terms and conditions he/she will automatically be enrolled in the University meal plan program which is required for all students who reside on campus. The student further understands that the meal membership does not cover or apply during fall break, winter break, or spring break. Summer meal plans are optional and students must contact Auxiliary Enterprises at 601-979-1325 or meals@jsums.edu to register.

Meal plans guarantee a student access to the Residential Dining Hall. Meal plan charges are not based upon usage. Residential Meal Plans are prorated for residential students moving off campus according to the date the student moved into the campus residential facility and move out date with fees based on the schedule below.

Meal plan refunds due to withdrawal from the university (dropping to zero class hours) are based on the date of withdrawal on record in the Registrar's Office and the move-out date in Housing. Approved refunds are processed with any applicable percentage fee deducted and the remaining balance credited to the Bursar account and refunded by the Bursar's Office after any Bursar account balances are satisfied. Refunds usually take at least 10-14 days to process. Participants may not withdraw cash from their meal plan or any ID accounts.

Meal plan refunds are calculated (computed from the first day of class) using the following schedule:

First five days of class: 90%
Between 6 and 10 days of class: 70%

Between 11 and 15 days of class: 50%
Between 16 and 20 days of class: 30%
After 20 days of class: 0%

OBSCENITY

Students who engage in acts on campus will be subject to disciplinary action. Such acts include improper body exposures in non-private locations on campus. For more detail regarding obscenity, please see The Student Decorum Policy. Sanctions will apply: suspension, expulsion.

Pets are also restricted from being in any University owned building, including but not limited to administrative buildings, classroom buildings, residential communities, or dining facilities. "Pets" are considered animals, domestic or wild, in the company of a student, faculty member, guest, or visitor to the University, and does not apply to service animals or approved emotional support animals. Any person guilty of violating this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not more than five hundred dollars ($500), or imprisoned in jail not more than six (6) months, or both such fine and imprisonment.

SELF-DEFENSE

Self-defense is defined as the justifiable infliction of harm upon another person to preserve oneself from imminent physical harm. Most importantly, self-defense must be preventative and proportional. The harm inflicted upon the attacker may only be as much force or harm as is needed to repel the attack and no more.

Consequently, self-defense may be claimed only when a student acts under a reasonable belief that a defensive action is necessary to avoid injury and there are no other alternatives available, including reasonable means of assistance or retreat. The student must use the minimum force necessary to escape injury. Self-defense may not be claimed if the harm caused by the self-defense is disproportionate to the harm avoided. A student who is the initial aggressor or who provokes the other student's conduct may not claim self-defense.

Violators are subject to University discipline and may be punishable by law.

STUDENT IDENTIFICATION CARD/ JSU™ SUPERCARD

Each student that registers and pays enrollment fees is provided an identification card. The card is active for the duration of continuous enrollment at Jackson State University®. This photo card is the responsibility of students and verifies affiliation with the institution. The student ID card should be visible at all times and produced upon the request of University officials. The failure to have proper identification while on campus may result in a disciplinary fine.

The ID is re-activated each semester, upon the completion of enrollment. The card must be presented by the student when purchasing tickets for University-sponsored events and when entering facilities where University events or functions are being held. If the ID is lost, a duplicate card may be obtained for an additional cost by contacting the ID Center.

The JSU™ Supercard is debit-based and may be used as an ID when asked by any university official. Its permitted uses include identification, meal plans (campus and off-campus), Supercard accounts, athletic events, recreational facilities, postal services, library, residence hall, and banking.

It is prohibited to alter, lend, sell, or have in your possession student identification (or Supercard) that does not belong to you. Use of a student identification card by anyone other than its owner is also prohibited and will result in the owner and the user of the card being subjected to the University’s student conduct process.

STUDENT ORGANIZATION EVENTS

Any student group wishing to operate on the campus of Jackson State University must register annually with the Center for Student Engagement and Leadership. The office is located on the 2nd floor of the Student Center. Each registered student organization will be expected to produce social, educational, and intercultural programming, which is aligned with the policies and procedures of the University. With this in mind, all programming and event titles, slogans, and/or promotional items should reflect that of an institution of higher learning. Furthermore, all promotional items should be approved through Contractual Services any time institutional branding, as well as logos are used. To be considered, contact Auxiliary Enterprises at 601-979-1325. Moreover, all student organization must follow the campus event planning process, which includes approval from various campus partners, prior to initiating the use of any campus space or facility for any event sponsored by a student organization. When hosting an event, it is mandatory that the hosting student organization has a participating advisor present throughout the duration of each event. The University reserves the right to cancel an event due to the absence of a participating advisor.

STUDENT TRAVEL

Any student traveling for the purpose of University business must be in good standing, meaning the student must not have a pending disciplinary matter or outstanding sanctions with the Dean of Students Office. Additionally, students are required to travel with an advisor (an employee of the University) if classified as an undergraduate student, regardless of age. Graduate students are not required to travel with an advisor. However, an employee must be identified as the point of contact on the travel form in case of an emergency. Delegates should uphold the highest moral and ethical practices, as well as dress appropriately at all times during University travel. Additionally, the student(s) and/or organization will be held accountable and/or liable for any damages caused to personal or real property during University travel from the point of trip origin to point of trip return. TRADEMARK GUIDELINES

The use of the JSU[™] logo, mascot, seal, or any other logos on letterhead or in any other publications, shall be used according to the guidelines set forth in the Licensing Program and University Logo Guidelines manual. The student organization/club/sports club team must submit a Logo Use Form for approval prior to sales or distribution.

A recognized student organization/club/sports club team (on or off campus) may use the University's name in its title, publications, or letterhead to show its status as a recognized student organization. The organization may not use the name in a manner that will create confusion between it as an organization and the University. It may not use the name in a manner that would in any way constitute an endorsement, approval, or underwriting of any organization, product, activity, service, or contract by Jackson State University®. Students are not permitted to use the University Seal or other trademarks without written permission from the University.

Exceptions to this policy are granted in a limited number of special request(s). For example, the University Seal may be used for class projects and for university-approved conference and presentation materials. To be considered for such an exception, contact Auxiliary Enterprises at 601-979-1325.

Approval must be received prior to printing, manufacture, or distribution. Any use of the logo, seal, name or other University marks must be in accordance with policies established by the University.

Resale and Other Commercial Use of University Logo

Should an item bearing the trademarks of the University be sold to anyone other than the membership of the student organization/club/sports club team, it then becomes a commercial use of the mark and is subject to a license agreement. The use of JSU™ on or in connection with items offered for sale, in association with the name, logo, or other indicia of any non- JSU™ entity or otherwise for commercial purposes shall be subject to a license agreement between the external entity and JSU™. For example, if the student organization/club/sports club team decides to sell a T-Shirt bearing the marks as a fund-raiser, the manufacturer of the item is obligated to enter into a royalty-bearing license agreement through the Division of Auxiliary Enterprises. This office approves all artwork and designs, as well as the quality of the product prior to its distribution.

Additionally, Jackson State University has the right, but not the obligation, to sanction its students for off-campus violations. Jackson State University has the right to sanction each student violator regardless of court hearings, upcoming court dates, or outcomes of such hearings.

ACADEMIC POLICIES

ACADEMIC DISHONESTY

Cheating includes:

- Submitting material that is not yours as part of your course performance, such as copying another student's course work, assignment and exam or allowing a student to copy from you.
- Using information or devices that are not allowed by the faculty; such as using formulas or data from a home computer program, or using unauthorized materials for a take-home exam;
- Obtaining and using unauthorized material, such as a copy of an examination before it is given;
- Fabricating information, such as the data for a lab report;
- Violating procedures prescribed to protect the integrity of an assignment, test, or other evaluation;
- Collaborating with others on assignments without the faculty's consent;
- Cooperating with or helping another student to cheat; and
- Participating in or performing other forms of dishonest behavior, such as having another person take an examination in your place; or altering exam answers without permission.

Plagiarism includes:

- Directly quoting the words of others without using quotation marks or indented format to identify them;
- Using sources of information (published or unpublished) without identifying them;
- Paraphrasing materials or ideas of others without identifying the sources;
- Submitting themes, essays, term papers, tests and other similar requirements that are not the work of the student; and
- Failing to appropriately acknowledge direct quotations and the idea of another when incorporated in papers.

When a student requires clarity about the proper use of materials, a faculty member or consultation with staff in the Richard Wright Writing Center should be consulted for clarification. Generally, if a student writes while looking at a source or while looking at notes taken from a source, a footnote should be given. Whenever any idea is taken from a specific work, even when the student writes the idea entirely in his/her own words, there must be a footnote giving credit to the author responsible for the idea. The student should never retain a sentence pattern and substitute synonyms for the original words. Paraphrasing means alteration of sentence pattern and changing of words. Any direct quotation should be footnoted or documented in an acceptable fashion. Methods of documentation vary, and it is possible to cite in the text itself, rather than in a footnote. The student should give credit in a manner specified by the instructor.

Jackson State University

Campus Violence Policy

The purpose of the Campus Violence Policy is to maintain an atmosphere on the Jackson State University campus that is conducive to academic pursuits and fosters the growth and development of all members of the University community. In accordance with the Campus Violence Policy, violence, threats, harassment, intimidation and other disruptive behavior by members of the University community or visitors will not be tolerated. Such behavior may include but is not limited to fighting, hazing others or participating in hazing activities, verbal or written statements, sexual assault, gestures, or expressions which communicate a direct or indirect threat of physical harm.

Residential students, i.e. students who reside on campus with an official room assignment, that are involved in physical altercations will be removed from housing within 24 hours of the incident being reported. They will be required to reside elsewhere until a decision has been made after a student conduct hearing has taken place. Living on campus is a privilege, not a right. Neither a refund nor a student account pro-ration will be awarded for the interim removal period or, if a student is removed from housing as a consequence associated with the incident.

An educational approach to discipline is employed whenever possible. A student, student group, or student organization found responsible for committing such acts may result in suspension from the University, removed from the premises, and/or may be subject to criminal penalties in accordance with University procedures. There will be no exceptions to these circumstances. Conflict resolution and mediation training will take place each semester in all residential communities. The University Student Conduct System is designed to provide and maintain an atmosphere within the University community that is conducive to academic pursuits.

Please refer to the Jackson State University Student Code of Conduct for detailed descriptions of the aforementioned offenses. All reports of incidents will be taken seriously and will be dealt with appropriately by appropriate staff.

For more information, please contact the Division of Student Affairs via phone at 601-979-2241.

STUDENT CODE OF CONDUCT

To maintain an atmosphere on the Jackson State University campus that is conducive to academic pursuits and fosters the growth and development of all members of the University community, a series of procedures and regulations governing student conduct and behavior has been established. Included in these procedures and regulations, which collectively are known as the Student Code of Conduct, are statements concerning expectations regarding student conduct, guarantees of student rights, and procedures for adjudicating allegations concerning student misconduct. The sanctions for violation of these regulations are also contained in the Student Code of Conduct. All students at Jackson State University are expected to read and become familiar with all sections of the Student Code of Conduct. Each student is individually responsible for adhering to the regulations contained in the Student Code of Conduct.

The Associate Vice President for Student Affairs or designee may extend or accelerate existing timelines, as well as establish and enforce additional deadlines not stated in these procedures as necessary for prompt and effective case resolution. Further, the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs or designee, in collaboration with Legal Counsel and the respective campus Provost may modify these procedures at any time, as a whole or on a case-by-case basis where necessary to comply with applicable law, regulation, guidance or as deemed appropriate. Policy changes will be communicated with the campus community via e-mail.

A student, student group, or student organization found to have violated these regulations will be subject to action, ranging from a student conduct warning or probation, to suspension or expulsion. The severity of the sanction is dependent upon the severity of the offense as determined by the Student Affairs Conduct Committee, Inter-Residence Hall Committee, or Student Affairs Appeals Committee.

Discipline will not be levied if a qualified, licensed, mental health professional has communicated to the University in writing that the actions were caused by severe psychological problems sufficient to warrant the immediate withdrawal of the individual from the University. In each instance, the individual may not re-enroll at Jackson State University for at least two full academic semesters and then only upon the written recommendation of the mental health professional. A student who withdraws from the University prior to his or her scheduled student conduct hearing will not be readmitted until the student conduct hold is cleared.

Any and all questions concerning the Student Code of Conduct, its enforcement or interpretation, should be directed to the Department of Public Safety or the Dean of Students Office.

PHILOSOPHY OF STUDENT CONDUCT AND DISCIPLINE

Conduct of students enrolled at Jackson State University obliges proper and appropriate conduct both in and out of the classroom. Students are expected to conduct themselves in a manner to be a credit to themselves and to the University. Facilitating growth toward a mature and well-balanced personality in each student is accomplished in part through formal classroom and laboratory instruction and in part through other experiences and associations afforded by the University. University rules and procedures, including the disciplinary system, are intended to further the educational purpose of the University and to aid in the development of the individual student. Rules and procedures apply to the conduct of each student during the time of enrollment.

An educational approach to discipline is employed whenever possible. The University Student Conduct System and appeals processes are designed to provide and help maintain an atmosphere within the University community that is conducive to academic pursuits. However, stringent student conduct measures against a student or a group of students, such as suspension or expulsion, are instituted only when appropriate.

The Student Conduct Process vs. the Criminal Process

The student conduct process is quite different from the criminal court system. Typically, the student conduct process involves an informal setting when compared to the criminal court system. Student conduct hearings are supportive and educational. While students may have a support person during a hearing (an advisor), another major difference between the two processes are that in the student conduct process, students are expected to speak for themselves instead of a representative speaking on their behalf.

While there are differences between the two processes, they are not considered entirely mutually exclusive. Consequently, in relationship to the same incident, a student may be arrested for criminal charges and also have violations brought against them for violating the Student Code of Conduct.

The primary purpose of the student conduct process is to educate students while correcting behavior which does not meet the standards of the Jackson State University community. However, the ultimate goal of the student conduct process is to help students learn from their mistakes while helping them understand the consequences of their actions, as well as how their actions may have negatively impacted the campus community and its members. As a result, the terminology used will be somewhat different from the criminal process.

Student Conduct	Legal System
Conduct Hearing	Trial
Conduct	Discipline
Referred	Written-Up
Incident Report	Police Report
Confronted	Charged
Accused Violator	Offender/Suspect
Violation	Offense/Crime

STUDENT ORGANIZATION PROCESS AND SANCTIONS

Student Organizations (including fraternities and sororities) are responsible for knowing and complying with all Policies listed in the JSU Student Handbook, as well all supplemental Policies from the departments or organizations they are associated with. Student Organizations, like individual students, are responsible for the conduct of their members both on and off Jackson State University's campuses.

The process for resolving complaints against Student Organizations mirrors the process for individual students with a few exceptions. Please note that interim measures may be taken, if deemed necessary, prior to the adjudication of alleged violations.

PRELIMINARY REVIEW

All reports or complaints of alleged misconduct involving a Student Organization will be reviewed by the Dean of Students Office. The University has the authority to determine whether the Student Organization, individual members, or both should receive notification of alleged violations on a case-by-case basis. Examples of the criteria used by the Dean of Students Office in making that determination are:

- One or more of the Organization's members and/or leaders committed or supported the acts in the particular incident.
- The behavior or actions taken can be attributed to an Organization-sponsored, associated, or financed activity.
- The Organization leadership had prior knowledge that the particular behavior or action would be occurring and made no reasonable effort to intervene.
- One or more of the Organization's members and/or leaders were not honest about the particular incident.

It is the Dean of Students Office's sole judgment to proceed with formal notifications of allegations. The Dean of Students Office will take the steps deemed appropriate to gather relevant information pertaining to a particular report or complaint. If the Dean of Students Office concludes that there is enough information to meet the preponderance of the evidence standard, the student conduct process will be initiated.

GENERAL STUDENT CONDUCT PROCESS FOR STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

The conduct process for Student Organizations mirrors the process for individual Students, with some nuances. Additional information about the student conduct process can be found in the JSU Student Handbook.

- Hearing notification (Alleged Violations) distributed to the Organization's president/leadership, as well as the primary advisor.
- During the hearing, organization members will be given a chance to respond to the alleged violations.
- The Student Affairs Conduct Committee will make a decision pertaining to the Student Organization being found responsible or not responsible. If the Student Organization is found not responsible, the case will be exonerated. If the organization is found responsible, sanctions will be given to individuals, as well as the organization, where applicable. Please note: decisions are made on a case by case basis. Student Organization members may receive individual sanctions and/or the Student Organization may also have sanctions to complete.

SANCTIONING FOR STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

The goal of all student conduct proceedings is to educate those involved and repair harm done to impacted communities. To accomplish this, JSU utilizes two main categories of sanctioning. The first is educational sanctioning. Educational sanctioning can take the form of an essay, project, program, or anything else that requires the Student Organization involved to reflect on their experience. The second category of sanctioning is referred to as a status sanction. A status sanction typically limits some form of activity for a period of time.

Sanctions that may be imposed for cases involving all Student Organizations include, but are not limited to, the following:

Disciplinary Reprimand

A disciplinary reprimand is a written notice that a Student Organization has violated the Code of Student Conduct and that another violation will result in a more severe sanction.

Disciplinary Probation

Disciplinary Probation is a designated period of time during which the Student Organization is given the opportunity to demonstrate the ability to abide by the community's expectations of behavior articulated in the Code of Conduct. Suspension of social privileges, including the ability to host social functions, may accompany this sanction.

Loss of University Privileges and Services

Loss of University privileges and services includes, but is not limited to, loss of space reservation privileges.

Loss of Membership Recruitment

Loss of membership recruitment is the prohibition of any event or activity with the goal of increasing student membership or interest in joining the organization for a designated period.

Social Suspension

Social Suspension is the loss of all social function privileges for a defined or indefinite period of time. A social function shall be defined as any event that has the primary characteristics of a "party." These characteristics include: socialization as the primary purpose and activity, dancing, and/or music (DJ, band, etc.).

Suspension of Recognition

Suspension of Recognition is a designated period of time during which a Student Organization loses recognition by the University and access to all University services. A suspended Student Organization must cease all organizational activities. In addition, all of the Organization's social media presence must be deactivated for the duration of the suspension. After the designated period of suspension, the organization may submit a reactivation request to the Dean of Students Office (deanofstudents@jsums.edu).

Organizational Learning and Engagement

Educational sanctions provide a Student Organization the opportunity to review conduct expectations, understand how behavior can contribute to a positive and beneficial University experience, and learn of campus resources which support academic and non-academic success.

This may include, but is not limited to, the following:

- Membership Review
- Internal Student Organization policy revision
- Risk Management Training
- Hazing Program/Training/Presentation
- Removal of Organization Officers
- Temporary or Permanent Restrictions on Accessing University Facilities
- Educational Program – The Organization is to host an educational program on a topic assigned by the Student Affairs Conduct Committee. This program can be open to the entire community.
- Mandatory Follow-Up Meetings between the Dean of Students Office, the Center for Student Engagement and Leadership staff, and Organizational Leadership, as well as advisors.
- Educational Presentation from a JSU Administrator to the Organization's Members.

HONOR CODE

I will be honest in all of my academic course work and will not indulge in or tolerate the academic dishonesty of my counterparts or peers. I will not partake in any type of misconduct, misrepresentation, or immoral behavior that will harm, damage or endanger any person, property or myself or reflect negatively against me or hinder my academic continuance. I will strive to achieve excellence and to complete degree requirements without hesitation. I am a valuable part of the Jackson State University family, and proud of it.

On the campus of Jackson State University, the Division of Student Affairs collaborates with various academic and student support entities to provide a safe environment for students. The office is located in the JSU Student Center, 3rd Floor. When non-academic incidents occur and an individual has a reasonable belief that a student has violated the Student Code of Conduct, the incident should be reported to Public Safety or the Dean of Students Office for formal reporting. Said report shall be reviewed and referred to the appropriate entity for appropriate actions as outlined herein.

STUDENT CONDUCT TERMS AND DEFINITIONS

The following actions may be imposed upon any student, student group, or student organization found to have violated the Student Code of Conduct:

COMMUNITY SERVICE. The sanction of community service may be imposed upon a student as a result of a violation of the Student Code of Conduct. Service is provided by the student to a specific on-campus or off-campus area or department of the University for specific hours as imposed by the designated Student Conduct hearing body. Monetary compensation is not provided. NOTE: Community Service hours completed to satisfy a student conduct sanction will not count toward the community service hours required for graduation.

COUNSELING CONSULTATION. The University may refer a student for counseling consultation for alcohol/drug counseling, general mental health assistance, anger management, or other counseling issues deemed necessary by the designated Student Conduct hearing body with the Latasha Norman Counseling Center, Applied Psychological Services, or an outside agency/organization. Students must follow through with consultation and provide official documentation on letterhead for the agency/organization verifying completion of requirements.

EDUCATIONAL ASSIGNMENTS. Based on the nature of the offense, students may be required to complete a research assignment on a topic related to the offense committed. The research assignment must be typed, completed and submitted by the deadline specified. It must be thorough, comprehensive, and scholarly. The completed project must also conform to other specifications that may be given by the designated Student Conduct hearing body.

EXONERATE. To clear the accused of any and all blame, with all charges being dismissed or dropped.

FINE. A fine is a monetary payment imposed as punishment for an offense. Payment must be made to the University for violations of the Student Codes of Conduct.

SANCTIONS. Sanctions are consequences which are required to be completed as a result of being found responsible for violating the Student Code of Conduct. Each sanction has a deadline, which is outlined in the decision letter. Completed sanctions may be submitted in person or via e-mail to deanofstudents@jsums.edu. Sanctions require a 3 business day review period, prior to receiving approval. If a student fails to complete their sanction(s) by the designated deadline, a hold will be placed on the student's account. The hold will not be removed until the sanction(s) have been completed.

STUDENT CONDUCT HOLD. When a student fails to respond to a charge notification, attend a scheduled student conduct hearing, or complete assigned sanctions, a student conduct hold will be placed on the student's account. The hold will not be removed until all student conduct requirements have been satisfied. A student conduct hold restricts students from conducting University related business, including but not limited to, completing course registration, adding/dropping classes, and viewing grades.

PROBATION. The probationary period is a specified amount of time, involving restrictions, after which University authorities will determine if the student's behavior has improved. During this time period, the student may receive additional student conduct measures resulting in suspension, if he/she is involved in violations of any type of the Student Code of Conduct and/or the breaking of any laws. The types of probation are Regular and Indefinite. NOTE: Probationary statuses range from one (1) semester through matriculation. A violation of a probationary status may result in the student being immediately suspended from the University.

LOSS OF PRIVILEGES. A student who receives a sanction will be notified in writing of the specific privilege(s), which he/she has lost. The privileges may include removal/eviction from on-campus housing and restrictions from affiliation and/or representing the University. Students with outstanding sanctions are prohibited from traveling. The written notification shall include the time period for which the student has lost certain privileges.

NO FURTHER CONTACT. A student may be prohibited from further communication (verbal, physical, or electronic) with a specific person for a specified period of time or throughout their matriculation at the university.

REPRIMAND. The University may reprimand a student when it has documented that the student's actions are inappropriate and do not reflect the community standards and values or, if the student violates the Student Code of Conduct.

RESTITUTION. Restitution includes compensation, reimbursement of, or a required replacement of a loss, injury, or property (personal or private) by the student in violation. Restitution must be made within a specified time period. Failure to pay full restitution to the appropriate party will result in the student being placed on disciplinary hold and/or suspension. NOTE: Restitution is due in full, prior to or within the 30th day from official notification to the offender, unless otherwise approved by the Dean of Students or designee.

SUSPENSION. Suspension is dismissal from the University for a specific period of time following severe acts of violation of the Student Code of Conduct or violation of probationary status. When a student is suspended and assigned to a room in Housing and Residence Life, the student shall be permitted one (1) day to vacate the assigned room if the student is a Mississippi resident and two (2) days to vacate the assigned room if the student is an out of state student. Suspensions are recorded on the student's permanent record (including transcripts) and case files are maintained when suspensions occur for student organizations. Students suspended from the University are required to return their student identification card and room keys and may not return to campus for the duration of their suspension, except to conduct official business with an administrative officer or faculty member, and then only with prior permission of the Dean of Students or designee. If a student returns to the campus without permission during the period of suspension, his or her eligibility to return to Jackson State University will be threatened and he/she will be subject to arrest. During the period of suspension, the student is not eligible or entitled to receive any University services. His or her name is deleted from the roster of enrolled students and from the faculty class roll. The student will not get credit for course assignment, papers, projects, make-up work, or other course-related work during the period of suspension. During the period of suspension, therefore, the student's relationship with the university is terminated, and he or she is, in fact persona non-gratis.

Students are not allowed to be on any University property, nor are students allowed to attend University sponsored events during their suspension. If a student wishes to conduct any business on any University property, the student is required to contact the Dean of Students or designee to be cleared. The request must be cleared in advance. Lastly, upon arrival, a suspended student must check-in and prior to departing, must check-out at the Public Safety headquarters for documentation purposes.

Students may request transcripts while suspended by e-mailing deanofstudents@jsums.edu. The e-mail needs to include the request for transcripts for a suspended student, as well as the student's name and J#. In turn, the Dean of Students or designee will contact the Registrar's Office with the request. Afterwards, the student will be notified via e-mail that the request has been submitted to the Registrar's Office. Lastly, the student will be required to contact the Registrar's Office to order transcripts, as well as submit the required payment. Please note: financial obligations must be satisfied with the University prior to transcripts being distributed.

Following a fully served suspension period, a student or student organization who wishes to re-enter the University must submit a written request to be reinstated into the University. The student or student organization must submit a typed letter to the Dean of Students or designee no later than (30) days prior to the beginning of the semester for which he/she is requesting to be allowed to return (e.g. the letter must be received by the proper University designee thirty (30) days before the begin of the fall semester the student wishes to return to the University). The reinstatement request should be e-mailed to deanofstudents@jsums.edu. The document should outline productivity that has occurred throughout the suspension period, as well as measures that will be taken in order to avoid future violations of the Student Code of Conduct. The Dean of Students or designee will review the student's file or student organization and determine the eligibility to return to the University following a suspension period. The Dean of Students or designee will in turn schedule a reinstatement meeting. Following the reinstatement meeting, the Dean of Students or designee will determine if the student is eligible to return. The decision will be distributed to the student via e-mail. Regardless of a student or student organization's completion of the suspension period, the Dean of Students or designee reserves the right and has the complete discretion relating to the decision of a student being reinstated from a suspension. This decision includes, but is not limited to, denial of readmission or reinstatement and restrictions on extra-curricular activity participation based upon the nature of the suspension. The types of suspensions and expulsion are defined as follows:

- A. Suspension. Suspension period begins with an existing semester and continues through that semester; however, suspension may become effective at the beginning of a specified semester (usually the following semester) and continue through that semester and future ones.
All students and student organizations returning to "active" status at Jackson State University following a student conduct suspension will be placed on mandatory "Probationary Status" for one calendar year. Any violations of the probationary status within this time period may result in an additional suspension effective immediately and continuing throughout the time period recommended by the Dean of Students or designee.
- B. Interim Suspension. Interim suspension is suspension that is immediately put into effect when violations are alleged. The suspension will remain in effect until the student conduct hearing is held or the student has completed requirements of the sanction imposed. Suspensions of this type are usually temporary; however, if the student is found responsible for the violation(s), or fails to satisfy the requirements of the sanction imposed, the interim suspension may be changed to another sanction, including suspension or expulsion.

- C. Indefinite Suspension. Indefinite suspension is dismissal or Suspension from the University to be served for a period of not less than one (1) year.
- D. Expulsion. Expulsion is permanent dismissal from the University. Expulsion is the most severe sanction that can be imposed upon a student for a violation. The student who receives a sanction of expulsion is not eligible to apply for readmission to the university. When a student is expelled from the University, the student's relationship with the University is permanently severed, and the student is persona non-gratis.

Note: Failure to complete an assigned sanction within the allotted time frame will result in the student receiving a student conduct hold on his/her student account and/or suspension from the University.

In addition to the above sanctions, students, student groups, and/or student organizations found responsible for violating the Student Code of Conduct may be prohibited from a specified affiliation or from representing the University as a member of an organization or a University-sponsored activity.

Depending on the severity of an incident, students, student groups, and/or organizations may face criminal charges off campus. If a student, student group, and/or student organization has already been to court for an alleged incident, then the student, student group, and/or student organization has fulfilled their obligation to any violation of law. Meaning, the student, student group, and/or student organization has met the requirement set forth under Mississippi Law for the designated county. However, the student, student group, and/or student organization will still be required to meet their obligation to Jackson State University's policies and procedures outlined in this handbook. Consequently, even if the court finds a student, student group, and/or student organization "not guilty" or determined there was not sufficient evidence to even "hear" the case in court, the student, student group, and/or student organization will still be required to meet with Student Conduct and Community Standards for a hearing. The University student conduct process runs separately and concurrently to any process the law requires, and determines responsibility based on the preponderance of evidence. Under these circumstances, this process is not considered double jeopardy.

Questions or concerns regarding the student conduct process may be directed to the Division of Student Affairs. Offices are located in the Student Center, 3rd Floor, Suite 3222.

COVID-19 Pandemic Student/Student Organization Manual

Jackson State University is closely monitoring the ongoing Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19) pandemic. As the situation continues to change rapidly, our top priority remains the health, safety, and well-being of our community, on and off campus. We are planning for several contingency scenarios and taking decisive, informed action to limit the spread of COVID-19 while ensuring the continuity of our teaching and research mission. The University remains open and operational with appropriate measures to protect the health of the community. We will continue to update the community regularly to keep you informed of additional measures (JSU Website, 2020).

This serves as a general guideline and guidance for Jackson State University® student/student organization meetings, gatherings, forums, student activities, etc. COVID-19 is a complex, challenging, and fluid situation that continues to evolve rapidly. All information within this manual is subject to change as deemed necessary by University leadership in accordance with guidance and recommendations issued by federal, state, and local public health and government officials. This includes recommendations from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). Consequently, the Division of Student Affairs reserves the right to make revisions to this manual as often as needed.

COVID-19 & Social Distancing

Staying Safe

As the coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic continues to grow, public health officials warn that people of all ages can be affected by the virus — including young people — and urge everyone to follow social distancing precautions (JSU Website, 2020).

Social Distancing

Social distancing is critical to help curb the spread of the coronavirus and avoid overwhelming the nation's health care system. Public health officials ask people to stay at least six feet away from others (JSU Website, 2020).

The CDC (2020) continues to study the spread and effects of the novel coronavirus across the United States. We now know from recent studies that a significant portion of individuals with coronavirus lack symptoms (“asymptomatic”) and that even those who eventually develop symptoms (“pre-symptomatic”) can transmit the virus to others before showing symptoms. This means that the virus can spread between people interacting in close proximity—for example, speaking, coughing, or sneezing—even if those people are not exhibiting symptoms. In light of this new evidence, CDC recommends wearing cloth face coverings in public settings where other social distancing measures are difficult to maintain (e.g., grocery stores and pharmacies) especially in areas of significant community-based transmission (CDC, 2020).

It is critical to emphasize that maintaining 6-foot social distancing remains important to slowing the spread of the virus (CDC, 2020). CDC is additionally advising the use of simple cloth face coverings to slow the spread of the virus and help people who may have the virus and do not know it from transmitting it to others. Cloth face coverings fashioned from household items or made at home from common materials at low cost can be used as an additional, voluntary public health measure (CDC, 2020).

Why practice social distancing?

According to the CDC (2020), COVID-19 spreads mainly among people who are in close contact (within about 6 feet) for a prolonged period. Spread happens when an infected person coughs, sneezes, or talks, and droplets from their mouth or nose are launched into the air and land in the mouths or noses of people nearby. The droplets can also be inhaled into the lungs. Recent studies indicate that people who are infected but do not have symptoms likely also play a role in the spread of COVID-19 (CDC, 2020).

The CDC (2020) reports that it may be possible that a person can get COVID-19 by touching a surface or object that has the virus on it and then touching their own mouth, nose, or eyes. However, this is not thought to be the main way the virus spreads. COVID-19 can live for hours or days on a surface, depending on factors such as sunlight, humidity, and the type of surface. Social distancing helps limit opportunities to come in contact with contaminated surfaces and infected people outside the home (CDC, 2020). Although the risk of severe illness may be different for everyone, anyone can get and spread COVID-19. Everyone has a role to play in slowing the spread and protecting themselves, their family, and their community (CDC, 2020). In an effort to protect the health and safety of all JSU™ students and Registered Student Organizations, the following rules, regulations, and guidelines have been implemented.

Discrimination

Students have the right to be free from all forms of discrimination. Jackson State University® does not discriminate on the basis of race, creed, color, gender, sexual orientation, age, religion, national or ethnic origin, disability, or veteran status in its educational programs, activities, admissions or employment practices.

Types of Registered Student Organizations (RSOs)

The Center for Student Engagement and Leadership (CSEL) maintains current information on each registered student organization, its officers or authorized representatives, and its purpose. The CSEL also provides event approval stamps for event advertisement(s). The process for event approval is as follows:

1. Academic – Academic organizations are Honor societies / groups recognizing high levels of academic performance and requiring demonstrated interest in a particular field of study or academic discipline. These are departmental clubs, honor societies, and special interest organizations for almost all of the academic disciplines.
2. Class Council – The Class Council represents the four undergraduate classes in the student governance process.
3. National Pan-Hellenic Council (NPHC) – NPHC are private, national or international social Greek letter, voluntary associations which meet all of the following criteria:
 - The sponsoring bodies are legal corporations.
 - They have organizational goals which are social/ service / fraternal rather than honorary, professional, religious or political. The emphasis of these groups is the personal development of members.
 - They may select members according to subjective criteria consistent with the nondiscrimination policies of the University. They may be entitled to single sex membership if they meet the provisions of Section 86.14 of the regulations promulgated under title IX of the U.S. Education Act Amendment of 1972.

4. Religious -- Religious organizations serve as spiritual outlets for students of various denominations.
5. Residential – Residential organizations represent the needs and concerns of University housing groups.
6. Special Interest – The mission of special interest organizations is to promote a common interest, to foster participation in a specific interest or activity, and to provide an interactive environment for its members.

HOUSING COVID-19 PROTOCOLS

Main Housing Office Guidelines

All office staff are available Monday-Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. via phone or email. As a precaution, all students or visitors are required to wear a face covering before being allowed access to the Housing Office.

Designated Quarantine Spaces

Each residence hall has designated rooms on each floor equipped with an in-suite bathroom. These rooms are electrostatically sanitized prior to and after a student has completed quarantine.

Quarantined students are still held to the same Housing and Residence Life guidelines as non-quarantined students. All quarantine spaces must be left in their original condition. Failure to comply with these guidelines will result in a fine being assessed to the students' accounts.

Move-In Guidelines

Students must obtain proof of a negative Covid-19 test result at least 3 days before arrival to campus to be permitted to move into the residence halls. Students are provided a link a week prior to move-in in order to upload test results; however, students may also provide a physical copy of the test results upon arrival to campus.

Students who do not provide this document will not be allowed to move into the residence halls. The JSU Student Health Center will review the document for a negative result, at which time the student will receive an email from housing clearing them for move-in.

Students who arrive on campus and have not uploaded the document will be required to test on campus between the hours of 8:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m. before being allowed to move into the residence halls.

Residential students who test positive must be quarantined for the fourteen required days then tested again after this period for a negative result. Once a negative test result is received, the student should upload their test result document and obtain clearance to move into their residence hall.

Guests on Move-in Day

Each student will be allowed ONLY two individuals to assist them with moving in. Those two individuals must show proof of a negative COVID-19 test result dated at least 3 days before their student's move-in date. Proof of ID must be submitted with the test results upon arrival to campus. All guests will receive a pass to proceed on campus. If a guest cannot provide a negative test result, they will not be allowed in the residence halls.

Students Who Test Positive After Arriving On Campus

Each student is given a temporary quarantine room in his or her designated residence hall. If a space is unavailable in the assigned residence hall, the student will be given a space based on availability. The temporary assignment is given to the student shortly after we have received confirmation from the JSU Health Center.

Students whose permanent address is within five hours of campus are advised to quarantine at home. In extenuating circumstances, these students are allowed to quarantine on campus.

Covid-19 Positive students are given two hours to access their room and retrieve ten days' worth of clothing and other items that may be needed. Students are instructed to report directly to their temporary room and they may not exit unless an emergency occurs.

Each student is also provided with a JSU Tiger Pantry care package and a PPE kit. Students are advised to have additional cleaning supplies and face coverings while in quarantine.

COVID-19 & General Guidelines for Student/Student Organization Events

Attendee limits

Note: The President's Office will determine the current campus event status, which may range from all virtual events to 25% event capacity. 100% capacity would be equivalent to normal operations with no impact from a pandemic.

Virtual Events

When the President's Office has deemed it necessary to hold virtual events for the campus community during a pandemic, the following guidelines must be followed by all students and student organizations. The President's Office must approve all exceptions.

1. All virtual events sponsored by RSOs must be registered through the Center for Student Engagement and Leadership (CSEL). Virtual event submissions should be submitted to jsuengage@jsums.edu. A virtual event is not approved until an approval email has been received by the respective RSO.
2. All virtual events sponsored by RSOs must be attended by the organization's advisor, meaning the advisor must be present on the virtual platform throughout the entire event.
3. The Student Handbook remains the guiding principle for all virtual events. Therefore, expectations relating to illegal drugs, alcohol, technology presence, and other associated student conduct expectations should be considered when planning, as well as executing virtual events. The visual presence of prohibited items during RSO sponsored events is prohibited.
4. Invitation only events are allowed for student organization executive board/leadership team meetings, as well as National Pan-Hellenic Council (NPHC) members' only meetings. However, advisor presence is required on the platform during the entire meeting time.
5. Virtual event attendee limitations may be limited according to the desired platform selected. As a result, RSOs should be mindful of this restriction while planning events.
6. During student leadership election periods, virtual events must be registered through the CSEL. In turn, a Jackson State University® professional staff member must be present on the platform for each event.
7. Outside programming, including table set up, is prohibited during this time.
8. Through the Campus Activities Board (CAB), Registered Student Organizations have access to funds to assist with costs associated with the new guidelines.
9. All programs and events are limited to JSU™ students ONLY.

Guest Speakers (appearing virtually)

In accordance with the Campus Speakers Policy, registered student organizations may invite persons of their own choosing for campus appearances. Such invitations must be submitted to the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs or designee for review and approval before arrangements for the campus visit are finalized with the guest. This also includes events in which student organizations desire to invite dignitaries (Elected Officials, other higher learning institution Presidents, etc.) to campus for any reason. Invitations of this nature must be submitted to the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs and approved by the University President. Requests of this nature should be submitted to the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs (studentaffairs@jsums.edu) and the CSEL (jsuengage@jsums.edu). Student organizations should allow 5 business days for review and approval. Student organizations are advised to plan accordingly.

Guest appearances must not interfere with the University's regular instructional, research, and service activities and programs. Except for ceremonial occasions, invited speakers should be prepared to participate in reasonable public activities. Such public discussions may include classroom visits, attendance at receptions and related functions, media appearances, and participation in community activities, programs and projects.

Invited speakers are afforded the courtesy and protection appropriate to a University community. The institutional control of campus facilities and the integrity of the academic environment are not to be used as a device of censorship. Sponsorship of guest speakers does not imply approval or endorsement of the views expressed, either by the sponsoring organization or the institution. For more information, consult the Campus Speakers Policy and the Free Expression Policy.

Social Distancing Requirements

Limiting face-to-face contact with others is the best way to reduce the spread of coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19). Social distancing, also called "physical distancing," means keeping space between yourself and other people outside of your home (CDC, 2020). To practice social or physical distancing stay at least 6 feet (about 2 arms' length) from other people.

Students are expected to maintain 6-foot social distancing when interacting with other students, administrators, faculty, and staff while on any Jackson State University® owned property. Social distancing remains important to slowing the spread of the virus.

Face Covering Requirements

Students are expected to wear a face covering when interacting with other students, administrators, faculty, and staff while on any Jackson State University® owned property. Proper face covering use includes covering one's mouth and nose. This expectation also applies to traveling throughout campus by foot or any mobile device, besides a motor vehicle (when interactions with others outside of the vehicle is not occurring), as well as common space areas within academic and non-academic support buildings. Further, students are required to wear face coverings when entering campus/administrative office spaces.

Face-to-Face Events

1. All campus spaces, including satellite campus locations, listed in the Events Management System (EMS) must be reserved through the Department of Events. Additionally, all reservation guidelines must be met. When reservations are available to host face to face events during the COVID-19 Pandemic, the Department of Events will follow the campus event status issued by the President's Office. The following chart will be used when events may not exceed 25% capacity for event spaces. Please be mindful that this chart does not include the 6 feet social distancing expectation, which will decrease the exact attendance limits.

All events must be entered into the Event Management System (EMS) for proper tracking and approval by either the Department of Events or the respective facility manager. Any event that is held in a university facility without proper approval will be shut down by the Department of Public Safety.

Important Information About Your Cloth Face Coverings

As COVID-19 continues to spread within the United States, CDC has recommended additional measures to prevent the spread of SARS-CoV-2, the virus that causes COVID-19. In the context of community transmission, CDC recommends that you:

Stay at home as much as possible

Practice social distancing (remaining at least 6 feet away from others)

Clean your hands often

In addition, CDC also recommends that everyone wear cloth face coverings when leaving their homes, regardless of whether they have fever or symptoms of COVID-19. This is because of evidence that people with COVID-19 can spread the disease, even when they don't have any symptoms. Cloth face coverings should not be placed on young children under age 2, anyone who has trouble breathing, or is unconscious, incapacitated, or otherwise unable to remove the mask without assistance.

How cloth face coverings work

Cloth face coverings may prevent the person wearing the mask from spreading respiratory droplets when talking, sneezing, or coughing. If everyone wears a cloth face covering when out in public, such as going to the grocery store, the risk of exposure to SARS-CoV-2 can be reduced for the community. Since people may spread the virus before symptoms start, or even if people never have symptoms, wearing a cloth face covering may protect others around you. Face coverings worn by others may protect you from getting the virus from people carrying the virus.

General considerations for the use of cloth face coverings

When using a cloth face covering, make sure:

- The mouth and nose are fully covered
- The covering fits snugly against the sides of the face so there are no gaps
- You do not have any difficulty breathing while wearing the cloth face covering
- The cloth face covering can be tied or otherwise secured to prevent slipping

Wash your cloth face covering after each use in the washing machine or by hand using a bleach solution. Allow it to completely dry.

COVID-19 & Student Conduct

All students who represent the University through affiliation with any Jackson State University® organization, or any University sponsored activity, are required to be in good standing as a Jackson State University® student. Depending upon the severity of offense(s), and/or decisions rendered by the hearing officer(s) or Student Affairs Conduct Committee, students, student groups, and/or student organizations found responsible for violating the Student Code of Conduct, and are sanctioned to student conduct probation may lead to University representation restrictions. COVID-19 requirement: Tampering with or intentionally damaging items required by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) for the health and safety of all. Stealing, discarding, or purposely tampering with roommate, suitemate, or campus COVID-19 safety items. Note: This does not apply to how faculty operate their classes. Of course, suspension is never the goal. However, the intention or impact would be based on non-compliance.

- First Violation: Fine: $75 plus educational sanctions or possible suspension based on the severity.
- Second Violation: Fine: $150 plus educational sanctions which includes loss of privileges (depending on the associated incident) or possible suspension based on the severity.
- Third Violation: Loss of housing privileges (if residential student); Possible suspension for blatant disregard for policy and health concerns of the campus community.

Student Conduct Procedures

Authority

By virtue of the bylaws and policies of the Board of Trustees of the State Institutions of Higher Learning, the President of Jackson State University is charged with the responsibility of maintaining “appropriate standards of conduct of students.” This duty has been delegated to the Division of Student Affairs. The Division of Student Affairs is further authorized to expel, dismiss, suspend and place limitations on continued nonattendance and to levy sanctions for student conduct violations. The Associate Vice President for Student Affairs is aided in this responsibility by the Dean of Students.

Student Conduct Responsibility

The Dean of Students Office is responsible for receiving and examining student conduct matters related to the behavior of students, student groups, and/or student organizations. Furthermore, the Dean of Students Office is responsible for assigning cases to the appropriate committees based on the behavior, status, and case loads. In addition, the Student Conduct hearing officers have the sole discretion in determining the appropriate sanction(s) for students, student groups, and/or student organizations found responsible for violating the Student Code of Conduct.

Student Conduct Procedures

Student Conduct procedures may be initiated against a student, student group, and/or organization upon receiving and examining an official incident report and/or valid complaint regarding the behavior of a student, student group, and/or student organization. Any person affiliated with the JSU community — students, faculty, visitors, guests, and staff — may bring complaints of misconduct against a student or group of students. To initiate a case, allegations must be presented to Public Safety (601-979-2580) or to the Dean of Students Office (deanofstudents@jsums.edu). After receiving allegations of misconduct, Public Safety will provide a written incident report to the Dean of Students Office (where applicable). The Dean of Students Office will review the allegations and determine the appropriate individual or University entity to hear the case, or if informal resolution process is appropriate for the case. All allegations should be submitted at the earliest opportunity after an incident occurs. Yet, there is no time limit on reporting violations of the Student Code of Conduct. However, the longer someone waits to report an offense, the harder it becomes for University officials to obtain information and witness statements and to make determinations regarding alleged violations. As necessary, University officials reserve the right to initiate a complaint, and initiate conduct proceedings without a formal complaint by the victim of misconduct.

Once an incident report is received, the Dean of Students Office will determine whether further action is appropriate based on its review of the alleged behavior. In the event a sufficient cause is determined, the case will proceed to an administrative hearing or assigned to a student conduct committee. All Student Affairs Conduct Committee members are trained students, faculty, and staff members. Below are some examples of the committees that exist, however, the committees are not limited to these examples:

1. Student Conduct Hearing Boards/Officers
 - a. Membership of the Student Affairs Conduct Committee (SACC) may be comprised of a Dean of Students Office professional staff member, faculty, staff, and Student Conduct Leaders. The Student Conduct Leaders consist of the Chair, Associate Chair and three to six Student Conduct Leaders who may classify as sophomores, juniors, seniors, or graduate students; although all may serve at a particular hearing, only three are required if the Student Conduct Leaders hear a case alone. When faculty and/or staff members serve on the SACC, the hearing will only require one Student Conduct Leader. The Dean of Students Office professional staff member or the Student Affairs Conduct Committee Chair shall preside over the committee hearing. This committee shall hear cases which may result in a student, student group, and/or student organization being admonished, exonerated, receiving a letter of warning, being assigned University service or counseling, receiving a fine, being placed on probation, losing privileges, being assigned a research assignment or reflection journal, paying restitution, being required to attend workshops/seminars, being suspended or being expelled from the University community.

- b. When deemed necessary, an administrative hearing may be conducted by a Dean of Students Office professional staff member serving in a student conduct role. In this instance, the administrator is considered a hearing officer and the presence of faculty, staff, nor Student Conduct Leaders is not required.
 - c. In instances which may involve a conflict of interest with the victims/complainants in the case being adjudicated, the Dean of Students or designee reserves the right to temporarily or permanently replace or dismiss any person(s) from SACC membership. This includes, but is not limited to any Student Conduct Leader, faculty or staff members. Ultimately, the Dean of Students Office reserves the right to comprise a committee based on the dynamics of each respective case. No SACC member, witness, observer, or other student may violate the confidentiality of student conduct proceedings. SACC members may never reveal information about student conduct deliberations or outcomes, except pursuant to court order.
 - d. In consideration of student's availability limitation, during times of University recess and summer sessions, the Dean of Students or designee reserves the right to comprise a SACC without a student representative being a part of the committee.
2. Inter-Residence Hall Committee
- a. The Inter-Residence Hall Committee (IRHC) is comprised of residence hall full-time and part-time (graduate assistants) staff members. The chair of the committee is appointed by the Executive Director of Housing and Residence Life. The IRHC is responsible for adjudicating cases resulting from violations of the residence hall rules and regulations, which may include: (see Resident Student Handbook)
 - i. Roommate Disputes
 - ii. Housing Violations
 - iii. Illegal Visitation

NOTE: Cases of a more serious nature may be referred to the Dean of Students Office.

3. Appeals Committee (appeals from an administrative hearing or Student Affairs Conduct Committee hearing)
- a. The Appeals Committee is responsible for adjudicating cases after a decision has been rendered by a student conduct hearing board/officer. Appeals are granted on the basis of a substantial violation of the hearing procedure or new evidence, witnesses, or facts.
 - b. The Appeals Committee membership is comprised of the Dean of Students, a minimum of one staff member and one student. Decisions of the Appeals Committee are made by a simple majority vote.
 - c. Appeals may also be assigned to an administrative hearing officer for review.

Decision/Sanction Letter

Written notification of the hearing outcome.

Appeal Decision Letter

Written notification of the appeal decision.

Communication

Correspondence from the Dean of Students, Office-Student Conduct and Community Standards will be distributed to the student's assigned JSU student e-mail account. Therefore, students are expected to check their JSU student e-mail account daily. When the term e-mail is used throughout the Student Handbook, it refers to the student's JSU student e-mail account.

Notification Process

The initial form of communication with a student, student group, and/or student organization named in an incident report will be via phone and/or e-mail. Students will be contacted to schedule a hearing date and time. A hearing notification will be distributed to the student via e-mail, outlining the hearing date, time, as well as the charges brought against the student. In the event the student fails to respond to a call or e-mail, a hearing will be automatically scheduled and a notice of the hearing will be e-mailed to the student's JSU student e-mail account provided at least forty-eight (48) hour notice of the hearing. Therefore, students are strongly encouraged to routinely check their JSU student e-mail account for important communications (at least once per day is encouraged).

When there are more than five (5) students involved in a case, the Dean of Students Office reserves the right to schedule the hearing date and time for all students involved, without confirmation from the students due to the number of individuals involved. Documentation can be provided to students for missed classes or work responsibilities when such circumstances exist.

Failure to attend a scheduled hearing will result in the accused student being charged with "Failure to Comply" and/or "Contempt of Hearing." In this case, a decision will be made in the student's absence based on the information outlined in the incident report and any information gathered from the investigation and a contempt of hearing fine will be charged to the student's account, in addition to other sanctions that may be assigned.

Administrative Hearing and Student Affairs Conduct Committee Processes

Once a hearing day and time is confirmed with the student or made on behalf of the student, the student will receive documentation outlining the aforementioned information. The following outlines each student's rights:

1. To receive information pertaining to the specific charges, the time, date, and place of the hearing no less than 48 hours prior to the hearing, unless accommodations are made by the student for a shorter time period. The specific names of committee members will not be provided to students.
2. The accused student, student group, or student organization can be accompanied by a representative(s) of their choice; however, their representative(s) is not allowed to speak during the hearing with the exception of providing instruction regarding your Fifth Amendment Rights. The role of the representative(s) is to support the accused student or witness throughout the hearing, but that role is passive and will not include directly questioning witnesses, or addressing the hearing committee. If a student, student organization, or student group plans to bring a representative(s) and/or witness(es) to the hearing, the student, student group, or student organization must notify the hearing board in writing of their name at least 48 hours prior to the hearing. The information should be submitted to studentconduct@jsums.edu. Each student is allowed a maximum of two advisors during a hearing.

Hearing Procedures

The purpose of the administrative or student conduct committee hearing is to reach a decision regarding the accused responsibility for violation of University rules or regulations, to provide due process for the accused, and to recommend a sanction if necessary. Although Public Safety generates the majority of incident reports, a representative from Public Safety does not have to be in attendance, in order for a schedule hearing to occur. Such decisions may affect students, groups, and student organizations and their relationship to the University. Administrative hearing decisions shall be determined by the Dean of Student Office designee. In the event additional information is provided during a hearing that may not have been included in the initial incident report, the hearing officer or hearing committee reserves the right to amend the charges during the hearing, in an effort to expedite the decision process. If a student, student group, or student organization fails to attend the hearing after being notified, it will be held in their absence. Attendance at an administrative or student conduct committee hearing is limited to only those individuals directly involved or those requested by the Dean of Students Office designee. The confidentiality of all student cases must be maintained.

If possible, the accused is usually informed in writing of the outcome (responsible or not responsible) of the hearing and sanctions within a minimum of five (5) business days after the hearing. In the event a decision cannot be made within five (5) business days, the accused will be informed by the Dean of Students Office designee.

APPEALS PROCESS

A student, student group, or student organization may submit an appeal to Dean of Students once the decision of the administrative or student conduct committee hearing is reached. A decision may be appealed for one or more of the following reasons:

- (1) Substantial violation of the hearing procedure. If the appeal is based on substantial violation of the hearing procedure, the following should be noted: Citation of specific procedural errors, reason(s) why procedural error was not mentioned in the original hearing, and reason(s) why correction of error can contribute to a decision other than the one originally made; and
- (2) New evidence, witnesses or facts. If the appeal is based on new facts, the following must be included: A description of new evidence, name(s) of person(s) who can present this evidence (if any), or reasons why the evidence was not discussed at the original hearing, and reason(s) why the evidence can contribute to a decision other than that which was originally made.

Note: An appeal may not be submitted to the Dean of Students simply due to a student disagreeing with the assigned sanctions associated with being found responsible for a student conduct violation.

FILING AN APPEAL

All appeals must be submitted in writing (typed) from the student via e-mail to the Dean of Students Office within 2 business days after the student conduct decision letter has been distributed to a student, student group, or student organization. As a reminder, students are expected to check their JSU student email account daily. The appeal needs to be distributed to deanofstudents@jsums.edu. The e-mail must include supporting documentation along with the appeal letter. The appeal request must state the specific grounds on which the student, student group, or student organization should be granted an appeal as described in the previous section. The appeal request must also be clear and specific. The Dean of Students or designee is not obligated to confer with the student, and may choose to review only the written information in making a decision.

After the letter of appeal has been received, it will be determined whether there are grounds to grant an appeal. In turn, notification will be distributed to the student, student group, or student organization within seven (7) business days after receipt of the student, student group, or student organization's appeal request. If a conference is needed to consider the matter further, the notice shall include the time and place at which the student, student group, or student organization is to be present.

In this case, the accused student, student group, or student organization can be accompanied by a representative(s) of their choice; however, their representative(s) is not allowed to speak during the hearing with the exception of providing instruction regarding your Fifth Amendment Rights. The role of the representative(s) is to support the accused student or witness throughout the hearing, but that role is passive and will not include directly questioning witnesses, or addressing the hearing committee. If a student, student organization, or student group plans to bring a representative(s) and/or witness(es) to the hearing, the student, student group, or student organization must notify the Dean of Students in writing via email at deanofstudents@jsums.edu of their name at least 48 hours prior to the hearing. Each student is allowed a maximum of two advisors during an appeal review.

The sanction of suspension imposed by the Dean of Students or designee does not become effective until all available appeals have been exhausted by the student, student group, or student organization within the time periods designated for appeals. An exception occurs when, in the determination of the Dean of Students, his/her designee, or Appeals Committee, the student, student group, or student organization's continued presence on campus constitutes a clear and present danger to the students and/or others in the University community. In such instances, the student, student group, or student organization will be asked to leave the campus; however, the student, student group, or student organization rights to request an appeal within the designated time periods shall not be compromised.

The decision of the Dean of Students, his/her designee, or Appeals Committee, to grant an appeal, is final, except in those cases involving expulsion from the University. If an expelled student chooses not to request an appeal within the specified time period, the decision of the Dean of Students or designee is final. It is, therefore, imperative that the student abides by the stipulations of his/her sanction(s). In cases involving expulsion, the student, student group, or student organization may appeal the sanction to the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs, in writing via email to studentaffairs@jsums.edu, with a copy to the Dean of Students (deanofstudents@jsums.edu) within 2 business days of receipt of the appeal decision from the Dean of Students. Appeal requests of this nature must also be typewritten. Similarly, the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs is not obligated to confer with the student, and may choose to review only the written information in making a decision. An appeal to the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs is the final step in an appeal for an expulsion. Once a decision is made, it is final.

Rights of Victims

In a student conduct hearing, both the accused student and the victim have rights. The rights of the victim are listed below:

- (1) To choose whether to charge the student with a violation of the law. The victim may also formally charge him/her with a violation of the Student or Collegiate Code of Conduct, resulting in an administrative or student conduct committee hearing;
- (2) To have a person(s) of their choice accompany them throughout the student conduct process;
- (3) To submit a victim impact statement to the Vice President for Student Affairs or designee prior to a sanction being imposed;

(4) To have past unrelated behavior excluded from the hearing;

(5) To be informed of the results of a student conduct hearing, in compliance with the Campus Security and Student Right to Know Act with the permission of the Dean of Students Office (A complainant may be notified whether the respondent was found responsible or not responsible for the alleged action. However, the complainant is not entitled to know and shall not be notified of any specific sanction received by the respondent as a result of the hearing.);

(6) To have adjustments made in residential living arrangements if necessary.

Note: Jackson State University has an obligation to protect members of the University community from physical harm or from a student whose continued presence on campus presents a clear and present danger to themselves or others. Notwithstanding the victim's right to bring charges, the University reserves the right to investigate and take appropriate action against a student accused of a violent physical or verbal assault.

Note: The complainant will only be notified of the case outcome if a written request is submitted to deanofstudents@jsums.edu. The request needs to include the complainant's name. In turn, the complainant will be notified of whether the student was found responsible or not responsible. Due to FERPA laws, the complainant will not receive the specific consequences associated with the case if the alleged offender is found responsible.

Official Withdrawal from the University

Should an accused student be academically dismissed or leave the University voluntarily before pending disciplinary charges have been resolved, a hold will be placed on the student's account. If an accused student withdraws from the University with a case pending, that accused student shall not be readmitted to the University until after the pending case has been processed, resolved, or otherwise adjudicated. The Dean of Students Office will place a student conduct hold on the student's record, which will prevent reinstatement (selection of classes and registration) of that student until the case has been adjudicated.

Student Conduct Files and Records

The Dean of Students Office shall maintain student conduct records and a disciplinary tracking system, which shall include, but not be limited to, the accused student's name and related information, description of the incident, parties involved, code violations, sanctions, and other relevant information. Such information shall be maintained in accordance with the provisions of the Federal Educational Rights and Privacy Act. Student Conduct records shall be made available to student conduct bodies and University officials designated in the Code, as necessary.

Parental Notification

The University reserves the right to notify parents/guardians of dependent students regarding any health or safety risk, change in student status, or conduct situation, particularly alcohol and other drug violations. The University may also notify parents/guardians of non-dependent students who are under age 21 of alcohol and/or drug policy violations. When a student is not dependent, the University will contact parents/guardians to inform them of situations in which there is a significant health and/or safety risk. The University also reserves the right to designate which college officials have a need to know about individual conduct complaints pursuant to the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act. In contrast, Student Conduct and Community Standards will not notify or inform parents/guardians of other Student Code of Conduct violations or associated sanctions, without written consent from the student.

SPECIAL NOTATION TO STUDENTS

Each violation of the Jackson State University Student or Collegiate Codes of Conduct is treated separately from any other case. Student Conduct sanctions will vary accordingly, depending upon the severity of each offense. All sanctions will be determined on an individual basis; however, all mitigating circumstances are reviewed and taken into consideration by the Student Conduct hearing officers/boards. Therefore, students may or may not receive similar sanctions for offenses of the same or similar nature.

ACADEMIC ADVISING

Students arrive at Jackson State University with an idea of what they want to accomplish. Some will know how to adjust to the college experience without much need for help. Others will need to refer, ask questions, make sure they are on the right path, and learn to read the signs of success. No matter which type of student you are, students must discuss academic plans and get advice along the way. There is a greater likelihood of success. JSU practices an intrusive and appreciative advising model that ensures students are well informed of their chosen academic path and take ownership in their academic careers.

- For traditional undergraduate students, the University Academic Advisement provides academic advising functions: course registration, course add/drop, change of major, degree plans, withdrawal counseling, academic support referrals, evaluate, articulate, etc.
- For undergraduate student-athletes, the Tiger Center for Student-Athlete Development and Academic Services number one priority is to advise our student-athletes. Advisement consist of: Determining eligibility status and the number of hours needed to meet the following eligibility marker (PTD), compose schedule and register students, organize tutoring sessions for student-athletes, and serve as a department representative when conferring with instructors.
- JSUOnline Advisors are available to assist with all academic advising functions and general questions about online and distance courses or to help you through the process of taking an online course. Various helpful resources are provided on the JSUOnline and Jackson State University's home page.

These skillful advisors can provide information, help arrange appropriate course schedules, and build professional networks. There are systems to learn, course loads to manage, forms to know about, and deadlines to keep. Advisors are here to help!

ACADEMIC POLICIES

ACADEMIC GRIEVANCE PROCEDURE

Objective

To create and sustain an academic environment that permits students to freely express concerns or reveal complaints about their education and the educational process and to have their concerns and complaints addressed swiftly and forthrightly.

Statement

Students enrolled at Jackson State University may register a concern or complaint about any academic regulation, the instructional program, delivery of the program, grades received, the academic advisement system, or any other matter related to academic affairs, without any adverse action for expressing the concern or filing the complaint. Concerns and complaints will be received, explored or investigated, and responded to in a fair and timely fashion, though students should understand that the final response by the University may not always be the response they prefer.

Procedures

Students should follow the proper chain of command when an academic concern arises. The proper chain of command is as follows:

1. Student shall discuss his or her concern with the academic advisor.
2. If the matter was not resolved through the academic adviser, the student may proceed by submitting the concern to the chair of the department.
3. If the Chair of the department has not resolved the student's issue or concern, the student may submit the Dean of the academic college.
4. If the advisor, Chair, or Academic Dean has not resolved the student's issue or concern, the student should contact the Academic Ombuds at 601-979-2244. The Academic Ombuds will respond accordingly and will forward severe issues of concern to the Provost Office for review.

As it relates to academic concerns, such as academic dishonesty or plagiarism, the respective faculty member(s) are expected to submit the complaint to Academic Affairs by contacting 601-979-2244. All academic complaints will be reviewed through Academic Affairs. All behavioral classroom concerns are expected to be reported to Public Safety by contacting 601-979-2580, which in turn will be submitted to Student Affairs for review.

Classroom Concerns or Complaints

(e.g. grades received; improper dismissals; unprofessional behavior)

- Student discusses concern or complaint with the instructor.
- Instructor provides a response (allow up to 5 days if investigation is required).
- Complaints unresolved by the instructor or for which the response is unacceptable must be described in writing by the student and submitted to the department chair.
- The chair properly logs and investigates the matter and provides a written response to the student within ten days.
- Issues that are still unresolved must be submitted by the student to the school/college dean.
- The dean provides the final written response within ten days, which may be done with committee input and/or in consultation with higher level administrators.

Other Academic Concerns or Complaints (e.g. academic advisement or academic regulations)

- Student discusses the concern or complaint with the academic advisor.
- The advisor provides a response (allow up to 5 days if an investigation is needed), or refers it to the appropriate official/body, e.g. department chair or Academic Standards Committee, for response within 20 days. The appropriate official/body returns the response to the advisor and the advisor returns it to the student.
- Unresolved concerns or complaints must be submitted in writing by the student to the school/college Dean.
- The school/college dean provides a written response within ten days, which may be done with committee input and/or in consultation with the Provost.

If the complaint remains, the student will submit it to the Provost for a final response.

NOTE: Academic complaints dating back more than a semester generally will not be investigated.

ACADEMIC RECORDS POLICY

Jackson State University maintains a permanent academic record for each student enrolled. The permanent academic record contains those grades received from course work completed at the University, along with any transfer of courses and credits from any other accredited institution of higher learning that is used by Jackson State University to fulfill the degree requirements. All records are confidential.

Academic records are considered property of the University. Opportunities are provided for students to inspect and to control the release of information contained in their records in accordance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) of 1974.

The purpose of FERPA is to afford certain rights to students concerning their education records. The primary rights afforded are the right to inspect and review the education records, the right to seek to have the records amended, and the right to have some control over the disclosure of information from those records. The Act applies to all education records maintained by the University, which are directly related to a student. Records containing a student's name, social security number, or other personally identifiable information are protected by FERPA.

The student must make a written request to have the academic record released. The academic record is generated and printed on transcript security paper, which prevents duplicating or printing an official copy outside the Records Office. A nominal charge is assessed for the reproduction and distribution of a personal and/or official copy of the transcript.

CLASS ATTENDANCE POLICY

OBJECTIVE

To ensure that students attend all class sessions and activities, except in cases of extreme cause, to maximize their learning from the quality instructional experience afforded at the University.

STATEMENT

Students at Jackson State University must fully commit themselves to their program of study. One hundred percent (100%) punctual class attendance is expected of all students in all scheduled classes and activities. Instructors keep attendance records and any absence for which a student does not provide written official excuse is counted as an unexcused absence. Students must understand that even with an official excuse of absence, they (students) are responsible for the work required during their absence.

Students may be officially excused from class for attendance at University approved functions, provided the sponsor properly executes a Student Affairs Leave Form, such excuses shall be accepted by the instructor. Students may also be officially excused by the Dean of their College or the Vice President for Student Affairs for certain campus activities.

Students requesting excuses for absences due to illness or other emergency situations will be issued a Request for an Excused Absence. The Request for an Excused Absence Form will be issued only after proper documentation stating the reason for non-attendance has been submitted and verified. (Proper documentation includes doctor's excuse, official court document, etc.).

EXCUSED ABSENCE FORMS

Commuter and residential students with extended absences (more than 5 days) shall report to the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs (3rd Floor of the JSU Student Center). There are serious consequences for poor class attendance. After being absent three times in a 50-minute class, three hours in a class that meets longer than one hour, or one time immediately before or after scheduled recess/holiday, the instructor shall report the next unexcused absence to the Associate Vice President for Student Success for freshmen and sophomores and to the school/college dean and department chair for juniors and seniors. The dean/chair or designee will counsel with the student and in concert with the instructor, may require the student to complete complementary course assignments. If a student does not respond well to the counselor with the assignments, the instructor may impose a grade penalty on the student.

Unexcused absences that exceed the equivalency of six 50-minute sessions may lead to an "F" for the course. Students who do not maintain the minimum grade point average required for retention over two semesters are suspended from the University. At the discretion of the school/college dean and with approval of the Division of Student Affairs, there may be additional class attendance policies stipulated in school handbooks and other official school documents.

SPECIFICATIONS/PROCEDURES

Instructors must maintain attendance records and discuss and/or present students with a copy of the class attendance requirements at the beginning of the semester and summer session, preferably on the course syllabus. When, for any reason, students are absent from class, it is their responsibility to present to the instructor as soon as possible (and not later than five days from date of absence) an official Request for an Excused Absence.

Faculty/staff who sponsor/coordinate functions for students who will miss class must execute a Student Affairs Leave Form, which must be submitted at least two weeks prior to the event. Additionally, faculty/staff must notify the instructor of such absences prior to the date of absence. When students know in advance that they will be absent from class, instructors should be notified and arrangements made to secure assignments.

Students who willfully miss class and practice chronic absenteeism are not only subject to academic penalties but may be subject to student conduct sanctions also. Unexcused poor class attendance violates the spirit of the University's Collegiate Code of Conduct and consequently holds these students accountable under the guidelines of non-adherence to the University's Student and Collegiate Codes of Conduct.

ANTI-HAZING POLICY

Jackson State University is dedicated to maintaining an environment that promotes academic excellence and the collective responsibility of its community members towards achieving the mission of the university. Therefore, the university has a zero-tolerance policy for hazing to protect the safety and well-being of all students.

Hazing Defined

The University defines hazing as any action taken or situation or intimidation created, intentionally whether on- or off-campus, to produce mental or physical discomfort, embarrassment, harassment, ridicule, or the breaking of the school's rules. Activities considered to be hazing include two elements: (1) Coercion, either overt or covert, and (2) Production of physical or mental discomfort, in either the participant(s) or spectators. Such activities suggested or ordered by a group or a member of a group to new or trial members will be considered to carry with them covert coercion, even if the activity is defined as "voluntary." Paddling in any form, physical and psychological shocks and creating excessive fatigue are always considered hazing. Other activities include but are not limited to the following: quests, treasure hunts, scavenger hunts, road trips or any other such activities; wearing apparel in public which is conspicuous and not normally in good taste; engaging in public stunts and buffoonery; morally degrading or humiliating games and activities; late work sessions which interfere with scholastic activities; and any other activities which are not consistent with the regulations of the university.

Mississippi State Law

Criminality of Hazing: As defined by Mississippi, hazing is a crime. Persons involved in hazing may be subject to criminal charges as dictated by state law. (Mississippi Code of 1972, as Amended § 97-3-105.)

Senate Bill No. 2165:

An act to prohibit hazing in the course of another person's initiation into any organization; to prescribe criminal penalties therefore; and for related purposes. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Mississippi:

§ 97-3-105. Hazing; initiation into organization

(1) A person is guilty of hazing in the first degree when, in the course of another person's initiation into or affiliation with any organization, he intentionally or recklessly engages in conduct which creates a substantial risk of physical injury to such other person or a third person and thereby causes such injury.

(2) Any person violating the provisions of subsection (1) of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not more than Two Thousand Dollars ($ 2,000.00) or imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six (6) months, or both.

If you are a JSU student and have a documented disability, the Disability Services Center (DSC) may be able to assist you with obtaining reasonable accommodation in an inclusive learning community at Jackson State University.

The first step in receiving reasonable accommodation is the establishment of a reasonable accommodation plan with the DSC. The reasonable accommodation plan should be established at the beginning of each semester or academic school year.

Steps for success:

1. Email your accommodations request to adaservices@jsums.edu.
2. Complete ADA Student Registration Form.
3. Meet with the DSC Learning Specialist or Coordinator to discuss individual needs.
4. Provide any and all medical and legal documentation of the disability from a licensed professional with recommended requested accommodations attached. (For Emotional Support Animals, please see Service and Emotional Support Animal Policy and Procedure below)
5. Attend a New Student Orientation (NSO). (FOR STUDENTS NEW TO JSU)
6. Meet with your professors for the semester or academic school year to review accommodations plan.
7. Renew every semester. (Every year for parking and housing accommodations.)

Student Self-Advocacy

Good self-advocacy and personal responsibility skills are vital to help you make the transition to post-secondary education and to have a successful college experience. Jackson State University will make a good-faith effort to provide reasonable accommodations and modification, which may be necessary for you to have equal access to educational opportunities. It is the student's responsibility to use your approved accommodations, access other university support if needed, and to work towards academic success.

- Know your disability and how it impacts your learning. You are the expert on how your disability impacts you and it is important that you are able to articulate that impact.
- Be proactive by requesting accommodations early or 30 days prior to the start of the semester or academic school year. Take action immediately if you start to struggle academically.
- Maintain written records. Keep copies of forms and emails; take notes about your contact with instructors and others. This will help you keep track of your efforts to self-advocate.
- Disclose your disability to individuals, as necessary. You cannot be a successful self-advocate if you fail to disclose your disability and needs to those who may be able to assist you.
- Understand your learning style. Understanding your learning style can help you articulate your academic needs and ask for appropriate assistance.
- Know what you need. Students should be able to articulate clearly, what they need so that if those needs are not met, the student can advocate for more assistance that is appropriate.
- Know your rights and responsibilities. Students should be familiar with their legal rights and responsibilities. Knowing your rights and responsibilities will help you advocate appropriately for the assistance you may need.
- Be willing to compromise. Students should be willing to negotiate and compromise when necessary in order to receive the most appropriate assistance in the class. A willingness to compromise and work with an instructor will help build trust and respect.
- Know where to go for support. Everyone needs support occasionally, even those who can successfully advocate for themselves. Become familiar with the assistance provided by Jackson State University, so you know where to go should you need assistance.

SERVICE AND EMOTIONAL SUPPORT ANIMAL POLICY AND PROCEDURE

This document describes the procedures for the use of service animals by students and employees and emotional support animals (ESA) by students on the Jackson State University campus. Jackson State University (JSU) complies with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) in allowing use of service animals for students, staff, and visitors. Employees may not bring emotional support animals to work without prior approval.

DEFINITIONS

Disability:

The term "disability" means, with respect to an individual, a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities of such individual; a record of such an impairment; or being regarded as having such an impairment. (42 U.S.C.A. § 12102).

Major Life Activities include, but are not limited to:

Caring for oneself, performing manual tasks, seeing, hearing, eating, sleeping, walking, standing, lifting, bending, speaking, breathing, learning, reading, concentrating, thinking, communicating, and working. A major life activity also includes the operation of a major bodily function, including but not limited to, functions of the immune system, normal cell growth, digestive, bowel, bladder, neurological, brain, respiratory, circulatory, endocrine, and reproductive functions.

“Being regarded as having such an impairment”:

An individual meets the requirement of "being regarded as having such an impairment" if the individual establishes that he or she has been subjected to an action prohibited under this chapter because of an actual or perceived physical or mental impairment whether or not the impairment limits or is perceived to limit a major life activity.

Impairments that are transitory and minor do not qualify. A transitory impairment is defined as an impairment with an actual or expected duration of 6 months or less.

Service Animal:

A service animal as per the ADA is defined as: “Any dog that is individually trained to do work or perform tasks for the benefit of an individual with a disability, including a physical, sensory, psychiatric, intellectual, or other mental disability. Other species of animals, whether wild or domestic, trained, or untrained, are not service animals for the purposes of this definition. The work or tasks performed by a service animal must be directly related to the owner's disability. Examples of work or tasks include, but are not limited to, assisting individuals who are blind or have low vision with navigation and other tasks, alerting individuals who are deaf or hard of hearing to the presence of people or sounds, providing non-violent protection or rescue work, pulling a wheelchair, assisting an individual during a seizure, retrieving items such as medicine or the telephone, providing physical support and assistance with balance and stability to individuals with mobility disabilities, and helping persons with psychiatric and neurological disabilities by preventing or interrupting impulsive or destructive behaviors. The crime deterrent effects of an animal's presence and the provision of emotional support, well-being, comfort, or companionship do not constitute work or tasks for the purposes of this definition.”

Emotional Support Animal:

The Fair Housing Act defines an emotional support animal as any animal that provides emotional support, well-being, or companionship that alleviates or mitigates symptoms of the disability; the animal is not individually trained. Emotional support animals are not limited to dogs and can be other species of animal. Emotional support animals are not considered service animals. In order to bring an emotional support animal to campus, the Owner must contact the Disability Services Center (DSC) no less than 60 days prior to arrival, in order to permit time to gather all necessary documentation. Animals should not be brought to campus prior to approval being granted.

The University will make an individualized assessment of each proposed emotional support animal. Dogs must also be completely trained and housebroken. The use of “puppy pads” will not be permitted. For dogs under 12 months old that are not already living with the student at the time the ESA is requested, DCS will ask for a statement that the puppy is housebroken from the breeder, adoption agency, or person providing the animal to the student. For animals already known to the student, the student can self-attest to the housebroken status of the animal.

Pet:

A domesticated animal kept in the home for pleasure and companionship, rather than for the purpose of assisting persons with disabilities. A pet is not considered a Service Animal or Assistance Animal, and, therefore, is not covered by these requirements and related policies. (24 C.F.R. § 5.306(1)) Residents are not permitted to keep pets on university property or in university housing.

Owner:

A person with a service or emotional support animal.

Trainer/Trainee:

A service animal in training, including puppies in training once they are old enough to remain under the control of the trainer. The animal must be accompanied by a person who is training the service animal (the trainer) and the animal must wear a leash, harness, or cape that identifies the animal as a service animal in training. Trainees are not permitted to reside in campus housing. See the Responsibilities/Requirements sections of this document regarding the registration of trainees.

Resident:

As referenced in this Policy, refers to the individual who benefits from the Assistance Animal’s use or Service Animal’s training.

For a student to qualify to have an emotional support animal in his or her living community:

- The student must have a disability as defined by the ADA.
- The student must be registered with the DSC.
- The student must have an already established relationship with the animal.
- The emotional support animal must be approved through the DSC as an official accommodation, in conjunction with other offices as needed.

Students who require the use of a service animal on campus must contact DSC to register as a student with a disability. Information provided to DSC is confidential and specific information about the disability will not be released without the consent of the student.

Pets and any dangerous, poisonous, unregistered, unlicensed, and/or illegal animals are not permitted. Fish in aquariums of 20-gallon capacity or less are allowed in accordance with the Student Handbook.

IMPORTANT DEADLINES

The student should submit the Request for Emotional Support Animal in University Housing form on or before the following dates for the appropriate semester that the student will first move into on-campus-housing. Documentation may be submitted at any time, but after the deadline dates, the University may be unable to consider a student's preference for assignment (such as area or roommate.)

SEMESTER	REGISTRATION BEGINS	DEADLINE DATE
Summer Session	March 15	May 1
Fall Semester	May 15	July 15
Spring Semester	October 15	December 1

To make a reasonable accommodation for the student's needs, there may be certain situations where housing preferences (such as area or roommate requests) cannot be honored. If a student submits documentation after the dates indicated above, the student will be assigned to an appropriate room assignment as quickly as possible, when acceptable space can be determined. If a student is offered a change to the housing environment, an additional cost may be associated with the resulting assignment or requests. Any reasonable accommodation is considered, but the student must support the accommodation request with a documented need linked to his or her disabling condition.

The student will receive notification within 1-2 weeks after documentation is submitted that will include the accommodation letter. The student will be informed if the ESA as an accommodation has been approved, if a change in room assignment is appropriate, any associated room rate charges if applicable, and other associated information.

The reasonable accommodation takes effect once the determination is made, based upon space available. Documentation cannot be submitted for a future semester without having the assignment for the current semester updated – once a determination is made, the student's room assignment will be updated immediately.

The University reserves the right to reassign the student to a space to accommodate the student and the ESA if there is a potential impact on the student's roommate(s). This move will only accommodate the student, and not the roommates(s).

A student may submit an appeal to the determination within fifteen (15) days of receiving the letter by following the established grievance procedure.

FACTORS CONSIDERED TO HAVE A SERVICE OR EMOTIONAL SUPPORT ANIMAL ON CAMPUS

Residence Life, in collaboration with Disability Services, may consider the following factors, among others, to assist in housing assignments, and to aid in determining whether campus housing can accommodate the particular necessary Assistance Animal. Such factors to be considered are as follows:

1. The size of the animal is too large for available assigned housing space.
2. The animal's presence would evict another individual from individual housing (e.g., serious allergies).
3. The animal's presence otherwise violates another individual's right to enjoyment.
4. The animal is not housebroken or is unable to live with others in a reasonable manner.
5. The animal's vaccinations are not up to date.

6. The animal poses or has posed a direct threat to the resident or other individuals, including but not limited to, aggressive behavior, which may or may not include personal injuries, toward the resident or others.
7. The animal causes or has caused damage to JSU's Residence Life property beyond what is normally considered reasonable wear and tear.

University Community:

- Must allow service animals to accompany their owners at all times and everywhere on campus where the general public (if accompanying a visitor) or other students (if accompanying a student) are allowed, except for places where there is a health, environmental, or safety hazard. The appropriate way to ascertain that an animal is a service animal is to ask (only if it is not apparent) if the animal is required because of a disability and what tasks it has been trained to perform. Specific questions about the individual's disability may not be asked.
- Contact DSC if any questions or concerns arise relating to service animals.
- Only two questions can be asked about service animals:
 - Is the Service Animal required because of a disability?

- Trainees are not permitted to reside in campus housing.
- There is no comprehensive list of approved service animal training agencies. Therefore, DSC will determine on a case-by-case basis whether a specific program provides the proper training, supervision and oversight of trainees and their trainers.

ANIMAL CLEANLINESS

1. Residents are responsible for properly containing and disposing of the animal's solid waste (e.g. feces).

If fleas, ticks, or other pests are detected on the animal and/or within the residence it will be treated using approved methods by a university-approved pest control service. The resident will be billed, as are all students, for the expense of any required pest management due to the animal's presence.

IMPORTANT CONSIDERATIONS

A service or emotional support animal can be asked to leave or not allowed participation on campus if:

- The animal is found by the University to be out of control or disruptive and the animal's owner does not take immediate and effective action to control it.
- The animal is not housebroken or kept in a cage where waste can be managed effectively.
- The animal is found to be neglected or mistreated and prompt corrective action is not taken.
- The animal is physically ill.
- The animal is unreasonably dirty.
- A service animal attempts to enter a place on campus where the presence of a service animal causes danger to the safety of the owner or other students/member of the campus community.
- A service animal attempts to enter any place on campus where a service animal's safety is compromised.

The process for handling disruptions to the community is as follows:

A student will receive a written warning if a complaint(s) is received regarding the animal. Following the first warning, the student will have the opportunity to rectify the situation and correct the behavior. If a second complaint is received, DSC will conduct a further assessment of the situation and the extent of impact to the community. At this point, it is possible that the student with the animal will be asked to switch rooms if there is availability on campus. Following a third complaint or incident, the animal will need to be removed from campus. The student will be required to identify a person who could come to campus to remove the animal if needed within a reasonable amount of time. This person must be identified during the approval process. The individualized assessment of each incident may lead to escalation of this process, up to and including removal of an animal from campus after a first complaint, depending on the severity of any incident involving any service or support animal.

Reminder: Emotional support animals are not allowed anywhere on campus, outside of the living community, where animals are not normally allowed. An ESA may be removed from campus if it is found in any other building on campus, other than the student's living community.

All animal owners must abide by applicable local ordinances. Most state laws require that all dogs over the age of four months be vaccinated against rabies and be licensed through the local city and town. There are also vaccination requirements for cats and possibly other emotional support animals. Please check Mississippi's State rules and regulations.

Any service or emotional support animals who misbehave or any owners (or others) who mistreat their service or emotional support animals should be reported to the Department of Public Safety.

Restricted Areas

The University may prohibit the use of a Service Animals in certain locations due to health or safety restrictions. Restricted areas may include but are not limited to food preparation areas, research laboratories or classrooms that contain research animals, areas that require protective clothing, and other areas as required by state or local laws. Exceptions to these restrictions may be requested and will be considered on a case by case basis.

Approved Emotional Support Animals are permitted only in the living communities.

Etiquette around service animals and their owners:

- Do NOT pet, touch, or otherwise distract a service animal when it is working. Doing so may interfere with its ability to perform its duties.
- Do NOT feed a service animal. Their work depends on a regular and consistent feeding regimen that the owner is responsible to maintain.
- Do NOT attempt to separate the owner from the service animal.
- Do NOT harass or deliberately startle a service animal.
- Avoid initiating conversations about the student's disability. Some people do not wish to discuss their disability.

Significant allergies to animal dander and other concerns.

- Concerns of this nature will be addressed on a case by case basis. The DSC will work in conjunction with Residence Life to alert potential roommates of the fact that a service or comfort animal will be present in an effort to address concerns including those related to allergies and objections or fears related to certain types of animals as early as possible in the housing assignment process. Issues or concerns that may arise during the academic year should be reported as quickly as possible.
- Owners who have concerns about any matter affecting their use of a service or emotional support animal should contact DSC.

Special Situations or Exceptions

Students and employees should contact DSC to discuss any special situations regarding service animals or emotional support animals that are not covered by this policy, as well as any exceptions to this policy that might be requested by a student or employee. All exceptions must be approved in writing by DSC.

Students in distress may come to the clinic without an appointment or should call campus security.

PHYSICALLY CHALLENGED PATIENTS

The Health Center is required to accommodate the needs of physically challenged or disabled students. It encourages faculty, staff, and other students to develop their awareness and sensitivity and offer special services.

The clinical staff can perform certain CLIA Waived tests within the Student Health Center. Other laboratory specimens for diagnostic testing are sent to an outside private or public lab, the-Mississippi State Department of Health laboratory, or a private clinical lab for analysis. These services are usually in-conjunction with illnesses and treatments.

A small fee is added to the student's fee schedule for specific lab tests performed inside the clinic. In contrast, charges for lab, X-rays, and other services completed outside the clinic are the students' responsibility through their insurance.

Each resident will be asked to inspect his or her room and sign a Room Condition Report (RCR) verifying the general condition of the room and its contents upon check-in.

Failure to properly check out will result in a charge to the student's account.

A cleaning fee is assessed to students who do not leave their rooms in good condition. A residence hall staff member must check all rooms before leaving. Failure to do this could result in a disciplinary fine. Contact the Building Director or Resident Assistant to make an appointment at least two hours before checking out of the building.

- Rooms must be left in clean and in livable condition upon check out.
- Rooms must be vacated no later than 24 hours following the student's last scheduled final exam or by end of day of withdrawal from JSU.

The typical room is furnished with twin beds, closets, drawer space, desks, chairs, and blinds. These items should not be moved from the student's assigned room. nor should furniture be moved into the room from public spaces within the hall or from other locations (e.g., other living communities, offices, classroom buildings, etc.). Since living communities have limited storage space and relocation of furniture may cause it to be damaged, University-owned furnishings must remain in their designated rooms at all times. Broken or damaged furniture should be reported to the Building Director and should remain in the room until a staff member has either repaired or replaced the item. If unauthorized items are found in the student's assigned room the student (s) will incur a fine or disciplinary action.

The living communities are not designed for individual food preparation; therefore, cooking is strongly discouraged in the student rooms. Furthermore, great precautions must be taken with authorized appliances. Electrical and grease type fire extinguishers are not provided, due to "NO COOKING" regulations. Toasters, hot plates, frying pans, personal refrigerators, microwaves, coffee pots, etc. are prohibited and will be confiscated by residence hall staff members. Students who violate this policy will be subject to a fine and/or disciplinary action.

Unapproved changes include using prohibited window dressings, painting the room, and affixing permanent devices and decorative paper to the doors, walls or furnishings. Pictures are not to be hung with nails, tacks, pins, or glue.

Students are required to discuss and obtain approval of all renovations with the Building Director prior to making such changes. Students who damage the room or make unapproved changes to the room will be subject to a fine or disciplinary action.

Students are required to perform general upkeep of their rooms regularly. This includes cleaning and mopping the floor, emptying the wastebasket, cleaning all appliances, disposing of personal items and washing personal belongings. Hours of Operation

8:00 a.m. to 12:00 midnight

Room Inspection

The Housing Staff reserves the right to enter and inspect students' room and the contents thereof at any time. The Housing Staff will conduct periodic room inspections to determine whether students are maintaining sanitary living conditions and to inspect for damages to University property. Students are expected to keep their rooms clean and free from damage. Students will be subject to disciplinary action and/or a fine for unsanitary conditions and damages.

Entry into a Student's Room

There are certain conditions (including periodic room checks) under which residential staff members, members of the maintenance/repair staff, and/or other authorized personnel may enter a student's room. Normally, entry into a student's room does not constitute a search and therefore a staff member will not enter a room without the occupant's consent unless for one of the following reasons: (a) to remove a potential fire, safety or health hazard, (b) to perform maintenance/repairs, (c) under appropriate circumstances, to retrieve items upon request of a documented member of the resident's immediate family, or (d) to correct any situation that causes discomfort to any resident in the surrounding area. In the case that entry is made for one of these reasons, the staff member should inform the student (preferably in writing) of the action taken.

Entry into a student's room by civil authorities may occur with or without a search warrant. In the event that civil authorities, including JSU police officers have a search warrant for student's room, it is outside the authority of the University to prevent a search. Civil authorities may also have cause to enter a room without a search warrant pursuant to proper legal authority.

Damages

Students are liable for any missing University property or damage that they cause to University property and will be required to pay for replacement or restoration costs. Residents who vandalize or damage housing facilities can expect disciplinary action. If the staff is unable to identify the individuals responsible for damages, all residents in that area may be billed for common area damages.

If a student has a reasonable believe that they are being unjustly billed for hall/floor damages, or that the charges are excessive, they may appeal the charges to the Building Director and the Executive Director of Housing and Residence Life. In order for this policy to be fair and effective, all residents within a particular living unit must work to develop a positive environment for them. This will include respect for the facilities and furnishings of that living unit, as well as the willingness to take responsibility for damages caused by oneself and one's guests.

Damage to Common Areas

Vandalism, graffiti, tampering with fire equipment, exit doors camera equipment, or any other type of damage to the living communities in common areas or students' rooms will not be tolerated. In the event of loss or damage to University property in the assigned room or for loss or damage in the common areas caused by student(s), that said student or students shall be liable for damages. Damages to common areas shall be assessed to each student who lives in the residence hall on a pro rata basis if we are unable to identify the person or persons who caused the damage.

Keys

Room keys and building access cards (identification cards) remain the property of the University and must be surrendered upon request by University officials including the Building Director or Executive Director of Housing and Residence Life, and members of Campus Police. While in the student's possession control and use of the key/card must not be assigned to or given to another person. The key must not be duplicated by off-campus persons. If a student loses a key/card during the course of the semester, he or she must report the lost key/card to the Building Director/ID Center and pay a fee to have the key/card and/or cylinder replaced.

The Building Director must initiate a request for a replacement key. The I.D. Center will replace student I.D. cards. Failure to return the assigned key by the specified check out time will result in a charge for key replacement. The cost of key replacement will be automatically charged to the student's account to maintain the security of the residential facility.

A residential student is responsible for the security of his/her room key/access card. The residence hall staff is not responsible for locking and unlocking room doors at the request of the student. Students will be charged a fee if the staff must open their room door.

Residence Hall Lobbies

Residents and guests must present their ID before entering the living communities. Guests may be asked to leave their ID at the desk with the residence hall staff. Identification cards will be returned once the guest leaves the residence hall.

Lobbies are provided for the residents of each residence hall for use in social, educational, and certain recreational activities. Television and cable service are provided in the lobby of each residence hall.

Each member of a residence hall community is expected to accept responsibility for general upkeep of the lobby and for the behavior of guests. Residents, as well as their guest (s) may lose lobby privileges for the remainder of the semester due to excessive noise or other offensive behavior in the lobby, as determined by the Building Director.

Students must be properly dressed at all times when entering the lobby. No robes, housecoats, towels, or pajamas will be permitted in the lobby.

Daily Residence Hall Closing

If a person is not a resident of the hall (even members of the same gender), he or she will not be allowed to enter the hall after it closes. Visitors in the hall (even of the same gender) must leave the hall before the residence hall closes. This regulation applies to both students and non-students. All guests must show ID and sign in at the desk before going upstairs.

Loitering in or around living communities after closing is not permitted, Campus Police may ask students to move to avoid problems.

Security on Personal Property

Security of personal property within the residence hall is primarily the responsibility of the student. The room door should be locked at all times when the student is away from the room even for a short time period.

Although precautions are taken to maintain adequate security, the University does not assume responsibility for the loss of or damage to student possessions. Students are advised to label their personal belongings, to record serial numbers, and to photograph property as a means of identifying it in case of loss or theft. All residents are strongly encouraged to carry sufficient insurance to cover such losses.

Security Doors

Emergency/Security doors are a part of the security system in each residence hall. In all halls, these doors are kept locked at all times and should only be used in case of an emergency. Each resident has the responsibility of adhering to the rules in each hall governing the use of emergency/security doors. At no time should any door be forced or propped open. Students found entering the emergency/security doors or propping the doors open will be fine and could face further disciplinary action.

Medical Conditions and Needs

Students who live in the living communities are expected to register any and all medical conditions with the Building Director and with the Health Center. These conditions should be disclosed on the housing data form under the Medical History section. Students should also discuss their condition (s) with the Building Director to enable proper notification to the Student of specific procedure for receiving medical care at the Jackson State University Health Center during illness and in an emergency. Note: Illness and medical emergencies should be reported to a member of the residence hall staff immediately.

Health Services

The Jackson State University Health Center is operated for the benefit of the student body. The Health Center provides outpatient treatment for most common illnesses and injuries under the supervision of its physicians and nurse practitioners.

The Health Center is open from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. Monday-Friday to evaluate common medical complaints, supply basic medications and to refer students to other facilities for services not available on campus. It is expected that all illness and injuries be reported to the Health Center. In case of serious illness or injury, the staff on duty will refer the student to the appropriate person and/or place for treatment.

Vehicles

All student vehicles must be registered with the Jackson State University Department of Public Safety and must display a valid registration decal if they are parked on campus. Parking spaces are limited in the vicinity of the residence therefore, all vehicles must be parked in designated areas or they will be ticketed and/or towed. Cars that are blocking sidewalks, ADA parking spaces, parked in reserved parking spaces, and service drives are subject to tow at the owner's expense.

Bicycles, motor scooters, and motorcycles must remain outside of buildings. Owners of these vehicles are responsible for securing them in the designated areas.

Theft/Fire Insurance

The Department of Housing and Residence Life distributes information about a national student theft and fire insurance program. The low-cost program is specifically designed to protect the personal property of students living in living communities, fraternity or sorority houses, off-campus apartments or houses. The policy covers the following items: computer, laptop stereo, television, a calculator, a typewriter, clothing, books, a camera, etc.

While this information is available as a service to interested students, neither the University nor Housing and Residence Life should be considered endorsers of the product or services of the insurance provider. Homeowner's insurance policies may also provide coverage of the student's personal items. It is strongly recommended that you insure your property.

Indemnification

The University will not indemnify (be responsible for) third parties who cause loss or damage to a student's property. Nor will the University be liable for damage to or loss of the student's personal property due to failure or interruption of utilities, or loss due to fire, flood, or theft. Students are strongly encouraged to obtain insurance.

Communication with Living Community Residents

The Department of Housing and Residence Life utilizes several methods of communication to interact with residents on a regular basis. This includes regular hall meetings, personal and group conferences, direct mail, email, postings to bulletin boards, and telephone calls. Hall residents are encouraged to observe and seek out these modes of communication; they frequently contain valuable policy and procedure updates, campus news, and motivational information.

Living Community Meetings

The Building Director and other members of their staff will conduct monthly mandatory hall meetings. All residents are expected to attend these meetings where important information is distributed and discussions held about residential life policies and procedures. Note: Failure to attend hall meetings may result in student disciplinary action.

Enrichment Programs

The Department of Housing and Residence Life has a genuine interest in and strong commitment to the personal as well as the professional development of students. The personal enrichment programs within the living communities can enhance and improve the student's overall academic experience. Programs are developed by members of the residence hall staff (with student input) to address the student's personal, academic, and social needs.

Jackson State University's faculty and staff support the efforts of the department by participating in programs and activities. In this capacity, the faculty and staff serve as resource persons who volunteer to conduct seminars, workshops, and programs that address a variety of topics of benefit and interest to students.

Respect for Self and Others

Students in the living communities are expected to behave consistently with the educational objectives and priorities of Housing and Residence Life and the University. Students shall, at all times, respect the right of quiet enjoyment by other student residents in the residence facilities to foster an atmosphere for study and rest. Students are expected to respond appropriately to requests from staff members or from other residents concerning behavior, which disrupts this atmosphere.

Quiet and Courtesy Hours

In order to provide a study time for students to pursue their individual endeavors, specific hours are designated as “quiet hours” by the Department of Housing and Residence Life. During these hours the floor should remain quiet enough to provide an atmosphere in which the residents may study and sleep. At all other times courtesy hours are in effect, which means one is expected to be considerate of one’s neighbors at all times. Quiet hours are from 10:00 p.m. - 10:00 a.m. each day, and Courtesy hours are 24 hours each day.

The use of sound producing equipment at a volume in a manner that disturbs other residents, whether during quiet or courtesy hours, is not allowed. Sound from such equipment must not be audible outside the resident’s room. Failure to comply after a warning may result in the confiscation of equipment by the residence hall staff. In addition to mechanical sounds, human sounds such as loud talking, laughing, screaming, yelling running, or stepping is not allowed. Persistent violators may be subject to student disciplinary action.

Visitation

Visitation is a privilege and not a right. The Department of Housing and Residence Life reserves the right to suspend or cancel visitation at any time. Residents are responsible for all actions of their guests and are responsible for informing their guest of housing rules and regulations. The University allows students to have guests visit their room at specified times. Co-ed visitation at times other than those specified is prohibited and violators are subject to a fine and disciplinary action.

Failure to sign in or sign-out, late check-out, failure to escort a guest, failure to sign out, inappropriate or disruptive behavior, or other violations of the visitation policy will be referred to the judicial system with the possibility of fines, removal of housing privileges and/or termination of Housing and Residence Life agreements.

A mandatory visitation meeting must be conducted by the Building Director with Fall Semester Freshmen students prior to visitation being allowed. Room checks will be conducted often during the Fall Semester. The University employee or agent will knock on doors and allow the student an opportunity to open the door. If the employee or agent has probable cause to believe that the individual student is violating this policy or a law, the employee or agent may enter and inspect the room, but only to the extent permitted and authorized by law and necessary to confirm whether or not the suspected misconduct that gave rise to probable cause is occurring.

If any policies or procedures of the Housing and Residence Life Handbook and/or Student Handbook are violated, residents may be subject to student conduct sanctions and/or removal of housing privileges.

There will be no visitation during Thanksgiving or Spring Break.

Visitation of Overnight Guests in the Living communities

While students may have an overnight guest(s) of the same sex, the guest(s) must observe the same hours and rules of conduct as their host. Overnight guests of the same sex are permitted any night, but we encourage residents to limit visits of overnight guests to weekends. A guest is the responsibility of the host and the host will be held responsible for any misconduct of their guest(s).

All guests must be approved by the Building Director prior to their arrival. Guests are required to provide a telephone number for use in case of an emergency. Residents living in all residential halls are permitted to occasionally have guests of the same gender stay overnight in their room. Only guests of the same gender, who are at least 18 years of age, may remain overnight. Guests are to stay no longer than two nights in any given one-month period. A person may not be an overnight guest of more than one resident per one-month period. Students hosting an overnight guest should receive the roommate's permission in writing prior to the guest arriving. Fees for authorized guests will apply.

Guests are identified and registered through the front desk of each residence hall. All guests have to fill out a waiver to not hold the University responsible for any actions that might occur. Residents with non-registered guests will be subject to judicial action and nightly conference fees. Residents who host guests are responsible for the actions of their guests during approved/illegal visitation periods.

Residents are not permitted to house unauthorized or prohibited persons in their room. Unauthorized or prohibited persons may be described as unregistered visitors, registered students, persons who have been denied campus housing as a disciplinary action or children under the age of 18. Violators are subject to disciplinary action or fee assessment as appropriate. Unauthorized guests are subject to arrest for violating the Housing and Residence Life policies.

Subleasing of room space or living in the residence hall without official authorization is strictly prohibited. A person living in the hall must be currently enrolled as a residential (i.e., on-campus) student. Any student found to be living in or housing unauthorized persons in the residence hall may be subject to arrest for trespassing, eviction, and disciplinary action.

If the fire equipment and smoke alarms have signs of tampering each student who lives in that room or residence hall will be subject to a fine and/or disciplinary action.

Alcoholic Beverages

The use, consumption, possession, sale, and/or distribution of alcoholic beverages on University property, in cars or other vehicles or at university activities (whether on or off campus) are prohibited. Irresponsible behavior by individuals and members of student organizations while under the influence of intoxicants is not condoned and is subject to review and action by the Executive Director of Housing and Residence Life, law officers and appropriate judicial bodies.

Illegal Drugs

In accordance with state and federal laws, the University prohibits the manufacture, possession, purchase, sale or use of illegal drugs on University property. Persons or groups in violation of this policy are subject to a fine and/or disciplinary action by the Division of Student Affairs, and may be subject to criminal prosecution as provided under the law.

Firearms and Other Weapons

Unauthorized use or possession of fireworks, firearms (guns), or other deadly weapons are prohibited.

Jackson State University abides by the laws of the state of Mississippi and prohibits any and all unauthorized firearms on campus as prohibited by state law. Additionally, it is the policy of the Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning, as adopted by Jackson State University, that possession of firearm or other weapons on campus or at student functions is not permitted. If you are found in possession of a firearm or other weapons, you will be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine or imprisonment, or both. You will also be subject to suspension or expulsion from the University.

Practical Jokes and Pranks

Behavior, which leads to actual or potential harassment, accident, injury, or damage to residence hall property or personal possession, is prohibited.

Activities, which create circumstances requiring additional cleaning, or maintenance of living communities are prohibited.

Students who engage in practical jokes or pranks violate residence hall policy, will be expected to clean the area and may be charged with replacement or restoration of any residence hall property or personal possessions which are damaged as a result of the activity. Students will be charged for repair, replacement, or cleaning costs. Disciplinary action may also be taken.

Sales, Solicitations, Postings

Soliciting and selling of products and services by individuals or groups on University property is prohibited unless written permission has been granted.

The University's policy on fundraising, sales and solicitations is found in the Student Handbook. Use of any residence hall room for business purposes of any nature, (e.g. the selling of food, clothing, jewelry, merchandise, favors, manicures/pedicures, hair relaxing/styling/braiding, barbering, babysitting, etc.) whatsoever is prohibited.

All posters, flyers or any information posted or placed in the residence hall must have prior approval (verified by an official stamp from Student Affairs) or permission from the Building Director or the Executive Director of Housing and Residence Life.

Emergencies

All emergencies (e.g., medical, maintenance, personal, etc.) occurring within and around the residence hall should be reported to the Building Director or staff member on duty immediately. The staff member will take action to correct the situation (i.e., contact the appropriated officials for assistance or provide the procedure for addressing the situation).

Emergency Equipment

The unauthorized use, abuse or interference with fire protection equipment, firefighting personnel, or warning devices may result in death, injury or substantial property damage. It is critically important that all fire protection equipment be in its place and in proper working condition if the safety and welfare of the members of the residence hall community are to be assured. Residents should report any damages or faulty smoke detectors to the Building Director or any Housing staff member.

Exterior Door Locking & Propping of Doors

All residence hall exterior doors are locked 24 hours a day. The decision to keep these doors locked is part of a commitment to provide greater security and safety for the residents of Alcorn State University. We believe that residents should have a choice to decide who enters their residence hall and when they may enter it. When doors are unlocked or propped, there is no control over who enters a residence hall. Additionally, your choice of who may be in your hall has been taken away. If exit doors are found propped open continuously, the entire floor of which the exit door is propped open will be fined $50. Unfortunately, history has proven that not all residence hall visitors have friendly intentions. Please do not sacrifice the safety of yourself as well as your fellow residents. If you prop a door open, you are in violation of Residence Life policy and may be subject to disciplinary action.

Fire Hazards

In order to protect all residents, gasoline and other flammable items or materials such as fireworks, incense, candles, matches, and smoking is prohibited in the living communities. These items jeopardize the safety of all residents and should not be used. Open coil electrical appliances (such as hot plates, grills, electric skillets, crock pots, toaster ovens, etc.) and extension cords are not allowed in the living communities. The residence hall staff will confiscate these appliances, and anyone found with dangerous substances and/or materials may be subject to a fine and/or disciplinary action.

Fire Alarm Equipment

The State Fire Code prohibits anyone from tampering with fire and safety equipment in the living communities and or in any campus building. Tampering includes the following: pulling false fire alarms, discharging fire extinguishers, removing exit signs, and/or interfering with smoke detectors. A resident who disconnects, covers, or otherwise tampers with a smoke detector will be subjected to disciplinary actions and/or fines. Violators may be subject to disciplinary actions and/or fines.

Safety Drills

It is very important that all residents be familiar with fire drill procedures. All students are required to participate in announced as well as unannounced emergency drills, such as fire, dangerous weather conditions, etc. Failure to participate in emergency drills will result in a fine and/or disciplinary action.

Fire Alarm Procedures

It is important that all residents be familiar with fire drill procedures. If one should discover a fire, the closest fire alarm should be pulled and notification should be given to the Campus Police and persons in charge of the facility.

In the event of a drill or fire, students are to follow these procedures:

- Remain Calm.
- Raise your blinds.
- Close your windows.
- Turn on overhead light.
- Put on suitable clothing and shoes for the hot floor inside, and rainy or cold weather outside.
- Take a towel to be used if there is heavy smoke.
- Leave your room and close your door.
- Leave the building by the nearest clear exit as indicated.
- Do not take the elevator. Use the stairways.
- Go immediately to your assembly area and check in with your residence hall representative or Fire Marshall. Remain there until the “ALL CLEAR” signal is given.

- Cooperate with the Residence Hall Staff, Campus Police and the Fire Officials.
- Listen carefully for directions and follow.
- Do not worry about any personal articles. They can be replaced, but your life cannot be replaced.

Remember: DO NOT PANIC!

Assigned Assembly Areas

Assigned assembly area in case of fire or other emergency:

Alexander Center	Alexander Parking Lot
Campbell College Suites	Student Parking Lot
Dixon Halls	University Park Auditorium Parking
McAllister-Whiteside Hall	University Park Auditorium Parking
Transitional Halls Residential	Student Parking Lot
University Pointe	Visitors' Parking Lot

Students are required to participate in emergency drills. Failure to participate will result in a disciplinary fine and/or disciplinary actions.

Withdrawal from a Living Community

When withdrawing from the University or simply from a living community, students must check out of the living community with the Building Director or another authorized staff member. A room inspection must be performed, the room key returned, and an official Residence Hall Release form completed. Copies of this form will be kept on file in the residence hall and the Department of Housing and Residence Life. Students must move all personal belongings from the residence hall before the staff will sign the Residence Hall Release form.

Failure to follow the correct procedure will result in a charge to the student's account for improper check out.

Storage of Personal Possessions

The University does not offer a storage program for student use during and between school terms. Students, therefore, are required to remove all personal possessions from the residence hall at the end of the school term or at the time of checkout. Valuables should not be left in the residence hall for extended periods (e.g., holidays, in-semester breaks, and between semesters).

The Department of Housing and Residence Life is not responsible for any personal possessions left in the residence hall.

Holidays and Vacations

Students are expected to vacate the living communities during specific holidays and vacation periods. Further information is communicated to residents prior to holiday and vacation periods. For further information, see the Building Director.

Excused Class Absence Procedures

All resident students must follow the procedures outlined in the student handbook when requesting an excused absence for illness or emergency situations.

Residents who cannot attend class due to illness or other emergency reasons must report their illness or emergency situations the Building Directory immediately. Only the Building Director is authorized to issue an excused absence. The residence hall staff will check with the student periodically during his or her illness. If it is discovered that the student is not in the room; no excuse will be given.

Excused absences will not be given for missing one class. The student must miss an entire day of classes to receive an excuse. Written verification must be presented in order to get an excuse if a student misses more than one day of classes. The Building Director can give a one-day excuse once it has been verified the student was in the room ill.

All pre-scheduled class absences for medical or other emergency reasons must be reported to the desk prior to the first day of the absence. Example: if a student has to go home for emergency reasons, he or she must notify the desk before leaving. Example: emergencies include funerals (immediate family), and court appointments. Written verifications must be on official stationary/letterhead and presented to the Building Director upon returning to the residence hall.

All reports for class absence must be presented to the residence hall main desk by 10:00 a.m. of the first day of class absence.

- An excused absence will not be granted for a class absence reported after the fact.
- All resident students suffering from illness should report to the Jackson State University Health Center on the first day of illness or to another medical facility.
- The living community staff will not issue an excused absence unless the student presents an official report from the Health Center, doctors' office, funeral director, etc.
- When making a request for an excused absence, please be prepared to present official documentation. Example - written statement on letterhead from the funeral home.
- Excused absences will not be granted when students miss class (s) due to personal negligence or other unofficial reasons.
- Excused absences are issued between Monday - Friday between 8:00 a.m.-11:00 and 2:00 p.m. - 5:00 p.m. or the specified time given by the Building Director.

Turbulent Weather Procedures

Watch television or listen to the radio for weather reports. Stay abreast of the situation. You will be notified of weather conditions. Remain Calm!

Listen for the civil defense sirens. These sirens are used in case of severe weather. They will sound continuously if dangerous weather conditions occur. Example: If the area civil defense feels there is danger of a tornado touching down the civil defense sirens will sound.

Each resident should keep personal essentials handy and prepared. This includes medication, a change of clothing and personal hygiene items.

When you learn of an emergency, respond as follows:

- Do not panic, get excited, or over react.
- Do not use elevators.
- Stay as quiet and calm as possible.
- Get a pillow and other essentials, and go to a bathroom or hallway area.
- Sit on the floor or in the bathtub with your back against the wall.
- Use the pillow to cover your face in case of flying glass and other objects.

Members of the residence hall staff will communicate information concerning weather conditions and published alerts to you. Please listen carefully and follow directions quickly.

Inter-Residence Hall Committee

The Inter Residence Hall Committee (IRHC) is comprised of residence hall full-time staff, resident assistants, and JSU students who reside in the residence hall. The chair of the committee is appointed by the Executive Director of Housing and Residence Life. The IRHC is responsible for adjudicating cases resulting from violations of the residence hall rules and regulations, which may include:

1. Roommate Disputes
2. Housing Violations
3. Illegal Visitation

Inter-Residence Hall Council Procedures

The Inter-Residence Hall Council (IRHC) has the responsibility to hold hearings for JSU students who reside on campus. Such violations may have occurred within and/or in the immediate vicinity of the residence hall. Sanctions may be imposed against violators found guilty by the Council, or violators may be referred to the Student Conduct Committee.

Membership

The council consists of one representative from each residence hall. The Building Director also appoints an alternate to serve in the principal representative's absence. Other members of the Council include appointed members of the residence hall staff.

Filing An Incident Report

Prior to filing charges with the IRHC, the following procedures will occur: depending on the nature of the offense, an "Incident Report" may be filed in lieu of the verbal warning and the written citation.

A verbal warning must be given to the student(s), citing the alleged violation of residence hall rules/regulations.

A second offense of the violation shall result in a written citation with one copy given to the student(s) and the other copy of the citation will be placed in the residence hall files. A subsequent violation (or continued disregard for residence hall rules and regulations) shall result in a written "Incident Report" submitted to the Director of Residence Life. The Report will state that the student has received prior warnings and give the specific date of those warnings.

Reports of incidents that involve members of the Campus Police will also be filed with the Director of Residence Life and should indicate that Campus Police assisted with the incident. This will minimize the duplication of cases heard by the IRHC and the Student Conduct Committee.

Violations

The JSU Student Handbook contains the rules and regulations of the living communities. Infractions of such rules, or interference with the rights of others to a peaceful and enjoyable living environment, may also subject a student to disciplinary actions. Depending on the severity of the incident and its potential to cause damage to self, others and University property, a decision will be made to refer the case to the Student Conduct Committee.

Sanctions

The following sanctions singularly, or in combination, may be imposed by the IRHC. Failure to comply with sanctions imposed by the IRHC by the designated time period may result in immediate suspension/forfeiture from the residence hall.

University/Community Service

The Inter-Residence Hall Council (IRHC), and/or the Executive Director of Housing and Residence Life may assign a student to perform service for a specific number of hours in a specific department, program, or activity within a designated time period. NOTE: Community Service hours completed to satisfy a student conduct sanction will not count toward the community service hours required for graduation.

Counseling

A Student who is in violation of a rule or regulation may be referred to the University Counseling Center.

Restitution/Fine

A student who has committed an offense against property may be required to reimburse the University or others for damages to or misappropriation of such property. Any such payment in restitution shall be limited to actual cost of repair or replacement. The IRHC may also impose a fine for violations that are not damages or for misappropriation of property. Charges for fines and restitution are charged to the student's Business Office account.

Warning

A University official, including residence hall staff members, may notify the student verbally, followed by a written warning, that continuation or repetition of specified conduct may be cause for disciplinary action.

Residence Hall Probation

A resident placed on residence hall probation is deemed not to be in good standing with the residence hall community. Continued residency depends on adherence to the rules, regulations and provisions of the Resident Student Handbook.

Restraints or Delegation

A resident may be placed under certain restraints regarding residence hall activities and privileges (loss of Co-ed Visitation, etc.) University Officials will determine delegation of duties for a time period.

Residence Hall Suspension and Forfeiture

A student suspended from the living communities may not reside, visit or make any use whatsoever of a residence hall facility or participate in any residence hall activity during the period for which the sanction is in effect. The residence hall student shall forfeit his/her fees including any unused portion thereof. Students may be given 48 hours or less to move off campus.

Due Process

The following procedures are given to students who have been charged with an infraction: The student(s) affected will be notified in writing of the charge(s) made against them and the time and place of his/her hearing. The letter of notification will be sent to the student's assigned residence hall (with receipt from attached) for hand delivery by a member of the residence hall staff and be dated at least three (3) days prior to the time the student(s) is to appear before the Council. In cases requiring immediate action as determined by the Council, notification will be given within 48 hours of the hearing.

- The letter of notification shall specifically inform the student that he or she may bring witnesses to the hearing to testify on his/her behalf.

- The student shall be permitted to face and question his accusers and witnesses against him/her at the hearing.
- A record of the hearing before the Council shall be made by the Council Recorder and filed with the Director of Housing Residence Life. The record should contain a recommendation of sanction(s) from the Council.
- The Director of Housing and Residence Life shall accept or modify the recommended sanction and inform the student of his/her decision in writing within five business days of the hearing.
- The student(s) affected has/have the right to appeal the decision of the Council to the Director of Housing and Residence Life. The request for an appeal hearing shall be written and submitted to the Director of Housing and Residence Life within two (2) business days after receiving the letter of sanction(s).
- The Director of Housing and Residence Life shall hear appeals. An appeal shall be based on the following: (1) New evidence; (2) New witness; (3) Failure of the Council to follow established procedures for hearing the case.

Council Meetings

The IRHC shall meet according to the following schedule:

- A. The council will meet bi-weekly (or as required by the number of cases) to hear cases to render a judgment in accordance with its duties and responsibilities.
- B. Hearings shall be held routinely on dates designated by the present members.
- C. The IRHC will convene in a location approved by the Executive Director of Residence Life.

Schedule of Fines and Fees

The schedule below enumerates certain standard fees and fines that may be assessed concurrent to, separate from, or without a finding from the University's conduct process. The schedule is not exhaustive because any violation of University rules or regulations may incur charges for restitution of damages and is subject to disciplinary action, which may include fines as a sanction.

Pets

For environmental health and safety reasons, animals such as cats, dogs, rabbits, rodents, birds, reptiles or insects of any type are not allowed in the living communities, unless such animal has been approved and authorized as a service or emotional support animal pursuant to University's policies. Feeding stray animals is prohibited. Students who keep animals in the living communities will be subject to a fine and/or disciplinary action.

EMOTIONAL SUPPORT ANIMAL POLICY

Students who require the use of a service animal on campus must contact Jackson State University Disability Service Center (DSC) to register and seek approval as a student requiring a reasonable accommodation. Information provided to DSC is confidential and specific information about the disability will not be released without the consent of the student.

Pets and any dangerous, poisonous, unregistered, unlicensed, and/or illegal animals are not permitted. Fish in aquariums of 20-gallon capacity or less are allowed in accordance with the Student Handbook.

IMPORTANT DEADLINES

The student should submit the Request for Emotional Support Animal in University Housing form on or before the following dates for the appropriate semester that the student will first move into on-campus-housing. Documentation may be submitted at any time, but after the deadline dates, the University may not be able to take into account a student's preference for assignment (such as area or roommate.)

SEMESTER	REGISTRATION BEGINS	DEADLINE DATE
Summer Session	March 15	May 1
Spring Semester	October 15	December 1

To make a reasonable accommodation for the student's needs, there may be certain situations where housing preferences (such as area or roommate requests) cannot be honored. If a student submits documentation after the dates indicated above, the student will be assigned to an appropriate room assignment as quickly as possible, when acceptable space can be determined. If a student is offered a change to the housing environment, an additional cost may be associated with the resulting assignment or requests. Any reasonable accommodation is considered, but the student must support the accommodation request with a documented need linked to his or her disabling condition.

The student will receive notification within one-two weeks after documentation is submitted that will include the accommodation letter. The student will be informed if the ESA as an accommodation has been approved, if a change in room assignment is appropriate, any associated room rate charges if applicable, and other associated information.

The reasonable accommodation takes effect once the determination is made, based upon space available. Documentation cannot be submitted for a future semester without having the assignment for the current semester updated – once a determination is made, the student's room assignment will be updated immediately.

The University reserves the right to reassign the student to a space to accommodate the student and the ESA, if there is a potential impact on the student's roommate(s). This move will only accommodate the student, and not the roommates(s).

A student may submit an appeal of the determination within fifteen (15) days of receiving the letter by following the established grievance procedure.

ONLINE DEGREE PROGRAMS

Jackson State University (JSU) has degree-granting authority from the State Institutions of Higher Learning Board of Trustees. The Board of Trustees of the State Institutions of Higher Learning authorizes JSU to award baccalaureate, master's, specialist, and doctorate degrees in various areas. As part of its trusted degree offerings, JSU offers online degree programs and courses. JSU participates in the National Council for State Authorization Reciprocity Agreements (NC-SARA) that approves distance education courses and programs offered across state lines by postsecondary institutions that already have degree authorization in at least one state. JSUOnline is actively engaged in online and distance education organizations to include: Online Learning Consortium (OLC), University Professional and Continuing Education Association (UPCEA), United States Distance Learning Association (USDLA), and WICHE Cooperative for Educational Technologies (WCET) to foster quality online teaching and learning, innovation and creativity in online education.

For a complete listing of JSUOnline programs, visit www.jsums.edu/jsuonline.

Learning Management System

Canvas is the Learning Management System (LMS) utilized for all courses offered by Jackson State University. The approved LMS supports learning in face-to-face, hybrid and online courses. Canvas is intended to support the instructional mission at Jackson State University.

Students who receive access to a Canvas account are responsible for all activities under the assigned account. Jackson State University prohibits students from sharing their account credentials (usernames or passwords) with anyone, and students are required to notify Information Technology immediately of any breach of security.

State Authorization for Distance Education

Jackson State University participates in the State Authorization Reciprocity Agreement (SARA), a voluntary agreement among its member states and U.S. territories that establishes comparable national standards for interstate offering of postsecondary distance-education courses and programs. It is intended to make it easier for students to take online courses offered by postsecondary institutions based in another state.

Professional Licensure

SARA approval does not extend to programs that lead to professional licensure. If you live outside the state of Mississippi and are considering a program that leads to licensure, contact the appropriate licensing board in your home state before applying to Jackson State University. The applicant's responsibility is to contact the appropriate licensing board in his or her home state to confirm whether or not the Jackson State University degree program will meet the state's licensure requirements.

JSUOnline Key Terms and Processes

Accessibility means that people with disabilities can perceive, understand, navigate, interact, and contribute to a course. In a distance-learning course, accessibility is determined by the features of the University's instructional technologies and how faculty members use those technologies to create materials and design courses.

Academic Performance

Student's academic performance is monitored throughout each semester. The student's academic performance is analyzed by retrieving data of the student's progression within the class. Students who are identified as "at-risk" students are contacted to discuss intervention strategies that may be appropriate to help the student succeed within the class.

Advising

Academic advising provides academic support for students in pursuit of their educational goals while ensuring that Jackson State's academic standards are upheld. Advisors can inform students as they make academic decisions, assist in preventing academic problems, help resolve academic issues, assist with making sure students are on the right path for graduation, and administer the academic appeal process. Students should become well acquainted with their academic advisor, as they provide the support that can lead to a steady improvement of their academic performance and satisfaction.

Advisors (JSUOnline and On-Campus Advisors) are available to assist with general questions about online and distance courses or to help you through the process of taking an online course. Various helpful resources are provided on JSUOnline and Jackson State University websites.

Asynchronous means not at the same time. Tools such as email and discussion boards allow participants to communicate without having to be online at the same time.

Synchronous means "occurring at the same time." Synchronous tools (e.g., text chat, audio chat, video chat, or Web conferencing) require all participants to be online at the same time.

Class Attendance occurs by the active participation of the students through the completion of class activities. Examples include submitting an assignment, completing an exam, attending an online chat, or posting to a discussion forum. Note: Simply logging into the course within Canvas does not satisfy attendance requirements.

Inactivity

Students are expected to start class on the first day that classes begin within the particular session. Students who do not participate and begin working within classes are considered "inactive." Students who are deemed inactive and have not produced any course activity by the fifth day of class will be dropped from the class and will not be reinstated.

Delivery Mode is the primary method or technology used to deliver instructional information to the student and used for communication between the instructor and the students. Methods of course delivery at JSU include the following:

- Online courses are taught 100% online using asynchronous and synchronous activities, which offers greater flexibility in scheduling and convenience of access to students. This method allows the students to accomplish the same learning outcomes and experience the same rigor achieved in traditional courses. Dates and times for required online synchronous activities are published in the instructor's weekly course schedule. At JSU, online courses include sections 70-72, 80-89, and 100-109.
- Canvas enhanced traditional courses are taught in a face-to-face classroom setting. The syllabus and other materials are posted online, and students may be asked to submit some work electronically. There is only a minimal amount of online activities, and the course meets primarily in the traditional classroom all semester. To ensure that the Canvas enhanced course is not substituting for traditional classroom meetings, the course instructor should exercise caution.
- Blended or Hybrid courses combine the best of traditional classroom instruction and online instruction. They may also use a combination of face-to-face instruction and online activities in Canvas or a publisher website. Students meet face-to-face for at least 51% of the scheduled course sections and complete the rest of their coursework online. It is not simply an online course that requires in-class exams. These courses allow faculty and students the opportunity to build strong personal relationships through face-to-face interaction and the chance to explore new types of learning activities that were not possible in traditional courses. Dates and times for required online synchronous activities are published in the instructor's weekly course schedule. At JSU, blended or hybrid courses include sections 60-69 and 79.
- Interactive video allows two-way video and audio exchanges between students and instructors located at two or more sites.
- Satellite is similar to the interactive video, but the video is one-way. The students can see the instructor, but the instructor cannot see the students.
- Telecourses allow the student to watch a pre-recorded video lesson, a pre-produced program broadcasted through cable TV, or visit a local viewing center to review lessons and lectures.

- Traditional courses are taught primarily face-to-face.

Instructional Technology is a key service of JSUOnline, which provides faculty professional development opportunities to identify and use various technologies to deliver course content.

Learning Management System ("LMS") is a web-accessible software application that provides for the administration of course content, delivery of assessments, communication and collaboration between students and instructors, and the ability to track grades and other relevant performance data. Jackson State is currently licensing Canvas™ from Canvas, Instructure as its learning management system.

Online students use a computer and the Internet to access course materials, including email, threaded discussions, simulations, multimedia, chat rooms, and more.

Registering for Courses

JSUOnline assists all undergraduate online degree students. Students enrolled in one of the graduate online degree programs should contact their major department. Alternate PINs are not generated for online degree students. Online degree students must be enrolled by his/her academic advisor only. Curriculum evaluations are included as an attachment, within an email, with each semester enrollment. Graduate Students will need to contact their academic advisor within the respective department. As a new admit, each student is required to contact the respective academic advisor for enrollment. As a continuing online degree student, an Enrollment Verification Form is sent each semester to the Jackson State University student email only. According to the submitted verification form request, a list will be given to each academic advisor for enrollment.

Withdraw or Drop a Course

Students seeking assistance or needing to drop or withdraw from a class should contact their JSUOnline academic advisor. Students should adhere to the JSUOnline Online Degree Program Calendar, located on the JSUOnline's website, for important dates.

Withdrawal from the University

Students seeking assistance to withdraw from the University before the end of the term should contact their JSUOnline academic advisor. The student must complete a withdrawal form or provide written notification to their JSUOnline academic advisor for official withdrawal.

Official Withdrawal

The withdrawal date for a student who ceases enrollment prior to the end of the term will be the date the student begins the withdrawal process. The official withdrawal is processed through the Registrar's Office.

Unofficial Withdrawal

The withdrawal date for a student who ceases enrollment (stops attending) before the end of the term will be the documented date by the Institution. The Registrar's Office is responsible for determining the last date of attendance reported by faculty and Student Life.

For a student who does not receive passing grade at the end of the term, the Institution must determine and document whether the student completed the enrollment period. If the student did not meet the enrollment period, the Institution must evaluate and confirm the last date of attendance. The Registrar's Office is responsible for determining the last date of attendance reported by the faculty or Student Affairs.

The Latasha Norman Center for Counseling Services

The Latasha Norman Center for Counseling Services (LNC) is a mental health and victim services provider for JSU students, faculty, and staff. Services include brief individual and couple psychotherapy, group counseling, crisis counseling/intervention, and on-call rotations. LNC also provides outreach programming and in-service training to the campus and surrounding communities on issues related to mental health and interpersonal violence. Additionally, LNC offers volunteer and service-learning opportunities for undergraduate students, as well as internship opportunities for graduate students. The center has implemented a Peer Educator Program for students to become involved in addressing mental health and interpersonal violence concerns from a student's perspective. Peer Educators also assist LNC staff in advocating for mental health and interpersonal violence awareness.

LNC was erected in 2007, in honor of Latasha D. Norman, a JSU student who died as a result of domestic violence. The center operates Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. On-call staff are available after hours on an as-needed basis. Please contact Public Safety at 601-979-2580 to have a counselor contacted, if needed after hours. LNC is located in the JSU Student Center, 2nd floor, Suite 2102. The Center's telephone number is 601-979-0374. Beginning Fall 2021, LNC will resume in-person sessions. However, phone and video sessions will remain as alternative options for receiving services. Self-help resources are available at www.jsums.edu/latashanormancenter.

Missing Student Notification Policy

This policy was established in compliance with the Higher Education Opportunity Act of 2008, to provide students with procedures and information for reporting a missing person. The policy applies specifically to residential students.

Definitions

A. Residential Student: a student who resides in on-campus housing under a housing contract/lease and is currently enrolled at the University.

B. Missing: A residential student may be considered missing if she or he is overdue in reaching home, campus or another specific location past the expected arrival, additional factors lead University staff to believe he or she is missing, and a check of the student's residence hall assignment supports that determination.

Confidential Contact Person

Residential students who are 18 years of age or older or who are emancipated minors have the option, upon moving into the residence hall, to identify a specific contact person who will be notified within 24 hours if that student has been reported missing. The identity of that contact person will remain confidential with the exception of law enforcement and staff designated to respond to missing person reports.

For residential students under the age of 18 and not emancipated, the University is required to notify a custodial parent or guardian within 24 hours of the time a student is reported missing.

Notification Procedures for Missing Persons

If a residential student is believed to be missing, a report should be made to one of the following:

- Residence Hall Director
- Department of Public Safety

When reporting a missing person, be prepared to provide the following information:

- Your name & contact information
- Name of missing student
- Any/all contact information for the student
- Time & date last seen
- Location last seen
- Last known destination
- Names of acquaintances
- Any additional information that may be important in helping to locate the missing person

When a report is made to the residence hall staff, The Department of Public Safety will be contacted immediately and cooperative efforts will be made. Cooperative efforts may include:

- Welfare check of the missing student's residence hall room
- Contact attempts via cell phone, e-mail, social media, or other means
- Identification of and contact with other individuals who may have knowledge of the missing student's whereabouts

The Department of Public Safety will gather all essential information related to the missing student and conduct a thorough investigation. No later than 24 hours after the missing person report is first received, the Department of Public Safety, in conjunction with Student Affairs personnel, will notify the student's designated contact or (for persons under 18 years of age and not emancipated) the student's parent or guardian to inform them that the resident student is believed to be missing.

Regardless of the student's age, emancipation status or whether the student has designated a contact person, University police will, within 24 hours of the report, notify the local law enforcement agency with jurisdiction in the area where the student is missing.

All inquiries by the media or the general public regarding missing persons will be referred to University Communications. All public statements will be coordinated through that office.

Notification Procedures for Missing Persons Living off Campus

Upon notification from any person that a Jackson State University student may be missing, the university staff member receiving the information should refer the matter immediately to the Department of Public Safety at (601) 979-2580.

Officers will respond to reports of missing students in a timely manner. It is the policy of the Jackson State University Department of Public Safety to thoroughly investigate reports of all missing persons.

If a student is not located, the Department of Public Safety will file a Missing Persons Report with the state of Mississippi and contact any emergency contact persons listed. This information would be disseminated through Jackson State University's emergency response system. The Department of Public Safety will continue an open investigation and advise local law enforcement.

For questions or inquiries, please contact Public Safety at (601) 979-2580 or the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs at (601) 979-2241.

Procedure on Death of a Student

Intent: In the event of a student death, the University community must respond with compassion, thoroughness, and most importantly, with a measure of dignity toward the student and his/her family and friends. The purpose of this policy is to establish certain responsibilities concerning the required notifications to the various campus administrative and service departments in the event of the death of a student and to coordinate such actions expeditiously and sensitively with regard to the emotional needs of the family, relatives, and friends of the deceased.

This policy is intended to assist University personnel who gain first knowledge of such situations and those who by title or by delegation of responsibility become involved in the numerous and necessary University activities borne of such unfortunate events. Such a process also shall ease the administrative burden of other University offices and address the needs of the student and his/her family in a timely manner.

Definition(s)

JSU Student: For the purpose of this procedure, a JSU Student is defined as one who is currently enrolled at JSU or, during the recess period between semesters or the summer period, one who has completed the immediately preceding term and is eligible for re-enrollment. This also includes non-matriculating students (i.e. transient students).

On-Campus Student Death: The death of a JSU student shall be regarded as having occurred on campus if it occurs on University property, including any University owned, University operated or University maintained property; on the premises of an organization or group officially recognized by the University; or in connection with an official University function.

Procedure

I. RESPONDING TO A STUDENT DEATH

A. When a JSU Student Death Occurs On Campus

In the event of an On-Campus Student Death, the Department of Public Safety should attempt to notify the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs or designee, as well as all other parties outlined in the chain of command within the department.

In the event the death occurs while the student is undergoing medical care at the JSU Health Center, the staff of the Health Center should immediately contact the Department of Public Safety and the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs or designee.

B. When a JSU Student Death Occurs Off-Campus

In the event of a JSU student's death occurring off-campus, the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs or designee should be notified as soon as campus staff or faculty receives information about the death. The Associate Vice President for Student Affairs or designee will then confirm the passing of the student. In cases where the death is recent or may be expected to have a significant adverse impact on the campus community, all matters concerning the death shall be referred to the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs or designee for coordination.

In all cases, when a member of the University community learns of a student's death, he/she should contact the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs or designee via e-mail or by telephone at 601-979-2241 during business hours. If after hours, the Department of Public Safety should be contacted at 601-979-2580. The Department of Public Safety will immediately notify the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs or designee, as well as follow the proper chain of command within the department. The Associate Vice President for Student Affairs or designee will notify all necessary divisions, departments, units, and campus entities.

If possible, when reporting the death of a student, the following information should be provided by e-mail to the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs or designee:

1. Name of deceased student;
2. Student's J number (if known);
3. Date and approximate time of death;
4. Circumstances surrounding the death;
5. Source of notification of the student's death (friend, call from family, media, etc.);
6. Whether the deceased student was a resident on campus;
7. Whether the death occurred at Campus Housing; and a
8. Copy of the obituary or article related to death (if available).

STUDENT ASSISTANCE POLICY

I. STATEMENT OF POLICY

Jackson State University (“the University”) recognizes that from time to time individuals on campus will exhibit signs of mental or emotional disturbances reflective of a mental health condition that may endanger the individual, other persons, or University property. It is impractical, undesirable, and possibly illegal for the University to exert the level of custodial control over the student population sufficient to prevent all incidents of harm resulting from mental health conditions, but the University is committed to creating a reasonably safe learning environment supportive of individuals with mental-health issues while protecting the physical safety of those individuals, other persons, and University property.

II. CHARACTERISTICS OF INDIVIDUALS AT RISK

For University staff, the goal is to identify and report behavior that may suggest an increased risk of an individual harming oneself, or others and not the diagnosis of mental illness. Only professional staff acting in their professional capacity should attempt to diagnose any student. University staff should not improperly confine the individual and should avoid creating a highly-controlled custodial care environment. University staff should avoid doing anything that could likely increase the risk of harm. Three additional preventive measures are listed below:

A. Preventive Measures

- a. Students should be informed about the resources available to help them manage the stresses of campus life;
- b. A periodic review of the physical campus environment for features or physical dangers likely to attract an individual seeking to harm him or herself such as tall buildings, bridges, sites of previous attempts, or other physical dangers is recommended; and
- c. Professors in programs that may inadvertently create opportunities for students to disclose suicidal thoughts (freshman composition, psychology courses, etc.) should be informed about available campus resources and be encouraged to consult immediately with professional staff i.e. Latasha Norman Center for Counseling and Disability Services or Applied Psychological Service Clinic when they receive any troubling disclosure from a student. It is better to consult with professional staff rather than ignoring risk factors or trying to manage the situation without professional advice.

B. Exhibited Characteristics

The following characteristics may be exhibited by individuals at-risk for mental deterioration:

- a. An inability to communicate effectively with others under normal conditions;
- b. An inability to consistently abide by University rules and regulations and/or laws in general. Examples include: threatening behavior, creating danger to one’s self or others, and destruction of University property; and
- c. Exhibiting constant or sporadic behavior which causes disruption to the normal activity of the University community or which may result in potential or actual danger to one’s self or others. Non-inclusive examples include sudden episodes of belligerent behavior and an inability to accept reasonable explanations.

C. Suicide

The following are some classic signs which indicate a risk of suicide:

- a. Verbal or written expressions that family members, students, or teachers do not care or that life is not worth living;
- b. The world would be better if the individual was dead or gone;
- c. Suddenly giving away personal belongings;
- d. Heavy drug and alcohol use;
- e. Substantial drop in academic performance; and
- f. Loss of attention to personal appearance, friends, and social activities.

III. CAMPUS ASSESSMENT AND INTERVENTION TEAM (CAIT)

The University has a Campus Assessment and Intervention Team (CAIT). The CAIT is a multi-disciplinary group of professionals who meet on a regular basis to support the safe and effective functioning of the campus community. The team proactively provides centralized, coordinated, and supportive intervention for behaviorally at-risk students, as well as students with severe medical conditions. Through collaborative consultation, CAIT develops strategies to address students' behavior that is disruptive/threatening or potentially harmful to self and/or others. Additionally, CAIT serves as the assessment team for medical conditions which may lead to a medical withdrawal. The team assesses each situation and determines the best plan for support, intervention, warning/notification and response. The team consists of, but is not limited to, the following entities:

1. Dean of Students
2. Public Safety
3. University Health Center
4. Disability Services
5. Applied Psychological Services Clinic
6. Latasha Norman Counseling Center
7. Any other pertinent staff members

Procedure

The actual procedure for handling situations involving “at risk” students is as follows:

1. An “At-Risk” situation will be defined as any situation where a student is thought to qualify for involuntary evaluation. Involuntary evaluation does not mean the student will be forced to submit to an evaluation, but does mean that the student may face involuntary withdrawal, as explained below within this policy, for failure to consent or comply with the evaluation.
2. In case of a threat of harm to self or others, Public Safety will be called first, followed by the University Health Center and the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs or designee.
3. If the student is not a threat to self or others, but may need a mental health evaluation, the point of contact will be the University Health Center and the Latasha Norman Center for Counseling.
4. Transportation to the University Health Center and/or other facility for the student will be provided by Public Safety when staffing is available.
5. Public Safety will notify the appropriate CAIT member as specified below.
6. The CAIT member will make the necessary assessment of the situation, complete his or her evaluation, and make appropriate recommendations. Non-inclusive examples of recommendations include incarceration (by Police only), counseling, interim suspension/emergency interim withdrawal, referral for treatment, or send student for further evaluation.
 - 6.1 At-Risk students, if referred to the University Health Center, will be evaluated by the University Physician for further evaluation, medical treatment, or referral.
 - 6.2 To receive any University health services, the student must be a registered student. Thus, if the student is graduating or planning to discontinue attendance at the University, it is important that the student notify the University Health Center several months in advance so that suitable arrangements for follow-up care can be made. Only a nurse practitioner, physician, or therapist from the University Health Center or Applied Psychological Services Clinic may refer the student to a psychiatrist on behalf of the University.
 - 6.3 If emergency medication is needed, the University physician or nurse practitioner should be notified so that prescriptions can be written.
 - 6.4 The student may be referred to the Latasha Norman Center for Counseling or Applied Psychological Services Clinic for individual therapy on a one-on-one basis to discuss individual concerns. The individual therapy is of a short-term nature and includes crisis intervention services.
 - 6.5 When appointments for the Latasha Norman Center for Counseling or Applied Psychological Services Clinic are closed, members of the CAIT should be notified so that an alternative source of care can be made.
 - 6.6 Any leave from class must be approved by the University physician or nurse practitioner as well as comply with any other applicable University policies for leave.
7. If a written or verbal request is made to return to classes after having been out for a period of medical leave, the individual must provide documentation, from the agency providing rehabilitative, mental health, or medical services, stating that the individual is competent to function in a normal manner in the University environment. In turn, the University physician will review the documentation and make a decision from a medical standpoint. Lastly, the CAIT review committee will assess all contributing factors, in order to make the final decision for a student to return. The decision of the CAIT review committee is final.

3. The University Health Center, Latasha Norman Center for Counseling, and Applied Psychological Services Clinic makes every attempt to maintain confidentiality of a patient's medical records. Information is not released to anyone outside of the University Health Center without written permission, except as required by law.

IV. WITHDRAWALS FOR PSYCHOLOGICAL REASONS

The University's withdrawal policy for psychological reasons is set forth for the purpose of maintaining a campus environment that is conducive to learning, protects the University's educational purposes, maintains reasonable order on campus, and protects the rights and safety of all members of the University community. Appropriate action may be taken based upon the student's behavior and an assessment of the potential risk to the student and others. No action should be based upon a student's perceived or actual disability alone.

A. Scope of the Policy

This policy covers certain behaviors described below under the section entitled "Involuntary Withdrawals" that occur on University Premises and/or at University-sponsored activities but may also address off-campus behavior if the University determines that the behavior, or the continued presence of the student, impairs, obstructs, interferes with or adversely affects the mission, processes or functions of the University in a substantial and identifiable way. "Student" includes any person enrolled for courses through or at the University, both full-time and part-time, and those who attend educational institutions other than the University who reside in University residential communities. The policy also extends to any person who is not officially enrolled for a particular term, but whose University record indicates a continuing relationship with the University, or any person who has been accepted into the University, but has not yet enrolled for courses.

B. Voluntary Withdrawals

If the student is eligible for and wishes to pursue voluntary withdrawal, a member of the CAIT or other appropriate University designee will:

1. Counsel the student regarding voluntary withdrawal;
2. Consult with the student's academic unit and other units as appropriate;
3. Discuss the circumstances with the student's family, as appropriate (see section "Involving Essential Parties" below);
4. Refer the student to appropriate resources for evaluation or treatment; and
5. Initiate voluntary withdrawal.

C. Involuntary Withdrawals

An involuntary administrative withdrawal is not a substitute for appropriate disciplinary action under the Student Code of Conduct. It should not be used to dismiss socially or emotionally "eccentric" students or otherwise inhibit legal free expression as long as the particular student does not otherwise meet the standards for withdrawal as specified in this section. Involuntary withdrawals should only be initiated after reasonable attempts have been made to secure voluntary cooperation for a psychological evaluation or voluntary withdrawal. An involuntary withdrawal is appropriate where the student falls under the scope of this policy and he or she does not adhere to reasonable conditions established for his or her continued presence on campus or in Housing and Residence Life.

In certain situations, where the disruptions from a mental health condition are deemed to be of a temporary nature, a medical suspension or leave of absence may be considered as opposed to withdrawal. Eligibility and limitations for a leave of absence are not addressed under this policy. Care should always be given to ensure that an individual with a disability is not being excluded from participation or being denied the benefits of the University's services, or otherwise subjected to discrimination, by reason of that individual's disability status as opposed to focusing upon the individual's actions and community safety.

In accordance with University policy and applicable federal and state laws prohibiting discrimination based on disability, a student may be involuntarily withdrawn from the University and/or Housing and Residence Life, either temporarily or permanently, if it is determined that a student suffers from a mental disorder as determined by a medical professional and as a result of the disorder:

1. Engages, or threatens to engage in behavior which poses a danger of causing physical harm to self or others, and/or

2. Engages, or threatens to engage, in behavior which would cause significant property damage, which directly and substantially impedes the lawful activities of other members of the University, and/or
3. Demonstrates an inability to satisfy personal needs such that there is a reasonable possibility that serious physical harm or death might occur within a short period of time, and/or
4. Commits violations of the University rules and regulations and lacks the capacity to participate in the University's disciplinary process or otherwise is incapable of understanding the nature or wrongfulness of the conduct at the time of the offense, and/or
5. The significant risk to the health or safety of the student or other students cannot be eliminated by a reasonable modification of policies, practices, procedures, or the provision of auxiliary aids or services. Determinations of possible accommodations should be based upon an individualized assessment to ascertain the nature, duration, severity of the risk, the probability that the potential injury will occur, and whether reasonable modifications could mitigate the risk.

D. Procedure for Involuntary Withdrawals

When it appears that a student's behavior falls under the purview of this policy, an initial interview should take place between the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs or designee and the student. This will not be possible in all situations and the section below entitled "Emergency Interim Withdrawals" may be more appropriate in certain emergency situations.

During the initial interview, the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs or designee should:

1. Determine if the student's behavior does not meet the standard for involuntary withdrawal so that the process under this section may be terminated. If warranted, the student's conduct will be handled by the regular disciplinary process;
2. Require the student to schedule an evaluation by a qualified, licensed mental health professional within five calendar days. The psychological evaluation report should address:
 - 2.1 The student's ability to function in the University environment and live in student housing, if applicable,
 - 2.2 The student's potential threat to himself/herself or the University community; and
 - 2.3 Any recommendations for continued treatment;
3. Allow a student who meets the conditions for involuntary withdrawal to voluntarily withdraw from the University and waive the right to further procedures under this policy. If future reenrollment at the University is an option, conditions necessary for consideration of reenrollment should be provided to the student in writing through the voluntary withdrawal process. The student will also be required to provide documentation from an agency documenting treatment, recommendations, etc.

V. EMERGENCY INTERIM WITHDRAWAL

An emergency interim withdrawal—the term being synonymous with emergency suspension—may be implemented immediately by a CAIT member, after approval by the Vice President for Student Affairs or designee, if the Response Team member reasonably believes that the student may be suffering from a mental disorder and there is reason to believe that the student's behavior poses a substantial threat of harm to oneself or others, threatens or endangers University property, or disrupts the stability and continuance of normal University operations and functions.

A student may be notified of the emergency interim withdrawal either orally or in writing. It takes effect immediately upon the day it is issued. A student withdrawn on an emergency interim basis will be given the opportunity to meet with a CAIT member or the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs or designee, thereof within forty-eight hours from the effective date of the emergency interim withdrawal to discuss the following issues only:

1. The reliability of the information concerning the student's behavior; or
2. Whether the student's continued presence on campus poses a substantial threat of harm to oneself or others, threatens or endangers University property, or disrupts the stability and continuance of normal University operations and functions.

At the conclusion of the meeting, the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs or designee may either uphold or cancel the interim emergency withdrawal. Regardless of whether the emergency interim withdrawal is upheld or cancelled, the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs or designee will direct the CAIT to continue with the involuntary administrative withdrawal process as outlined in this policy. However, if the interim emergency withdrawal is to remain in effect, the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs or designee will make every effort to expedite the process in an effort to minimize any possible negative impact on the student.

VI. MEDICAL OR ADMINISTRATIVE WITHDRAWAL PROCEDURES

If a student is medically or administratively withdrawn from the University, the student will receive a letter via e-mail from the Dean of Students. Medical withdrawals are not granted on a retroactive basis. It must occur within a current semester. Administrative withdrawals are equivalent to medical withdrawals. However, it occurs when classes are not currently in session (such as institution breaks when the institution remains open). The official document will outline the effective medical or administrative withdrawal date, as well as the required plan of treatment, which must be completed, in order for the student to be evaluated for reinstatement. A written request must be made to the Dean of Students to return to classes after having been out for a period of time due to a medical or administrative withdrawal. The student must provide documentation on letterhead from the agency providing rehabilitative, medical, or mental health services, stating that the individual is competent to function in a productive manner in the University environment. In turn, the University physician will review the documentation and make a decision from a medical standpoint. Lastly, the CAIT review committee will assess all contributing factors, in order to make the final decision for a student to return. Once the documentation is received, the CAIT review committee will make a decision within seven (7) business days. The decision of the CAIT review committee is final.

VII. TRANSCRIPTS AND REFUNDS

A student who under this policy is allowed to voluntarily withdraw or who is involuntarily withdrawn may request a refund of tuition, fees, housing payments and any other amounts. Refunds will be made in accordance with applicable University policies and procedures. Being medically or administratively withdrawn does not automatically dismiss a student's financial obligation to the University. This decision is determined by the Business Office's review of the Academic Calendar, along with the University fee schedule. If a student has been living in the on-campus residential communities and will not continue to do so, the contract will be canceled and fees refunded on a pro-rated basis.

A student who withdraws voluntarily under this policy without completing a specific course should receive a mark (i.e., "W") on his or her transcripts without a special indication of having left for medical reasons. Further, students are prohibited from receiving official transcripts during an active medical or administrative withdrawal period.

VIII. RETURNING FROM MEDICAL OR ADMINISTRATIVE WITHDRAWAL

IX. INVOLVING ESSENTIAL PARTIES

In some circumstances, the University may notify the parents/guardians of the student and appropriate University officials, including academic deans and faculty, of the potentially serious nature of the situation. However, University staff should not disclose confidential medical or educational records, or information gathered through access to such confidential records, even to a student's family members if the student is not a minor, does not consent to release the information, and there is not a direct imminent risk of harm. Therefore, if a staff member believes that disclosing information to a student's family members is appropriate, an attempt should always first be made to elicit the student's consent. If the student will not consent, one should attempt to find out why the student does not want his or her family involved because there may be a legitimate reason why informing the student's family could increase the risk of harm to the student or others.

X. MEDICAL AND EDUCATIONAL RECORDS

Absences for medical reasons are not excused automatically. Students are urged to submit documentation immediately.

A student's medical records are generally protected from disclosure absent his or her consent or waiver by virtue of the physician-patient privilege as well as other statutory laws. The University may require either (1) the student to sign the appropriate release forms to allow designated staff at the University to consult with clinicians serving the student for the purpose of evaluating the student's ability to function in the University community under this policy, or (2) otherwise be provided with a complete copy of all medical documents or opinions reflective of the student's ability to function in the University community under this policy. The University will treat these records as confidential and only disclose them to University officials as necessary to make informed decisions regarding the just and responsible application of this policy, or as otherwise required by law.

The release of educational records (or personally identifiable information contained therein other than directory information and distinguished from medical records) is subject to the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act which prevents disclosure without the written consent of the student or, if the student is a minor, the written consent of a student's parent. "Records" include electronic information that is directly related to the individual student. An educational record does not include records made or maintained by a physician acting in his or her official capacity or records made, maintained, or used only in connection with treatment of the student where those records are disclosed only to individuals providing the treatment. An exception to the non-disclosure of educational records exists where knowledge of such information is necessary to protect the health or safety of the student or other persons in connection with an emergency. Such disclosure is limited only to the appropriate necessary persons particular to the facts of each situation. Information pertaining to conduct that poses a significant risk to the safety or well-being of that student, other students, or other members of the school community may be disclosed to school officials or faculty within the institution who have a legitimate educational interest in the behavior of the student as determined by the institution. Other schools that have been determined to have a legitimate educational interest in the student's behavior may also be informed if a significant risk to safety exists.

XI. ADDITIONAL GUIDELINES

1. In emergency situations, Public Safety should be notified immediately.
2. Reasonable deviation from these procedures due to a crisis and/or emergency will not invalidate a decision or proceeding unless significant prejudice to a student may result.
3. In general, the regular student disciplinary system and its policies are preferred in the adjudication of serious instances of misconduct, without regard to whether there might be a mental disorder present. However, this medical withdrawal policy may be activated prior to issuance of a disciplinary determination where the reason for the student's objectionable behavior appears to be a medical reason subject to this policy. This policy does not supplant any academic performance or discipline-based withdrawal policies maintained by academic units. A medical withdrawal is not considered a disciplinary action, although a prior medical withdrawal may be considered in subsequent conduct hearings involving the student.

XI. SUGGESTIONS DURING A CRISIS

While it is difficult to generalize about responses during the time of crisis, the following are suggestions once it is determined that assistance will be needed:

1. Stay Calm.
2. Notify the Public Safety at (601) 979 – 2580 and provide the following information: your name, precise location, observed symptoms of behavior, and individual's name if known.
3. Until help arrives, be pleasant, considerate, and understanding so as to avoid aggravating the situation.
4. Do not argue with the individual. Try to determine and accept the individual's point of view. Do not confront/detain the individual if violent/combative. Emergency detention and protective custody should be alternatives only available to police officers.
5. If possible, have someone meet Public Safety at the entrance to the building and provide up-to-date information.
6. For a psychological crisis of lesser intensity, mediation and encouragement for the student to voluntarily seek counseling.

STUDENT DECORUM POLICY

Jackson State University's core values include tradition, accountability, learning, nurturing, service, and responsibility. JSU believes that free expression is indispensable to the safeguarding of these values and that personal expression must be encouraged with only those limitations that are necessary to promote the University's mission for the benefit of all of its students.

The Jackson State University Student Handbook sets forth expectations and guidelines for appropriate student decorum, and this policy is put in place as a supplement to clarify and extend the dress code. JSU is committed to fostering an educational environment that, consistent with its academic freedom and mission, prepares its students for success in the classroom and later in their careers. JSU may expect students to adhere to generally accepted standards of conduct. Actions that substantially interfere with the requirements of appropriate discipline or otherwise substantially interfere with the University's educational mission or the rights of other students may be regulated.

This Decorum Policy shall be applied without discrimination in regard to the viewpoint embodied in a student's dress or language, and it shall be applied to all students on an equal basis. Further, this policy is limited in time and place to University events, functions and educational facilities, specifically including classrooms. It is strongly encouraged, but not required, that these guidelines be followed elsewhere in an effort to provide a positive representation of ourselves and the University to the best of our abilities. Administrators, faculty, and staff members who observe student behavior proscribed by this Decorum Policy should report any such disregard or violations to the Dean of Students Office.

Prohibited Dress

Dress standards promote learning by establishing expectations that will reduce educational distractions as well as help prepare students for later success. These restrictions are minimum requirements that will result in a warning or student conduct action if not followed. The University expects and strongly encourages its students to adhere to the higher standards of appropriate dress on campus and at University events as recommended in the Student Handbook.

Prohibited dress shall include all lewd or obscene clothing and attire as well as any clothing or gear that, substantially interferes with the effectiveness of the educational environment and mission. Lewd or obscene dress shall include attire or the lack thereof that leaves visible an area of the body that traditionally within the locality has been considered private and indecent to expose publicly, and that also lacks artistic or creative value within a particular University curriculum. Traditional private areas shall mean the breasts, buttocks, or areas proximate to the reproductive organs. Dress or gear that substantially interferes with the educational environment may vary depending on the curriculum and context, but may include items that make distracting noises, such as music players, or attire that creates a visual obstruction to others. The only exemption to this dress code exists in the case of a student who, due to a medical condition or properly identified disability, requires such accommodation. Such accommodation, if reasonable, should be attempted with an effort to minimize any negative effect on the educational environment. This policy applies equally and without regard to the religious or secular nature of the attire.

Some examples of inappropriate dress and/or appearance include, but are not limited to the following:

Midriffs, tube, mesh, or netted tops (where skin/body parts may be exposed)

Extremely short shorts (exposing private body parts)

Hair bonnets/Scarves

"Du rags"

House shoes

Visible underclothing

Speech in violation of State or Federal Law

Illegal speech is also prohibited. Language usage can violate specific laws depending on the context. Some examples of such laws include disturbing the peace, intimidation, stalking, harassment, defamation, or libel.

Litter-Free Campus

Jackson State University takes great pride in the beauty of our campus. Littering is strictly prohibited and a violation of the University. Littering shall include, among other things, the throwing of debris such as cigarette butts, food wrappers, paper, cans, bottles, or other trash on the ground.

No student shall intentionally dispose of refuse of any kind in or near any building owned or operated by the University except in receptacles provided for that purpose. Intentionally discarding such will be seen and adjudicated as a violation of the University Littering Policy. Fines may be imposed in an amount not to exceed two hundred dollars ($200.00).

Student Decorum Policy Student Conduct Procedure

Documented violations of this policy may result in a $50.00 fine, which will be placed on the student's account.

SEXUAL MISCONDUCT POLICY

I. INTRODUCTION

It is the policy of Jackson State University (“University”) not to discriminate against any person on the basis of gender in violation of any applicable law, including but not limited to, Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (42 U.S.C. §§ 2000e), the Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 and relevant sections of the Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act. This prohibition against gender based discrimination extends to all University educational programs and activities, as well as to admission into such programs and activities.

The University is committed to fostering a positive working and educational environment in which there exists mutual respect for all University students, faculty, and staff. Harassment of employees or students based upon sex is inconsistent with this objective and contrary to the University policy of equal employment and academic opportunity without regard to race, color, national origin, sex, age, or disability. Sexual misconduct is a violation of this policy, and will not be tolerated within the University. Any employee or student who violates this policy will be subject to disciplinary action up to and possibly including separation from the University.

Title IX is a landmark federal civil right that prohibits sex discrimination in education. Title IX is not just about sports; it is a prohibition against sex-based discrimination in education. It addresses sexual harassment, gender-based discrimination, and sexual violence. Sexual misconduct includes attempted or completed rape or sexual assault, as well as sexual harassment, stalking, voyeurism, exhibitionism, verbal or physical sexuality based threats or abuse, dating and domestic violence.

Members of the University Community who believe that this policy has been violated are strongly encouraged to report the allegations as promptly as possible. There is no time limit on reporting or filing complaints of violations of this policy, although JSU’s ability to respond fully may be limited with the passage of time.

II. SCOPE OF THE POLICY

This policy applies to all University community members, regardless of the sexual orientation, gender expression, or gender identity of the parties involved, including students, faculty, staff, visitors, and independent contractors, as well as those who participate in the University’s programs and activities, whether on or off campus, including study-away programs. Any such individual may make a report under this policy. Vendors, independent contractors, visitors, and others who conduct business with the University or on University property are also expected to comply with this policy; complaints against such University affiliates will be handled in accordance with existing contracts and agreements. The University will respond promptly and equitably to all allegations of sexual misconduct involving a University community member and will provide resource options for complainants of alleged sexual misconduct. The University will consider any requests for confidentiality within the context of the University’s obligation to provide a safe, nondiscriminatory environment for all community members. Further details on how requests for confidentiality are handled in cases of sexual misconduct may be found in the “Reports to a Confidential Resource” section of this policy. Pursuant to the requirements of Title IX, the University has an independent responsibility to investigate (apart from any separate criminal investigation by law enforcement) and address sexual misconduct, even in the absence of a complaint by the alleged complainant.

III. TITLE IX COORDINATOR

The University’s Title IX Coordinator may be reached by e-mail at titleix@jsums.edu or phone at (601) 979-1315. The Title IX Coordinator is responsible for ensuring that Jackson State University establishes and follows a prompt, thorough, and equitable process for addressing allegations of sexual misconduct and discrimination or differential treatment based on sex. The Title IX Coordinator is responsible for providing centralized support for compliance with all requirements under Title IX of the Education Amendments Act of 1972 (Title IX), the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security 99

Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act (Clery Act), the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA), and other federal and state laws and regulations pertaining to sex discrimination, harassment, and sexual violence. The Title IX Coordinator serves as the University resource on Title IX requirements and compliance and provides consultation as needed. The university no longer use the “single investigator model” The Title IX Coordinator is responsible for receiving the reports of a sexual assault and forwarding the complaint to an investigator.

IV. PROHIBITED CONDUCT AND DEFINITIONS

“Sexual misconduct” is a broad, non-legal term that encompasses a wide range of behaviors, including but not limited to, sexual harassment, sex/gender discrimination, sexual assault, rape, acquaintance rape, stalking, and relationship violence (including dating and domestic violence). It is a violation of University policy as well as applicable law to commit or to attempt to commit these acts.

Sexual misconduct can occur between strangers or acquaintances, or people who know each other well, including between people who are or have been involved in an intimate or sexual relationship. It can be committed by anyone, regardless of gender or gender identity, and can occur between people of the same or different sex or gender. This Policy prohibits all forms of sexual misconduct.

A. Sexual Assault (including Rape).

Sexual assault is actual or attempted sexual contact with another person without that person’s consent. Sexual assault includes, but is not limited to:

- Intentional touching of another person’s intimate parts without that person’s consent; or
- Other intentional sexual contact with another person without that person’s consent; or
- Coercing, forcing, or attempting to coerce or force a person to touch another person’s intimate parts without that person’s consent; or
- Rape, which is penetration, no matter how slight, of (1) the vagina or anus of a person by any body part of another person or by an object, or (2) the mouth of a person by a sex organ of another person, without that person’s consent.

B. Sex Offenses

Any sexual act directed against another person, without the consent of the victim, including instances where the victim is incapable of giving consent. A. Fondling—The touching of the private body parts of another person for the purpose of sexual gratification, without the consent of the victim, including instances where the victim is incapable of giving consent because of his/her age or because of his/her temporary or permanent mental incapacity. B. Incest—Sexual intercourse between persons who are related to each other within the degrees wherein marriage is prohibited by law. C. Statutory Rape—Sexual intercourse with a person who is under the statutory age of consent.

C. Sexual Harassment

Sexual Harassment is any unwelcome conduct that a reasonable person would find so severe, pervasive and objectively offensive that it denies a person equal educational access. Reports of sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence and stalking do not need to meet the description of “severe, pervasive and objectively offensive. Conduct is considered “unwelcome” if the person did not request or invite it and considered the conduct to be undesirable or offensive. Sexual harassment includes any conduct or incident that is sufficiently serious that it is likely to limit or deny a student’s ability to participate in or benefit from the University’s educational programs or a faculty or staff member’s ability to work, which may include a single incident of sexual assault or other serious sexual misconduct.

D. Sexual Exploitation.

Sexual exploitation occurs when a person takes sexual advantage of another person for the benefit of anyone other than that person without that person's consent.

Examples of behavior that could rise to the level of sexual exploitation include:

- Recording images (e.g., video, photograph) or audio of another person's sexual activity, intimate body parts, or nakedness without that person's consent;
- Distributing images (e.g., video, photograph) or audio of another person's sexual activity, intimate body parts, or nakedness, if the individual distributing the images or audio knows or should have known that the person depicted in the images or audio did not consent to such disclosure and objects to such disclosure; and,
- Viewing another person's sexual activity, intimate body parts, or nakedness in a place where that person would have a reasonable expectation of privacy, without that person's consent, and for the purpose of arousing or gratifying sexual desire.
- Knowingly exposing another individual to a sexually transmitted disease.
- Knowingly assisting another person with committing an act of sexual misconduct.

E. Stalking

Stalking is a course of conduct involving more than one instance of inappropriate and unwanted attention, harassment, threatening or intimidating physical or verbal contact, or any other course of conduct directed at a person that could be reasonably regarded as likely to alarm or place that person in fear of harm or injury, including physical, emotional, or psychological harm. This includes the use of technology to pursue, harass, threaten, intimidate, or otherwise make unwelcome contact with another person. Stalking may involve people who are known to one another or have an intimate or sexual relationship, or may involve people not known to one another.

Stalking is prohibited by Mississippi law. Stalking can also constitute a violation of this Policy when the conduct involves a Jackson State University student or employee and is gender-based.

F. Relationship (Dating and Domestic) Violence

Relationship violence is abuse, violence, or intentionally controlling behavior between partners or former partners involving one or more of the following elements: (i) battering that causes bodily injury; (ii) purposely or knowingly causing reasonable apprehension of bodily injury; (iii) emotional abuse creating apprehension of bodily injury or property damage; (iv) repeated telephonic, electronic, or other forms of communication — anonymously or directly — made with the intent to intimidate, terrify, harass, or threaten. Relationship violence can occur in all type of relationships (e.g., heterosexual, same sex, or any other type of relationship). Relationship violence may constitute a violation of this Policy when it involves a Jackson State University student, faculty or staff member, and the conduct is gender-based.

G. Retaliation

Retaliation is an adverse action or attempt to seek retribution against the complainant, or any person or group of persons involved in the investigation and/or resolution of a sexual misconduct complaint. Retaliation can be committed by any person or group of persons, not just a respondent. Retaliation may include continued abuse or violence, other forms of harassment, and slander and libel.

H. Gender-based Harassment

Gender-based harassment includes harassment based on actual or perceived gender, sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression, which may include acts of aggression, intimidation, or hostility. Actions may constitute gender-based harassment even if the acts do not involve conduct of a sexual nature. For example: are present.

- Submission to or rejection of such conduct is made, either explicitly or implicitly, a term or condition of a person's employment, academic standing, or participation in any University programs and/or activities, or is used as the basis for University decisions affecting the individual (often referred to as "quid pro quo" harassment); or
- Such conduct creates a hostile environment. A hostile environment exists when the conduct is sufficiently severe, persistent, or pervasive that it unreasonably interferes with, limits, or deprives an individual from participating in or benefiting from the University's education or employment programs and/or activities. Conduct must be deemed severe, persistent, or pervasive from both a subjective and an objective perspective. In evaluating whether a hostile environment exists, the University will consider the totality of known circumstances, including the nature, frequency, intensity, location, context, and duration of the behavior.

V. OTHER IMPORTANT DEFINITIONS

A. Consent.

Consent must be informed and voluntary, and can be withdrawn at any time. Consent can be given by words or actions as long as those words or actions create mutually understandable permission regarding the scope of sexual activity. There is no consent when there is force, expressed or implied, or when coercion, intimidation, threats, or duress is used. Whether a person has taken advantage of a position of influence over another person may be a factor in determining consent. Silence or absence of resistance does not imply consent. Past consent to sexual activity with another person does not imply ongoing future consent with that person or consent to that same sexual activity with another person.

If a person is mentally or physically incapacitated or impaired so that he or she cannot understand the fact, nature, or extent of the sexual situation, there is no consent; this includes impairment or incapacitation due to alcohol or drug consumption that meets this standard, or being asleep or unconscious.

Effect of drugs and alcohol on consent:

Individuals should be aware of, and carefully consider, the potential consequences of the use of alcohol or drugs. Alcohol and other drugs can lower inhibitions and create an atmosphere of confusion over whether consent is freely and affirmatively given. If there is a question about whether someone consented to sexual activity after consuming drugs or alcohol, the University will examine the issue from the perspective of a reasonable person. Specifically, the University will consider whether the respondent reasonably should have known about the impact of alcohol and other drugs on the complainant's ability to give consent.

B. Incapacitation.

Incapacitation is the inability, temporarily or permanently, to give consent, because the person is mentally and/or physically helpless due to drug or alcohol consumption, either voluntarily or involuntarily, or the person is unconscious, asleep, or otherwise unaware that the sexual activity is occurring. Some signs of incapacitation may include, but are not limited to, lack of control over physical movements (e.g., stumbling, falling down), lack of awareness of circumstances or surroundings, the inability to speak or communicate orally, or the inability to communicate for any reason.

It is a violation of this Policy to engage in sexual activity with a person who is incapacitated, regardless of whether the person appeared to be a willing participant. It is especially important, therefore, that anyone engaging in sexual activity be aware of the other person's level of intoxication.

C. Force.

The use of force to cause someone to engage in sexual activity is, by definition, non-consensual contact, and is prohibited. Force may include words, conduct, or appearance. Force includes causing another's intoxication or impairment through the use of drugs or alcohol. Under this Policy, force includes the use of any of the following:

- Physical Force, Violence, or a Weapon
- Threats
- Intimidation and Implied Threats
- Coercion. Coercion is to force one to act based on fear of harm to self or others. Means of coercion may include, but are not limited to, pressure, threats, or emotional intimidation.

D. Hostile Environment.

A hostile environment exists when sexual or sex-based harassment is sufficiently serious to deny or limit a student's ability to participate in or benefit from the University's programs or activities or has the effect of unreasonably interfering with an employee's work performance or altering the terms and conditions of the employee's employment. A hostile environment can be created by anyone involved in a University program or activity (e.g., administrators, faculty members, students, and campus visitors).

In determining whether sex-based harassment has created a hostile environment, the University considers the conduct in question from both a subjective and objective perspective. It will be necessary, but not enough, that the conduct was unwelcome to the student who was harassed. But the University will also need to find that a reasonable person in the student's position would have perceived the conduct as undesirable or offensive in order for that conduct to create or contribute to a hostile environment.

To determine whether a hostile environment exists for a student or employee, the University will consider a variety of factors related to the severity, persistence, or pervasiveness of the sex-based harassment, including: (1) the type, frequency, and duration of the conduct; (2) the identity and relationships of persons involved; (3) the number of individuals involved; (4) the location of the conduct and the context in which it occurred; and, (5) the degree to which the conduct affected the student's education or the employee's employment.

The more severe the sex-based harassment, the less need there is to show a repetitive series of incidents to find a hostile environment. Indeed, a single instance of sexual assault may be sufficient to create a hostile environment. Likewise, a series of incidents may be sufficient even if the sex-based harassment is not particularly severe.

E. Prompt, fair, and impartial proceeding

A prompt, fair, and impartial proceeding includes a proceeding that is:

- Completed within reasonably prompt timeframes designated by an institution's policy, including a process that allows for the extension of timeframes for good cause with written notice to the complainant and the respondent of the delay and the reason for the delay.
- Conducted in a manner that
 - Is consistent with the institution's policies and transparent to the accuser and accused;
 - Includes timely notice of meetings at which the complainant or respondent, or both, may be present; and
 - Provides timely and equal access to the complainant, the respondent, and appropriate officials to any information that will be used during informal and formal disciplinary meetings and hearings

- Conducted by officials who do not have a conflict of interest or bias for or against the complainant or the respondent.

F. Adviser

The complainant and respondent may each choose and be accompanied to any meeting or hearing related to these procedures by an Adviser, who may provide support during such meeting or hearing. During meetings and interviews, the Adviser will be allowed to cross-examination the complaining and responding parties, as well as any witnesses, during a live hearing led by institution officials. Cross-examination will be conducted by advisers for parties, including legal counsel, but not the parties themselves. Consistent with the University's obligation to promptly resolve sexual misconduct complaints, the University reserves the right to proceed with any meeting or interview, regardless of the availability of the party's selected Adviser.

G. Proceeding Proceedings include all activities related to a non-criminal resolution of an institutional disciplinary complaint, including, but not limited to, fact-finding investigations, formal or informal meetings, and hearings. A Proceeding does not include communications and meetings between officials and victims concerning accommodations or protective measures to be provided to a victim.

H. Result

The result of an investigation includes the initial, interim, and final decision by any official or entity authorized to resolve disciplinary matters within the University. The result must include any sanctions imposed by the University. Notwithstanding section 444 of the General Education Provisions Act (20 U.S.C. 1232g), commonly referred to as the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), the result must also include the rationale for the result and the sanctions.

I. Personally Identifying Information

Section 40002(a) of the Violence Against Women Act of 1994 (VAWA) defines personally identifying information as individually identifying information for or about an individual, including information likely to disclose the location of a victim of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault or stalking, regardless of whether the information is encoded, encrypted, hashed or otherwise protected, including:

- A first and last name;
- A home or other physical address;
- Contact information (including a postal, e-mail or Internet protocol address, or telephone or facsimile number);
- A social security number, driver's license number, passport number or student identification number; and
- Any other information, including date of birth, racial or ethnic background, or religious affiliation that would serve to identify any individual.

J. Miscellaneous Definitions

- Complainant: The person making the allegations or report of sexual misconduct.
- Respondent: The person against whom a complaint of sexual misconduct has been made.
- Reporter: A person who has information that sexual misconduct may have been committed by a University student or a participant in a University Program and who initiates a complaint.

VI. REPORTING SEXUAL MISCONDUCT

Jackson State University encourages all survivors to report incidents of sexual misconduct as promptly as possible so that the University can respond effectively. Students may report sexual misconduct to the Dean of Students, the Title IX Coordinator, or JSU Department of Public Safety. Faculty and staff shall report all incidents of sexual misconduct to the Title IX Coordinator. The University recognizes that student complainants may be most comfortable disclosing sexual misconduct to a University employee they know well, such as a faculty member, coach, or resident adviser (“RA”). Students are welcome to speak with them, but should understand that these individuals and many other faculty and staff members are considered “responsible employees” of the University. If they receive a report of sexual misconduct, they are required to inform the University about the incident. The University defines a “responsible employee” to include supervisors and officials with significant responsibility for student and campus activities including, but not limited to, academics, student residences, athletics, discipline, and campus safety. Employees whose positions legally require confidentiality (e.g., counseling staff and clergy) are not “responsible employees.” Before a student discloses an incident of sexual misconduct, University faculty and staff will try to ensure that the student understands the employee’s reporting obligations and, if the student wishes to maintain confidentiality, direct the student to confidential resources. Similarly, before a faculty or staff member discloses an incident of sexual misconduct, the person to whom the disclosure is to be made will ensure that the faculty or staff member understands his or her reporting obligations.

A. Reports to a Non-Confidential Resource:

The University has designated the Title IX Coordinator to evaluate requests for confidentiality and oversee the University’s response to reports of sexual misconduct where the complainant has disclosed an incident of sexual misconduct to a “responsible employee” (who must report the incident) and also requested that his or her identity not be disclosed or that no action be taken.

In such cases, the Title IX Coordinator, in consultation with a small number of key University administrators, including the Dean of Students, the Department of Public Safety, and the Office of the General Counsel, will weigh the request against the University’s obligation to provide a safe, non-discriminatory environment for all students, including the complainant. When weighing a request that no investigation be pursued or the complainant’s identity not be disclosed, the Title IX Coordinator and the appropriate University administrators will consider a range of factors, including whether:

- The respondent is likely to commit additional acts of sexual or other violence, such as;
 - There have been other sexual misconduct complaints about the same respondent;
 - The respondent has a history of arrests indicating a history of violence;
 - The respondent threatened further sexual misconduct or other violence against the complainant or others;
 - The sexual misconduct was committed by multiple respondents;
- The sexual misconduct was perpetrated with a weapon;
- The complainant is a minor;
- The respondent is a Jackson State University employee;
- The University possesses other means to investigate the sexual misconduct (e.g., security cameras or personnel, physical evidence);
- The complainant’s report reveals a pattern of perpetration (e.g., via illicit use of drugs or alcohol) at a given location or by a particular person or group.

The presence of one or more of these factors could lead the University to investigate and, if appropriate, pursue conduct action against the respondent. If none of these factors are present, the University will likely respect the complainant’s request.

In some cases, the University may not be able to honor a confidentiality request in order to adhere to its obligation to provide a safe, non-discriminatory environment for the JSU community. If the Title IX Coordinator determines that the University cannot maintain a complainant’s confidentiality, the Title IX Coordinator will inform the complainant prior to starting an investigation and will only share information with those University officials responsible for handling the University’s response.

B. Reports to a Confidential Resource:

For the purposes of this policy, confidentiality means that designated campus or community professionals cannot reveal identifiable information shared by an individual to any other person without express permission of the individual, or as otherwise permitted or required by law. Individuals designated as confidential are prohibited from breaking confidentiality unless (i) given permission to do so by the person who disclosed the information; (ii) there is an imminent threat of harm to self or others; (iii) the conduct involves suspected abuse of a minor under the age of 18; or (iv) as otherwise required or permitted by law or court order.

Those Confidential Resources include:
The LaTasha Norma Counseling Center (601) 979-0374,
Applied Psychological Service Center (601) 979-3381,
Campus Ministries (601) 979-2241.

C. Interim Measures and Support.

Jackson State University provides a range of support services for survivors of sexual misconduct, including interim measures. Interim measures are available to provide for the safety of the complainant and the campus community while the University is investigating an allegation of sexual misconduct. Requests for interim measures can be made by or on behalf of the complainant to the University Title IX Coordinator. Students may also seek assistance from the Dean of Students Office. The Title IX Coordinator will work with the appropriate office(s) to ensure that any necessary interim measures are promptly provided. Upon the receipt of a report of sexual misconduct, and until any investigation into the report has been completed, the University will provide reasonable protective measures and interim support to provide a safe educational and work environment and to prevent additional acts of sexual misconduct, even when there is no specific request for protective action.

The University may impose any measure that can be tailored to the parties involved to achieve the goals of this Policy. In addition, the University will maintain as confidential any accommodations or protective measures provided to the complainant to the extent that maintaining such confidentiality would not impair the ability of the University to provide the accommodations or protective measures.

An individual's failure to comply with restrictions imposed by interim measures is a violation of this Policy and a basis for disciplinary action.

Outside the University, a complainant may also be entitled to obtain remedies under applicable law, such as a judicial restraining order. The University can assist in contacting law enforcement or legal service organizations to learn about these remedies.

D. Amnesty for Students Who Report Sexual Misconduct.

Jackson State University encourages the reporting of all concerns regarding sexual misconduct. In some instances, students may be hesitant to report sexual misconduct because they fear they may be charged with other policy violations, such as underage alcohol consumption or violation of the University's drug policy. Because BU's primary interest is in protecting the well-being of its community and remedying sexual misconduct, a person who reports sexual misconduct, either as a complainant or a third party witness, will not be subject to disciplinary action by the University for his/her own personal consumption of alcohol or drugs at or near the time of the incident, provided that any such violations did not and do not place the health or safety of any other person at risk. However, the use of alcohol or drugs does not excuse sexual misconduct and a person who has been incapacitated through the use of alcohol and drugs (or by any other means) cannot give effective consent to sexual activity. The University may initiate an educational discussion or pursue other educational remedies regarding alcohol or other drugs.

E. Anonymous Reports and Reports from Third Parties.

Any person may make an anonymous report concerning an act of sexual misconduct. A person may report the incident without disclosing his/her/their name, identifying the respondent, or requesting any action. Depending on the level of information available about the incident and the people involved, however, the University's ability to respond to an anonymous report may be limited. Anonymous reports may be made to the University Title IX Coordinator.

F. Reporting of Crime and Disciplinary Statistics.

The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act ("Clery Act") is a federal law that requires the University to record and report certain information about campus safety, including the number of incidents of certain crimes on or near campus, some of which constitute sexual misconduct under this Policy. JSU employees who receive reports of sexual misconduct are required by the Clery Act to notify Department of Public Safety about such incidents for statistical reporting purposes, without the inclusion of personally identifiable information, as defined by VAWA (see definitions). These notifications may include the classification and location of the reported crimes, but, in the case of employees with “confidential” status, do not identify the parties involved.

The Clery Act also requires the University to issue a “timely warning” when it receives a report of certain crimes that pose a serious or continuing threat to the University community. This warning will not contain any biographical or other identifying information regarding the victim of the crime. Immediately threatening circumstances include, but are not limited to, recently reported incidents of sexual misconduct that include the use of force, a weapon, or other circumstances that represent a serious and ongoing threat to JSU students, faculty, administrators, staff, or visitors.

VII. HOW TO FILE A COMPLAINT

A complainant or reporter may submit a paper (hard copy) or electronic complaint to the Dean of Students Office, Department of Public Safety, or the University’s Title IX Coordinator. Although the report form should contain sufficient information to permit the respondent to understand and respond adequately to the charges being brought, it may not reflect every detail related to the allegations in the complaint, as additional information may be discovered during the investigation.

A complainant may also call or meet with the Title IX Coordinator to initiate a complaint.

VIII. PROCEDURES FOR RESOLUTION OF COMPLAINT

The following procedures will be used to investigate and resolve all complaints of sexual misconduct against Jackson State University students (undergraduate, graduate, full-time, and part-time). Jackson State University’s Procedures for the investigation, adjudication, and resolution of sexual misconduct complaints brought against students are designed to be accessible, prompt, equitable, and impartial. Throughout this process, both the complainant and respondent have the following rights:

- To be treated with respect, dignity, and sensitivity.
- To receive appropriate support from the University.
- Privacy to the extent possible, consistent with applicable law and University policy.
- Information about the University’s Sexual Misconduct/Title IX Policy.
- The presence of an Adviser throughout the process.
- To participate or to decline to participate in the investigation or complaint resolution process. However, a decision not to participate in the process either in whole or in part will not prevent the University from proceeding with the information available.
- A prompt and thorough investigation of the allegations.
- Adequate time to review documents in the Dean of Students Office following the investigation.
- To appeal the decision made or any sanctions imposed by the Dean of Students to a Hearing Panel of the University Board on Student Conduct.

- To challenge a Hearing Panel member(s) for a possible conflict of interest.
- To refrain from making self-incriminating statements.
- Notification, in writing, of the case resolution, including the outcome of any appeals, and the final determination.
- For the complainant, to report the incident to law enforcement (including the Department of Public Safety or with the police department in the jurisdiction in which the sexual misconduct occurred) at any time.

Jackson State University will disclose information about its investigation and resolution of sexual misconduct complaints only to those who need to know the information in order to carry out their duties and responsibilities. It will inform all University personnel participating in an investigation, proceeding, or hearing that they are expected to maintain the privacy of the process. This does not prohibit either a complainant or respondent from obtaining the assistance of family members, counselors, therapists, clergy, doctors, attorneys, or other resources.

A. Timing of Complaints.

If the respondent is a current Jackson State University student (undergraduate or graduate, full-time or part-time), there is no time limit for filing a complaint to initiate these procedures. However, students are strongly encouraged to report sexual misconduct in a timely manner to maximize the University's ability to gather evidence, and conduct a thorough, impartial, and reliable investigation.

B. Parallel Investigations.

The filing and processing of a complaint of sexual misconduct is separate from and independent of any criminal investigation or proceeding. Jackson State University will not wait for the conclusion of any criminal investigation or proceedings to begin its own investigation although the University may delay temporarily the fact-finding component of the investigation while the police are gathering evidence. Neither law enforcement's determination as to whether or not to prosecute a respondent nor the outcome of any criminal prosecution is determinative of whether sexual misconduct occurred under the University's Sexual Misconduct/Title IX Policy.

C. Adviser.

The complainant and respondent may each choose and be accompanied to any meeting or hearing related to these procedures by an Adviser, who may provide support during such meeting or hearing. During meetings and interviews, the Adviser may quietly confer or pass notes with the party in a non-disruptive manner. The Adviser may not intervene in a meeting or interview, or address the Title IX Investigator. Consistent with the University's obligation to promptly resolve sexual misconduct complaints, the University reserves the right to proceed with any meeting or interview, regardless of the availability of the party's selected Adviser.

D. Declining to Participate.

A complainant and/or respondent may decline to participate in the investigative or complaint resolution process. The University may continue the process without the complainant's and/or respondent's participation. In most cases, a refusal to participate in the investigative process will preclude a complainant or respondent from appealing any determination. The Dean of Students will make this determination.

E. Time Frame for Complaint Resolution.

The University will seek to resolve every report of sexual misconduct in a reasonably prompt time frame. Time frames may vary depending on the complexity of a case, the availability of witnesses, and at certain times of the academic year (e.g., during breaks, study periods or final exams). The University may extend any time frame for good cause, with a written explanation to the complainant and respondent.

F. Prohibition on Retaliation.

It is illegal and a violation of the University's Sexual Misconduct/Title IX Policy to retaliate against a person for filing a complaint of sexual misconduct or for cooperating in a sexual misconduct investigation. Any person who retaliates against a person for reporting sexual misconduct, filing a sexual misconduct complaint, or participating in a sexual misconduct investigation is subject to disciplinary action up to and including expulsion from the University.

G. Notice.

The Title IX Coordinator will give the complainant and respondent, respectively, a written explanation of their rights and options, and any available accommodations, as soon as possible after a complaint is reported. The University will provide evidence related to allegations to parties and advisers at least ten (10) days prior to requiring a response. Parties are not prohibited from speaking about the allegations. The Investigator will ensure that both the complainant and respondent are updated throughout the investigative process, including timely notice of meetings where either the complainant's or the respondent's presence may be required.

IX. INTERIM MEASURES

Upon the filing of a sexual misconduct complaint, the Title IX Coordinator will review the allegations and determine the necessity and scope of any interim measures to prevent further acts of harassment, misconduct, or retaliation and to provide a safe educational and work environment. The range of interim measures may include, but not be limited to:

- Moving the complainant's or respondent's residence.
- Adjusting the complainant's or respondent's work schedule, assignment, or location for University employment.
- Changing the complainant's academic schedule, allowing the complainant to take an incomplete in one or more courses, allowing the complainant to drop (or retake) a course without penalty, or attend class via web conference.
- Changing the complainant's transportation arrangements or providing an escort to ensure safe movement between classes and other activities.
- Allowing the complainant to extend deadlines for examinations or other assignments without penalty.
- Reassigning the respondent to another section, if the complainant and respondent are enrolled in the same lecture, discussion class, academic team, or project group.
- Providing access to tutoring or other academic support.
- Issuing an administrative "no contact" directive.
- Interim suspension of the respondent.

The University will maintain as confidential any accommodations or protective measures provided to the complainant to the extent that maintaining such confidentiality would not impair the ability of the University to provide the accommodations or protective measures.

An individual's failure to comply with restrictions imposed by interim measures is a violation of University Policy and a basis for disciplinary action, up to and including expulsion from the University.

X. RESPONDING TO A COMPLAINT

A. Notification of Respondent.

The person alleged to have committed sexual misconduct is the respondent. Unless the complainant requests and is granted confidentiality, the respondent will be notified in writing that a complaint alleging sexual misconduct has been filed against him or her. The respondent will be advised that he or she may have an Adviser accompany him or her to any meeting or interview related to the investigation and complaint resolution process.

B. Information for Respondent.

Within seven (7) calendar days of receiving notice of the complaint, the respondent must arrange to meet with Title IX Coordinator. At that meeting, The Title IX Coordinator will:

- Provide the respondent with information regarding the Rights of the Complainant and Respondent.
- Provide the respondent with a copy of the complaint.
- Explain the prohibition against retaliation.
- Discuss the nature of the complaint.
- Explain the rights and responsibilities of the complainant and respondent.
- Explain the process for investigating and resolving the complaint (including the available appeal procedures).
- Instruct the respondent not to destroy any potentially relevant documentation in any format.
- Give the respondent a copy of the relevant policies.
- Provide the respondent with a list of on-campus and off-campus support resources.

If the respondent fails to meet or cooperate with the investigation, the resolution of the complaint will proceed without input from the respondent. If interim measures have been imposed, The Title IX Coordinator will explain the scope of those measures and the respondent’s duty to comply with the interim measures.

C. Acceptance of Responsibility.

After reviewing the complaint and meeting with the Title IX Coordinator, the respondent may choose to end the complaint resolution process by accepting responsibility for the conduct alleged in the complaint. If the respondent accepts responsibility for the conduct alleged in the complaint, the Dean of Students will determine an appropriate sanction for the respondent. If the respondent disputes the allegations of the complaint, the matter will proceed to an investigation.

At any point in the process, the respondent may accept responsibility for the conduct alleged in the complaint. In such cases, the Dean of Students may impose sanctions for violations of the Sexual Misconduct/Title IX Policy.

XI. INVESTIGATION OF A COMPLAINT

A. Investigators.

The Title IX Office has an investigator specifically trained in sexual misconduct investigations to conduct a prompt, thorough, and fair investigation.

B. Investigation Process.

The investigation will include one or more interviews with the complainant, the respondent, and any witnesses. The investigation will include the gathering of physical, documentary, or other relevant and available evidence, including law enforcement reports. As part of the investigation, the University will provide an opportunity for all parties to present written statements, identify witnesses, and submit other evidence.

C. Standard of Proof.

In resolving complaints pursuant to the Sexual Misconduct/Title IX Policy, the University will use a “preponderance of the evidence,” standard, which is whether the evidence gathered and information provided during the investigation supports a finding that it is more likely than not that the respondent violated the Sexual Misconduct/Title IX Policy.

D. Investigation Finding.

At the conclusion of the investigation, the Investigator will prepare a report (the “Investigative Report”) summarizing the relevant facts determined through the investigation, with reference to any supporting documentation or statements. Before the Investigative Report is finalized, the complainant and respondent will be given the opportunity to review their own statements and, may also be provided with a written summary of other information collected during the investigation.

A complainant or respondent must submit any comments about their own statement, or on any investigation summary that might be provided, to the Investigators within five (5) calendar days after the statement or summary was provided. Following the receipt of any comments submitted, or after the 5-day comment period has lapsed without comment, the Investigators will address any identified factual inaccuracies or misunderstandings, as appropriate. The final Investigative Report will provide a summary of the Investigator's impressions, including context for the evidence and a recommendation, but will not make a final determination as to whether a violation of the Sexual Misconduct/Title IX Policy occurred, reserving that decision (and any sanctions) for the Dean of Students.

E. Adjudication

The Title IX Coordinator, along with the Dean of Students, will appoint a Hearing Panel of five to seven (5-7) adjudicators and will appoint one of these members as the Panel Chair. The Hearing Panel will not include any person who has participated in any effort to resolve the same complaint. The Hearing Panel members will receive the names of the complainant, the respondent, and all witnesses, and must withdraw from the proceedings if their relationship to a party or witness, or other circumstances leads them to believe that they cannot judge the matter fairly. Adjudicators shall serve a term of two years except that the term for student members shall be one year. Members appointed to fill a vacancy on the panel shall serve for the duration of the term.

If, during the summer or during any other period, sufficient members of the Hearing Panel are not available to create a Quorum, the Title IX Coordinator, at the request of the Dean of Students, may designate individuals to serve as an interim adjudicator for the purpose of serving on a Hearing Panel. All Adjudicators must participate in training. In addition, each year, returning adjudicators must receive refresher training. In addition to training on how the adjudicatory process works, the training will include specific instruction about how to approach students about sensitive issues that may arise in the context of sexual misconduct.

The Dean of Students will provide the complainant and respondent with simultaneous, written notice of the outcome of the University's resolution of the sexual misconduct complaint, the sanction, if any, that has been imposed on the respondent, and any additional steps that the University has taken to eliminate the hostile environment and prevent any recurrence of any sexual misconduct. The Letter of Determination will include a description of the right to appeal for both the complainant and the respondent.

XII. SANCTIONS FOR VIOLATING THE SEXUAL MISCONDUCT/TITLE IX POLICY

If the respondent is found responsible for violating the Sexual Misconduct/Title IX Policy, the Dean of Students will impose a sanction designed to eliminate the misconduct, prevent its recurrence, and remedy its effects, while supporting the University's educational mission and Title IX obligations. Sanctions may also serve to promote safety or deter students from similar future behavior.

The following, individually or in combination, are potential sanctions for violations of the University's Sexual Misconduct/Title IX Policy. Where appropriate, the statement of the sanction includes the duration, any conditions to be observed during that period, and the conditions for termination of the sanction.

Major Sanctions:

- Expulsion from the University or a program of the University.
- Suspension from the University or a program of the University for a specific period of time.
- Deferred suspension from the University or a program of the University.
- Denial of graduation, diploma, or degree.
- Deferral of graduation, diploma, or degree for a specific period of time.
- Revocation or withdrawal of diploma or degree previously credited, awarded, or conferred.

Other Sanctions:

- Expulsion from a University residence.
- Suspension from a University residence for a specific period of time.
- Deferred residence expulsion (with or without relocation to a different residence location).
- Disciplinary probation. Disciplinary probation may involve counseling with faculty or administrative staff; restriction of student privileges; prohibitions against participation in University activities or events, including athletic or non-athletic activities; and prohibitions against holding office or participating in student organizations or residence, school, or college organizations or activities.

- Residence probation. Residence probation may involve periodic meetings with a member of the residence staff and/or restriction of specific residence privileges.
- Disciplinary reprimand or warning.
- Restitution. The student will reimburse the University and/or other appropriate party for damage to or loss of property or for costs or expenses incurred by the University or other party. Restitution will be made at full cost of replacement or repair, and other expenses.

As part of the sanctioning process, the Dean of Students may require that existing interim remedies stay in place for a prescribed period of time. In consultations with the Title IX Coordinator, the Dean of Students may also impose new remedies or administrative actions such as no contact orders, housing placement, or academic accommodations based upon the investigation and resolution of the case.

XIII. PREVENTION AND EDUCATION

Jackson State University expects all community members to take reasonable and prudent actions to prevent or stop an act of sexual misconduct. Taking action may include direct intervention, calling law enforcement, or seeking assistance from a person in authority. Members of the JSU community who intervene to prevent or stop sexual misconduct will be supported by the University and protected from retaliation

XIV. TRAINING

In connection with its obligations under Title IX, Jackson State University is committed to ensuring appropriate training for its Title IX Coordinator, law enforcement personnel, “responsible employees,” victim advocates, and others involved in responding to, investigating, or adjudicating sexual misconduct. Jackson State University will train all personnel involved in the Title IX process and publish training materials on their websites. Training must involve review of the definition of sexual harassment and the scope of the application of Title IX to college programs and activities, how to conduct a formal or informal process, and how to “serve impartially,” including avoidance of “prejudgment of the facts at issue, conflicts of interest, and bias. In addition, Jackson State University will offer a comprehensive awareness and prevention training to faculty, staff, and students to assist them in recognizing sexual misconduct, teach them how to respond to reports of sexual misconduct, and ensure that they are aware of available on and off campus resources. Staff must be trained on relevant technology to conduct remote investigations and hearings. Live hearings will be recorded, by transcript or audio visually, and will be made available to parties and maintained in college records for at least seven years.

JACKSON STATE UNIVERSITY

UNIVERSITY GUIDELINES FOR STUDENT TRAVEL

This Policy applies to the travel of enrolled undergraduate and graduate students to attend activities or events that are organized and/or sponsored by Jackson State University (“University”). Its purpose is to provide procedures which promote student safety, minimize University risk, and improve accountability.

A. Policy Statement

All enrolled undergraduate or graduate students who travel to and from activities and/or events that are within the scope of this Policy must comply with the University policies and practices for safe student travel. Individuals classified as undergraduate students traveling to workshops, presentations, conferences, etc. must be accompanied by an advisor, regardless of age. An individual classified as a graduate student may travel with an advisor, but is not required to do so. However, a faculty/staff contact person must be listed on the required travel form as the point of contact in case of an emergency. The Travel Request for Authorization Form, the Authorization for Medical Treatment Form, and the Release and Indemnification Form must be completed for each student traveling, regardless of classification. Travel forms are not required for internships, co-ops, extensive academic opportunities, etc. Travel forms should be submitted at least 14 days prior to travel. All required signatures must be received prior to departure.

Student travelers are required to abide by all applicable federal and state laws relating to operation of a motor vehicle while traveling. Additionally, students traveling to and from University-organized and sponsored activities or events may be required to use various modes of travel as well as meet certain conditions. Each form of travel requires the student to follow particular safety precautions.

B. Scope

This Policy applies to student travel associated with representing the University in athletic or academic competitions, any and all student travel sponsored by the University, student travel with a University official utilizing a vehicle owned or leased by the University, certain student travel in connection with academic courses, including international travel, and certain student travel associated with student organizations. This policy only applies to travel that includes a destination that is more than thirty (30) miles from the University’s main campus located at 1400 J.R. Lynch Street in Jackson, Mississippi.

This policy does not extend to organized events in which the University does not have any supervisory capacity. For example, this policy would apply to academic field trips which are chaperoned by a faculty member, but it does not apply to students traveling in their own vehicle to their individual courses or individual internships. It does apply to student-athletes traveling to competitions in which they represent the University, but it does not apply to non-student athletes traveling to a sporting event, unless the travel for the event also meets the definition of a sponsored event. All sponsored events are within the scope of this policy. International student travel in connection with a University academic program is included in this policy, although other policies may also apply to travel abroad.

C. Definitions

An organized event is one that is initiated, planned, and arranged by a member of the University's faculty or staff in their official capacity with the University, or by the members of a recognized student organization, and the event is formally approved and authorized by an appropriate administrator of the University acting within his or her official capacity with the University. Organized events in which the University does not have any supervisory capacity and which are organized by an organization independent from the University are not covered by this Policy.

A sponsored event or activity is one that the University endorses by supporting it financially, and/or by sending one or more students to participate in the event primarily as an official representative of the University.

An enrolled student is an individual that has been admitted to and is attending classes at the University, either in person or on-line.

An appropriate administrator is a vice president, dean, department chair, or director/coordinator of an administrative unit, or their designee, who has actual authority to provide authorization.

A recognized student organization is an organization that is acknowledged by the Student Government Association and/or the Pan Hellenic Council. Such organizations are separate entities from the University but shall abide by University policies.

D. Expectations

Students are representatives of Jackson State University whenever they participate in an off-campus activity that is funded fully or in part by the institution. As such, the students' behavior at off-campus activities is reflective of the University and therefore, it is the expectation of the University that the students recognize this and exhibit appropriate conduct. Students should maintain an environment that sustains the educational goals of the travel as well as respect the security and property of individuals and the University. Students must adhere to the University's Student Code of Conduct at all sponsored events as well as the laws and policies of the facility, university, or country to which they have traveled.

E. Student Responsibility

Any student conduct while engaged in travel or at the destination which results in additional costs will be at the student's sole expense. Neither the University nor any employee of the University, including chaperones, is responsible for providing expenses or costs, including legal assistance or bail, arising from a student being detained by proper authorities. Individuals evicted from their place of lodging are personally responsible for obtaining alternative lodging for themselves at their own expense. Any damage by a student to a student's lodging is the direct responsibility of the student and not the University. If damage occurs to a room, the student or students assigned to the room will provide payment arising from the damage.

When transportation is provided by the University, any student's actions causing an unreasonable risk of injury to the student, others, or property, as determined by the University may lose the privilege of being afforded such travel by the University. If the University makes this determination, the student will become responsible for securing his or her alternative travel arrangements at no expense to the University, regardless of any inconvenience. However, students who lose their travel privilege due to misconduct will not be left stranded in any area in which there is a foreseeable risk of physical harm to that student.

F. Insurance

The University will not provide insurance coverage for all types of harm that may occur to all students while traveling, and students should therefore not rely on the University sole to provide all required insurance coverage on behalf of the student. Therefore, all student travelers are strongly encouraged to secure private insurance coverage.

All motor vehicle insurance for students is the responsibility of the individual and not the University. When the University is aware that a student may be driving in connection with an organized or sponsored event, proof of automobile insurance must be provided. Proof of individual health or medical insurance is generally not required, but may be required depending on the program or event.

As required by NCAA legislation, injuries to a student resulting from travel in connection with the student's participation as a member of a University athletics team would result in a claim under an insurance policy purchased by the University and/or supplemented by the NCAA. However, student athletes are not permitted to drive his or her self, or his or her teammates, to official athletic competitions, including practices and games, which are greater than 30 miles from the University. Any students who drive themselves or other students any distance to an organized or sponsored event assume all associated risks and must complete the indemnification agreement.

G. Funding Approval

University sponsored student travel expenses may, in many but not all instances, be paid for by the University. Requests for funding should be handled by the student advisor and, when appropriate, a program director or the administrator over the account from which funds will be expended.

Funding for University travel should be requested by the authorized individual at least one month prior to the date of departure and processed through the appropriate University authority. For example, Study Abroad requests would be processed through the faculty member, department chair, dean, and vice president, in consultation with the Study Abroad office. Student Government Association (SGA) requests would be processed through procedures outlined in the SGA constitution. Funding is not guaranteed and students are responsible for submitting all requests timely.

If hotel or airline services are required, the staff/faculty advisor should make the arrangements well in advance, and the appropriate administrator will authorize special check requests, purchase orders, and/or other necessary documents. Only University-approved travel agencies may be used.

If a student, faculty, or staff member requires expedited approval, an authorized faculty/staff member may complete a Student Travel Request for Authorization form to expedite approval and funding by forwarding it to the appropriate director, chair, dean, and vice president. Only authorized administrators can agree to expend University funds, and no promise of funding is binding unless proper authorization is obtained.

H. Travel Authorization

In order to ensure that the events or activities that involve student travel are within the scope of the University's mission and public purpose, travel undertaken pursuant to this Policy must be authorized in advance by an appropriate administrator. All University sponsored trips must be approved prior to departure.

The following applies to this process:

1. To request authorization, individual students and/or students who are members of recognized student organizations who organize activities covered by this Policy, must submit a completed Student Travel Request for Authorization form to the Vice President for Student Life. The form specifies which required documents must be attached (i.e., an agenda, a bus contract) in order to receive approval. Whenever possible, the request should be submitted at least one month prior to the activity or event.
2. The following information/documents must be submitted with the Student Travel Request for Authorization Form:
 - a. A list of student travelers, including their names, local addresses and phone numbers, as well as the names and phone numbers of persons to contact in case of an emergency;
 - b. The name and phone number for the responsible University employee(s) who will be available to the students at all reasonable times during the travel and activity;
 - c. Trip Itinerary (one for the entire group);
 - d. When required, a copy of current medical insurance certificate, or both sides of a current group insurance membership card, for each student who wishes to participate in the activity or event;
 - e. Completed and signed Release and Indemnification Agreement Form for each student; and
 - f. Completed and signed Authorization for Medical Treatment Form for each student.
3. Course Field Trips (to include but not limited to conferences, presentations, and workshops)

- a. When leading group trips, faculty or staff members should carry emergency contact information, proof of medical insurance coverage (if provided), and the authorization for emergency medical treatment for each student.
- b. Faculty members who teach courses that involve frequent field trips should collect the following information from students at the beginning of each semester and keep it on file with the appropriate administrator for use throughout a semester:
 - i. Proof of current medical insurance;
 - ii. Completed and signed medical authorization forms;
 - iii. Completed and signed release and indemnification agreements (a single release and indemnification agreement may be used if a single description fits all the proposed trips); and
 - iv. Proof of a valid vehicle operator's license for students who will operate vehicles.
- c. A one-time approval can be provided for multiple trips led by faculty or staff members that involve the same locations and same students. However, a separate approval must be obtained if the location changes. If a person authorized to travel does not go, this must be promptly reported as stated in Section J below, but if any additional person (not yet authorized) wishes to travel, he or she must receive authorization before being allowed to travel. A person cannot substitute for another without going through the process.

4. The Student Travel Request for Authorization Form, the Authorization for Medical Treatment Form, and the Release and Indemnification Agreement Form are available at the office of the Vice President for Student Life.

5. The International Form must also be completed for travel outside the continental United States. Students traveling internationally in connection with an academic course of study should inquire with their academic department and advisor to ensure other requirements for international travel are met. For international travel where the student is also an employee, or a faculty or staff member is traveling, additional statutory requirements and approvals will apply.

I. Commercial Travel

Students traveling by commercial transportation, whether domestic or international, must comply with all applicable international, federal, and state laws regulating travel and the policies and regulations of the specific carrier.

J. Travel by Motor Vehicle

1. Compliance with Applicable Laws and Policies

- a. Motor vehicles used for travel covered by this policy shall have a current liability insurance card evidencing the required liability insurance and a valid state inspection certification.
- b. Individuals utilizing University-owned vehicles for travel must comply with the policy, procedures and all other requirements of Jackson State University. The University Vehicle Request Form is available from the Department of Facilities and Construction Management, Phone: 601-979-2522.  - i. The driver must be a University employee who must possess a valid driver's license appropriate for the vehicle being driven. In addition, the University driver must carry an insurance card and vehicle registration at all times.
 - ii. Prior to the operation of any University vehicle, it is the responsibility of the University driver and/or the department supervisor to inspect the vehicle for body damages before and after use.

iii. University vehicles must be legally parked with the engine off and doors locked when left unattended. The operator of the University vehicle responsible for the violation shall pay any and all fines due to traffic/parking violations as well as other tickets.

iv. In accordance with Mississippi law, the University driver and all passengers must use seat belts when traveling. All fines resulting from the failure to wear seat belts will be the sole responsibility of the driver or passenger.

2. Travel by Privately Owned Vehicles

The use of personal vehicles by undergraduate student travelers to sponsored and organized events over 30 miles from the University is not permitted. Graduate students are permitted to travel over 30 miles with proper travel documentation on file. In addition to submitting the information described in Section G, when requesting authorization for travel that involves the use of personally owned vehicles the requestor shall also submit a copy of a current liability insurance certificate evidencing liability insurance coverage for any vehicle to be used for the proposed travel. No individual will be authorized to travel in a personal vehicle for a sponsored event unless such proof of insurance is provided. The University does not require transportation by private vehicle, and it does not assume any risks or responsibilities associated with an individual's election to use a private vehicle. When traveling in a private vehicle to a destination within 30 miles from the University in connection with a sponsored or organized event, the Student Release and Indemnification Agreement must be signed by the traveling student or students, the driver must provide proof of insurance, and an appropriate administrator or coach must consent.

3. Volunteer Drivers and Passengers

Nonstudent/nonemployee drivers and passengers who accompany students on travel covered by this Policy must sign the Release and Indemnification Form and the Authorization for Medical Treatment Form prior to the trip. No passengers are allowed unless they conform to this requirement.

4. Mechanical Breakdowns and Towing

If a University vehicle becomes inoperable off campus or becomes unsafe to drive, the Department of Public Safety should be contacted immediately at 601-979-2580.

5. Accidents

a. All accidents involving University vehicles must be reported to Jackson State University Department of Public Safety by the assigned driver immediately, but no later than 24 hours after the accident occurred. The assigned driver is responsible for contacting the proper law enforcement agency as a completed written police report must be obtained, and the police report file number must be given to the Jackson State University Department of Public Safety Department.

b. In the event that a police report cannot be filed, the following information must be obtained from the other driver: owner's name, address, and home telephone, driver's license number, vehicle description and plate number, insurance company name, phone number, and policy number.

c. Students participating in a University activity or event that sustain a personal injury as a result of a motor vehicle accident related to participating in the activity or event under this policy, must report to the University Health Center, Phone: 601-979-2260 immediately, but no later than 24 hours after the injury, unless doing so is impossible. If the injury was sustained at an hour during which the Health Center is closed, students should report injuries as soon as the Center reopens during normal business hours.

K. Record of Student Travelers

The University administrator authorizing the student travel is responsible for ensuring that the individuals traveling are authorized to travel according to this policy. A record shall be made and forwarded to the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs or designee if there is any difference in the individuals authorized to travel to the event and those individuals who do travel. In that no unauthorized individuals should be traveling, record supplements should only have to be made when some students who were authorized to travel in fact did not do so on that particular date. However, if an unauthorized person travels the pertinent administrator or designee must report such travel, including the individual's name, and submit it as a supplement to the Associate Vice President for Student Affairs or designee.

University Withdrawal Procedures and Guidelines

This procedure applies to the withdrawal of enrolled undergraduate and graduate students. Its purpose is to provide and define procedures for allowing students to withdraw from Jackson State University.

A. Statement & Process

B. Procedures

- If a student must withdraw from all classes during the semester for personal reasons, he or she should consult with their advisor in the appropriate office. The withdrawal of any student will be effective as of the date the official withdrawal is approved, or in the event of a retroactive withdrawal due to emergency or serious illness, the date assigned by the appropriate advisor. The effective date of withdrawal will determine the students' financial obligation to the institution. Please review all official dates in the University Academic Calendar.

- A student who withdraws after the 21st class day of the semester will receive grades of “W” for each course scheduled. No official withdrawals will be allowed during the last two weeks before the beginning of final examinations for the fall and spring semesters, or during the last week prior to the beginning of examinations for each four-week/eight-week term unless an extraordinary reason is evident (i.e., illness, military deployment).
- Students should be aware that withdrawing, officially or unofficially, can adversely affect financial aid for the next term of attendance. The withdrawal procedure is outlined in the university’s catalogs and student handbook.
- Financial aid recipients who withdraw or drop a course may not receive a refund as a result of the tuition adjustment. The refund will be credited to the appropriate source of fee payment which includes the following: (1) Federal Unsubsidized Stafford Loan; (2) Federal Subsidized Stafford Loan; (3) Federal PLUS Loan; (4) Federal Direct Stafford Loan; (5) Federal Direct Plus; (6) Federal Perkins; (7) Federal Pell Grant; (8) Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant; (9) other Title IV aid; (10) other federal sources and (11) state, private or institution aid.
- Students who leave the campus without withdrawing through regular channels or who attempt to withdraw late without extraordinary reasons may receive F grades for all unfinished work, which may result in failing some or all courses for that semester.
- Each course on the student's schedule will be canceled by the Registrar in accordance with regulations governing the cancellation of courses.
- Failure to attend classes, or abandonment of an on-campus housing space to which one has been assigned, or one’s non-return to classes for an upcoming semester for which one is already academically and financially registered in advance, does not constitute official withdrawal. Students must contact Housing/Residence Life (Campbell College Suites, 601-979-2326) in order to officially withdraw from residential communities.
- Final decisions for all withdrawals lies with the authority of the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs.

C. Retroactive Withdrawals

Students who leave the campus without initiating the withdrawal process with their appropriate advisor during the semester of departure or who fail to withdraw through regular channels or who fail to withdraw for extraordinary reasons may apply for a retroactive university withdrawal only if they can provide evidence of the following:

1. The student had a debilitating illness or injury that significantly limited his/her capacity to withdraw in a timely manner; or
2. The student was forced to leave the University abruptly due to a health or safety emergency within his/her immediate family.
3. The student had erroneous charges incurred due to administrative or technical errors.

4. The student was forced to leave the University abruptly due to military service obligation.

To apply for a retroactive University withdrawal, the following criteria must be met:

1. The student must submit a formal letter of request to their appropriate advisor within one calendar year of the last day of the semester for which the withdrawal is sought. Requests made outside of this timeframe may be considered on a case-by-case basis.
2. The student must include his/her name, JNumber, date(s) for the requested retroactive withdrawal, and supporting documentation to verify claims of illness, injury or emergency which precluded the student from applying for a University withdrawal during the semester of departure.
3. The appropriate advisor will assign the official date of the retroactive University withdrawal.

The appropriate advisor will consider requests for a retroactive withdrawal only if sufficient documentation is provided to support claims of extraordinary illness, injury, emergency or administrative/technical errors. The review process will be limited to a review of documents and student records. A decision will be provided to the student within ten (10) working days of receipt of the request. Final decisions for all retroactive withdrawals lies with the authority of the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs.
